22 Section 1. Section 768.81, Florida Statutes, is amended to 23 read:

24 768.81 Comparative fault.—

25 (1) DEFINITIONS ~~DEFINITION~~.—As used in this section, the 26 term:

27 (a) "Accident" means the events and actions that relate to 28 the incident as well as those events and actions that relate to 29 the alleged defect or injuries, including enhanced injuries.

2011142e1

30 (b) "Economic damages" means past lost income and future
31 lost income reduced to present value; medical and funeral
32 expenses; lost support and services; replacement value of lost
33 personal property; loss of appraised fair market value of real 34 property; costs of construction repairs, including labor, 35 overhead, and profit; and any other economic loss that ~~which~~ 36 would not have occurred but for the injury giving rise to the 37 cause of action.

38 (c) "Negligence action" means, without limitation, a civil 39 action for damages based upon a theory of negligence, strict 40 liability, products liability, professional malpractice whether 41 couched in terms of contract or tort, or breach of warranty and 42 like theories. The substance of an action, not conclusory terms
43 used by a party, determines whether an action is a negligence
44 action.

45 (d) "Products liability action" means a civil action based 46 upon a theory of strict liability, negligence, breach of 47 warranty, nuisance, or similar theories for damages caused by 48 the manufacture, construction, design, formulation,
49 installation, preparation, or assembly of a product. The term
50 includes an action alleging that injuries received by a claimant 51 in an accident were greater than the injuries the claimant would 52 have received but for a defective product. The substance of an 53 action, not the conclusory terms used by a party, determines 54 whether an action is a products liability action.

55 (2) EFFECT OF CONTRIBUTORY FAULT.—In a negligence ~~an~~ action
56 ~~to which this section applies~~, any contributory fault chargeable 57 to the claimant diminishes proportionately the amount awarded as 58 economic and noneconomic damages for an injury attributable to

2011142e1

59 the claimant's contributory fault, but does not bar recovery.

60 (3) APPORTIONMENT OF DAMAGES.—In a negligence action ~~cases~~
61 ~~to which this section applies,~~ the court shall enter judgment
62 against each party liable on the basis of such party's 63 percentage of fault and not on the basis of the doctrine of 64 joint and several liability.

65 (a)1. In order to allocate any or all fault to a nonparty,
66 a defendant must affirmatively plead the fault of a nonparty
67 and, absent a showing of good cause, identify the nonparty, if 68 known, or describe the nonparty as specifically as practicable, 69 either by motion or in the initial responsive pleading when 70 defenses are first presented, subject to amendment any time
71 before trial in accordance with the Florida Rules of Civil 72 Procedure.

73 2.~~(b)~~ In order to allocate any or all fault to a nonparty
74 and include the named or unnamed nonparty on the verdict form 75 for purposes of apportioning damages, a defendant must prove at 76 trial, by a preponderance of the evidence, the fault of the 77 nonparty in causing the plaintiff's injuries.

78 (b) In a products liability action alleging that injuries
79 received by a claimant in an accident were enhanced by a 80 defective product, the trier of fact shall consider the fault of 81 all persons who contributed to the accident when apportioning
82 fault between or among them. The jury shall be appropriately 83 instructed by the trial judge on the apportionment of fault in 84 products liability actions where there are allegations that the 85 injuries received by the claimant in an accident were enhanced 86 by a defective product. The rules of evidence apply to these 87 actions.

88 (4) APPLICABILITY.—

89 ~~(a) This section applies to negligence cases. For purposes~~
90 ~~of this section, "negligence cases" includes, but is not limited~~
91 ~~to, civil actions for damages based upon theories of negligence,~~
92 ~~strict liability, products liability, professional malpractice~~
93 ~~whether couched in terms of contract or tort, or breach of~~ 94 ~~warranty and like theories. In determining whether a case falls~~ 95 ~~within the term "negligence cases," the court shall look to the~~ 96 ~~substance of the action and not the conclusory terms used by the~~ 97 ~~parties.~~

98 ~~(b) This section does not apply to any action brought by~~ 99 ~~any person to recover actual economic damages resulting from~~ 100 ~~pollution, to any action based upon an intentional tort, or to~~ 101 ~~any cause of action as to which application of the doctrine of~~ 102 ~~joint and several liability is specifically provided by chapter~~
103 ~~403, chapter 498, chapter 517, chapter 542, or chapter 895.~~

104 (5) MEDICAL MALPRACTICE.—Notwithstanding anything in law to 105 the contrary, in an action for damages for personal injury or 106 wrongful death arising out of medical malpractice, whether in 107 contract or tort, if when an apportionment of damages pursuant 108 to this section is attributed to a teaching hospital as defined 109 in s. 408.07, the court shall enter judgment against the 110 teaching hospital on the basis of such party's percentage of 111 fault and not on the basis of the doctrine of joint and several 112 liability.

113 Section 2. The Legislature intends that this act be applied
114 retroactively and overrule D'Amario v. Ford Motor Co., 806 So.
115 2d 424 (Fla. 2001), which adopted what the Florida Supreme Court 116 acknowledged to be a minority view. That minority view fails to

2011142e1

117 apportion fault for damages consistent with Florida's statutory
118 comparative fault system, codified in s. 768.81, Florida
119 Statutes, and leads to inequitable and unfair results, 120 regardless of the damages sought in the litigation. The 121 Legislature finds that, in a products liability action as 122 defined in this act, fault should be apportioned among all 123 responsible persons.

124 Section 3. This act is remedial in nature and applies
125 retroactively. The Legislature finds that the retroactive
126 application of this act does not unconstitutionally impair
127 vested rights. Rather, the law affects only remedies, permitting 128 recovery against all tortfeasors while lessening the ultimate 129 liability of each consistent with this state's statutory
130 comparative fault system, codified in s. 768.81, Florida
131 Statutes. In all cases, the Legislature intends that this act be 132 construed consistent with the due process provisions of the 133 State Constitution and the Constitution of the United States.

134 Section 4. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.
