I. Summary:

SB 1286 revises the definition of a rare disease for the purposes of the Gardiner Scholarship Program. Specifically, the bill:

- Specifies that a rare disease is a disorder that affects patient populations of 200,000 individuals or fewer in the united States, and
- Conforms the definition of a rare disease to the definition provided by the Orphan Drug Act of 1983, Pub. L. No. 97-414.

The bill has no impact on state revenues or expenditures.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2018.

II. Present Situation:

Gardiner Scholarship Disability Eligibility Requirements

The Gardiner Scholarship Program was established in 2014¹ to provide an educational option for a parent of an eligible child² to better meet the individual educational needs of his or her child who has a disability.³

A “disability” as defined under the Gardiner Scholarship Program, means, for a 3– or 4–year-old child or a student in kindergarten to grade 12, students with disabilities who are documented as having autism spectrum disorder; cerebral palsy; Down syndrome; an intellectual disability; Phelan-McDermid syndrome; Prader-Willi syndrome; spina-bifida; being a high-risk child; muscular dystrophy; Williams syndrome; rare diseases which affect patient populations of fewer than 200,000 individuals in the United States, as defined by the National Organization for Rare Disorders; anaphylaxis; deaf; visually impaired; traumatic brain injury; hospital or homebound; or identification as dual sensory impaired, as defined by rules of the State Board of Education and evidenced by reports from local school districts.

During the 2016-2017 school year, 7,593 students qualified for the Gardiner scholarship.⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

SB 1286 revises the definition of a rare disease for the purposes of the Gardiner Scholarship Program. The bill:

- Specifies that a rare disease is a disorder that affects patient populations of 200,000 individuals or fewer, and
- Conforms the definition of a rare disease to the definition as provided by the Orphan Drug Act of 1983, Pub. L. No. 97-414.

In 2017, the Legislature expanded the definition of disability for the Gardiner Scholarship Program to include a child diagnosed with a rare disease or condition, which affects patient populations of fewer than 200,000 individuals in the United States, as defined by the National Organization for Rare Disorders.⁵

The National Organization for Rare Disorders (NORD) provides brief introductions for patients and their families to more than 1,200 rare diseases.⁶ However, NORD is not a comprehensive database since there are nearly 7,000 diseases considered rare in the United States.⁷ Accordingly, the bill conforms the definition of a rare disease to the federal law.
