COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 448 creates s. 901.40, F.S., to encourage local communities and public or private educational institutions to implement a prearrest diversion program. The bill prescribes a model program that local communities may adopt. The model program allows a law enforcement officer, at the officer's sole discretion, to issue a civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice to an adult who:

- Commits a misdemeanor offense (as determined by the program);
- Admits to committing the offense or does not contest the offense;
- Has not previously been arrested; and
- Has not previously received an adult civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice, unless the terms of the local adult prearrest diversion program allows otherwise.

An adult who agrees to a civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice must successfully complete a program that includes intervention and community service hours. If the adult does not successfully complete the program, the law enforcement officer must determine if there is good cause to arrest the adult for the original misdemeanor offense, and refer the case to the state attorney to determine if prosecution is appropriate, or to allow the adult to continue in the program.

The bill has no impact on state funds. The creation of a prearrest diversion program could result in cost savings for local governments. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill is effective July 1, 2017.

II. Present Situation:

Through the years the term “diversion” has been used broadly to refer to programs that allow an individual to avoid incarceration but still result in a criminal conviction. In recent years, the term diversion has also begun to be used to refer to programs that address an individual’s behavior but do not result in a conviction. “At either end of the diversion spectrum, the overriding goals are the same – to maximize the opportunity for success and minimize the likelihood of recidivism.”¹

An example of diversion is prearrest diversion. One form of prearrest diversion is a civil citation program where a law enforcement officer may issue a civil citation to an individual who commits an eligible misdemeanor offense (as determined by the prearrest diversion program), meets other eligibility requirements, and agrees to participate in and successfully complete a program (interventions and sanctions, including community service hours). If the individual successfully completes the program, he or she does not have an arrest or arrest record.²

Juvenile civil citation programs are in operation throughout the state and are recommended by Florida law.³ Florida law does not specifically address adult civil citation programs or other prearrest diversion programs for adults.

Juvenile Civil Citation

Section 985.12, F.S., encourages local entities to establish juvenile civil citation programs. The statute provides a framework for a modal juvenile civil citation program, which provides an alternative to custody by the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) for children who commit nonserious delinquent acts.⁴ Under the model program, if a juvenile admits to committing a misdemeanor⁵ a law enforcement officer has the discretion to:

- Issue a warning or inform the juvenile’s parent of the child’s infraction;
- Issue a civil citation or require participation in a similar diversion program; or
- Arrest the juvenile.⁶

These programs are discretionary⁷ to participate in by the child and require the youth to complete no more than 50 community service hours. The programs may also require participation in

The Leon County Adult Civil Citation Program

The American Bar Association has observed: “Although Florida’s civil citation programs are focused on juveniles, the guidelines and principles inherent in the programs are generally applicable to adults, as well.”⁹ Leon County operates an adult civil citation program.¹⁰

The Leon County’s program provides a law enforcement officer with the discretion to issue a civil citation once probable cause has been determined to arrest an adult and the officer has advised the adult of his or her Miranda rights and obtained an admission.¹¹ The law enforcement officer must then verify whether the adult meets all of the following criteria:

- The offense is one of the following misdemeanor offenses:
 - Possession of alcohol by a person under 21 years of age;
 - Possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana;
 - Possession of drug paraphernalia;
 - An open house party violation;
 - Selling or giving alcoholic beverages to a minor;
 - Criminal mischief (restitution may not exceed $50);
 - Trespass;
 - Non-domestic battery or assault;
 - Petit theft (restitution may not exceed $50); or
 - Disorderly conduct.
- The adult resides within the Second Judicial Circuit;¹² and
- The adult is a first-time adult offender (no previous arrest as an adult and no previous adult civil citation).¹³

If the officer determines that the adult is eligible to participate in the adult civil citation program and that a civil citation is appropriate, the officer then must explain to the adult that participation in the adult civil citation program is voluntary.¹⁴ If the adult chooses not to participate in the adult civil citation program, the officer either issues a Notice to Appear (NTA) or transports the adult to the jail for formal booking.¹⁵

If the adult agrees to participate in the adult civil citation program, the officer issues a civil citation and the adult has 7 days to report to DISC Village, Inc.,¹⁶ for intake and assessment. Based on the results of the assessment and initial drug screening, the provider creates an individualized intervention plan. The intervention plan includes:

- Counseling sessions (at least three with a behavioral health specialist);
- Drug screening;
- Online educational intervention modules; and
- Community service hours.¹⁷

The adult must also pay a $350 fee to participate in the program.¹⁸ If the adult successfully completes all sanctions and intervention services, the social services provider notifies the referring law enforcement agency and the person does not have an arrest record.¹⁹

If the participant does not successfully complete the program, the referring law enforcement agency is notified and then contacts the adult and attempts to issue a NTA. If the adult does not comply with arrangements to receive a NTA, an arrest affidavit and warrant are submitted. Subsequently, the adult may face prosecution if the state attorney determines that prosecution is appropriate.²⁰

Statistics on the Leon County Adult Civil Citation Program

From March 2013 to August 2016, the Tallahassee Police Department and Leon County Sheriff's Office issued 1,113 adult civil citations with an average successful completion rate of 83 percent. Of those who successfully completed the adult civil citation program, the rearrest rate was 7 percent and for those who did not successfully complete the program, the rearrest rate was 61 percent.²¹

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates s. 901.40, F.S., to encourage local communities and public or private educational institutions to implement a prearrest diversion program. The bill provides a framework for a model adult civil citation program that may be adopted.

