effectuation of coverage. Electronic transmission of a policy for commercial risks, including, but not limited to, workers' compensation and employers' liability, commercial automobile liability, commercial automobile physical damage, commercial lines residential property, commercial nonresidential property, farm owners insurance, and the types of commercial lines risks set forth in s. 627.062(3)(d), constitutes delivery to the insured or to the person entitled to delivery. The transmission

13 must include notice to the insured, or to the person entitled to 14 delivery, of his or her right to receive the policy via United 15 States mail rather than via electronic transmission. If the 16 insured or the person entitled to delivery communicates to the 17 insurer electronically or in writing that he or she does not 18 agree to delivery by electronic means, a paper copy of the 19 policy shall be provided to the insured or the person entitled 20 to delivery.