The model program allows a law enforcement officer, at the officer's sole discretion, to issue a civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice to an adult who:

- Commits a misdemeanor offense (as determined by the program);
- Admits to committing the offense or does not contest the offense;
- Has not previously been arrested; and
- Has not previously received an adult civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice, unless the terms of the local adult prearrest diversion program allows otherwise.

The model program requires a committee to develop policies and procedures for the program, including, eligibility criteria, program implementation and operation, the determination of a fee, if any, to be paid by adults participating in the program, and qualifying misdemeanor offenses.

The committee is comprised of:

- Representatives of participating law enforcement agencies;
- A representative of the program services provider;
- The public defender;
- The state attorney; and
- The clerk of the circuit court.

The model program committee must solicit input from other interested stakeholders when developing the program's policies and procedures. The model program may be operated by a law enforcement agency, the county or municipality, or another entity that the county or city selects.

The model program requires an adult who receives a civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice to report for intake and be provided appropriate assessment, intervention, education, and behavioral health care services. While in the model program, the adult must complete the required community service hours and pay restitution.

The model program provides that if the adult does not successfully complete the program, the law enforcement officer must determine if there is good cause to arrest the adult for the original misdemeanor offense, and refer the case to the state attorney to determine if prosecution is appropriate, or to allow the adult to continue in the program.

Counties and municipalities are not preempted from enacting noncriminal sanctions for a violation of an ordinance or other violation. Counties, municipalities, and public or private educational institutions are not preempted from creating their own model for a prearrest diversion program for adults. However, if a prearrest diversion program is implemented the program is encouraged to share information with other programs.

The bill is effective July 1, 2017.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The bill does not mandate that local governments create a prearrest diversion program for adults; it only "encourages" the creation of such a program. Additionally, criminal laws are excluded from Article VII, section 18 of the Florida Constitution, relating to state mandates that affect revenues and expenditures of local governments.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Participants of a prearrest diversion program will likely have to pay fees to participate. For example, under the Leon County model, an eligible adult who chooses to participate in the adult civil citation program must pay a program fee of $350, but this fee may be waived if the participant does not have the means to pay it.²² The participant may also have to pay restitution as part of a prearrest diversion program.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill has no impact on state funds.

The bill does not mandate that local governments or public or private educational institutions create prearrest diversion programs for adults. Under the Leon County model, the adult civil citation program is self-sustaining (paid for by program fees).²³ The fee for the Leon County adult civil citation program is $350.²⁴

Creation of a prearrest diversion program could result in cost savings (e.g., reduced detention/confinement costs and booking/arrest-processing costs), depending on the number of eligible offenses, other eligibility criteria chosen, the pool of eligible adults, the number of participating law enforcement agencies, the use of civil citations or similar prearrest diversion program notices by those agencies, and any impact the program may have in reducing arrests.

The Criminal Justice Impact conference met on March 2, 2017, and found that the bill would have no impact on prison beds.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

Florida law does not specifically address adult civil citation programs or other similar prearrest diversion programs for adults. If the bill were to become law, the law would specifically indicate that the Legislature encourages the creation of such programs.

The approach taken by the bill affords law enforcement officers complete discretion in the decision to arrest or issue a civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice. The Florida Supreme Court has remarked that “the discretionary judgmental power granted a police officer to make an arrest and enforce the law” is “considered basic to the police power function of governmental entities and is recognized as critical to a law enforcement officer’s ability to carry out his duties.”²⁵

CS/SB 450 is the related public records bill linked to this bill.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill creates section 901.40 of the Florida Statutes.

IX. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS by Criminal Justice on March 13, 2017:

The committee substitute:

- Removes the requirement that the misdemeanor offense must be a nonviolent misdemeanor;
- Revises model program criteria to allow an eligible adult to not contest the offense (as an alternative to admitting to committing the offense);
- Allows local adult prearrest diversion programs to determine whether an adult can receive another civil citation or similar prearrest diversion program notice even if he or she already has received one;
- Removes the provision allowing the victim to object to the issuance of a civil citation;
- Specifies that if an adult does not successfully complete the program, the law enforcement officer has the discretion to arrest the adult or allow the adult to continue in the program;
- Clarifies that programs can determine whether to charge a fee for participation; and
- Makes technical changes recommended by staff.
