I. Summary:

SB 1358 provides that upon an appeal of a property appraiser's valuation of timeshare property, the number of resales is deemed to be adequate if the taxpayer provides a reasonable number of resales as supported by the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.

Current law requires a property appraiser to first look to the resale market to value timeshare property. If there is an inadequate number of resales for arriving at the value, the property appraiser must use the original purchase price of the timeshare and deduct "usual and reasonable fees and costs of the sale."

The Revenue Estimating Conference determined that the bill will reduce local government revenues by at least $169.9 million beginning in Fiscal Year 2022-2023. See Section V., Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Timeshares

A timeshare interest is a form of ownership of real and personal property.<sup>1</sup> In a timeshare, multiple parties hold the right to use a condominium unit or a cooperative unit. Each owner of a timeshare interest is allotted a period of time during which the owner has the exclusive right to use the property.

The Florida Vacation Plan and Timesharing Act, ch. 721, F.S., establishes requirements for the creation, sale, exchange, promotion, and operation of timeshare plans, including requirements for full and fair disclosure to purchasers and prospective purchasers.<sup>2</sup> Chapter 721, F.S., applies to all timeshare plans consisting of more than seven timeshare periods over a period of at least three years in which the accommodations and facilities are located within this state or offered within this state.<sup>3</sup> Part I of ch. 721, F.S., relates to vacation plans and timesharing, and Part II of chapter 721, F.S., relates to multisite vacation and timeshare plans that are also known as vacation clubs.

A timeshare unit is an accommodation of a timeshare plan which is divided into timeshare periods or a condominium unit in which timeshare estates have been created.<sup>4</sup>

A “timeshare estate” is a right to occupy a timeshare unit, coupled with a freehold estate or an estate for years with a future interest in a timeshare property or a specified portion thereof.<sup>5</sup> The term also includes an interest in a condominium unit, a cooperative unit, or a trust. Whether the term includes both direct and indirect interests in trusts is not specified. An example of an indirect interest in a trust is the interest of a trust beneficiary’s spouse or other dependent.

The “managing entity” for a timeshare property is the person who operates or maintains the timeshare plan pursuant to s. 721.13(1), F.S., which defines the managing entity as either the developer, a separate manager or management firm, or an owners' association.<sup>6</sup>

Tax Assessments

Section 192.037, F.S., governs the ad valorem taxation of fee timeshare real property.<sup>7</sup> The managing entity responsible for operating and maintaining fee timeshare real property is considered the taxpayer as an agent of the timeshare period titleholder.<sup>8</sup>

The managing entity responsible for operating and maintaining the timesharing plan and each person having a fee interest in a timeshare unit or timeshare period may contest or appeal an ad valorem tax assessment in the same manner as other property owners under ch. 194, F.S., which relates to the administrative and judicial review of property taxes assessed by the property appraiser.<sup>9</sup>

The managing entity is required to collect and remit the taxes and special assessments due on fee timeshare real property. In allocating taxes, special assessments, and common expenses to <sup>4</sup> See ss. 721.05(41) and 718.103(26), F.S.

<sup>7</sup> Section 192.001(14), F.S., defines the term “fee timeshare real property” to mean “the land and buildings and other improvements to land that are subject to timeshare interests which are sold as a fee interest in real property.”

<sup>8</sup> Section 192.001(15), F.S., defines the term “timeshare period titleholder” to mean “the purchaser of a timeshare period sold as a fee interest in real property, whether organized under ch. 718, F.S., relating to condominium associations, or ch. 721, F.S., relating to timeshares and vacation plans.

individual timeshare period titleholders, the managing entity must clearly label the portion of any amounts due which are attributable to ad valorem taxes and special assessments.<sup>10</sup>

A property appraiser must first look to the resale market for determining the value of timeshare property.<sup>11</sup> If the property appraiser finds an inadequate number of resales exists for such a determination, the property appraiser must determine the value by deducting the “usual and reasonable fees and costs of the sale” from the original purchase price.<sup>12</sup>

The term “usual and reasonable fees and costs of the sale” for timeshare real property includes all marketing costs, atypical financing costs, and those costs attributable to the right of a timeshare unit owner or user to participate in an exchange network of resorts.<sup>13</sup> For timeshare real property, the “usual and reasonable fees and costs of the sale” is presumed to be 50 percent of the original purchase price, but that presumption is rebuttable.<sup>14</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 192.037, F.S., to require the property appraiser to defer to the taxpayer for the determination of whether the number of resales is adequate if, on appeal of the tax assessment, the taxpayer asserts that there is an adequate number of resales to provide a basis for arriving at a value and provides a reasonable number of resales as would be supported by the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.<sup>15</sup>

The bill provides that this method meets the requirement of just valuation of all property, including timeshare real property, as required under Art. VII, s. 4, of the State Constitution.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

Article VII, s. 18(b) of the Florida Constitution provides that except upon the approval of each house of the Legislature by a two-thirds vote of the membership, the Legislature may not enact, amend, or repeal any general law if the anticipated effect of doing so would be to reduce the authority that cities or counties have to raise revenue in the aggregate, as such authority existed on February 1, 1989. However, the mandate

<sup>15</sup> The Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice provide ethical and performance standards for the appraisal profession in the United States. requirement does not apply to laws having an insignificant impact,<sup>16, 17</sup> which for Fiscal Year 2021-2022, is forecast at $2.2 million.<sup>18</sup>

The Revenue Estimating Conference determined that the bill will reduce local government property tax revenues by $169.9 million beginning in Fiscal Year 2022-2023. Therefore, this bill may be a mandate subject to the requirements of Art. VII, s. 18(b) of the Florida Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

This bill does not create or raise state taxes or fees. Therefore, the requirements of Art. VII, s. 19 of the Florida Constitution do not apply.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

None identified.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

The Revenue Estimating Conference determined that the bill will reduce local government revenue by at least $169.9 million beginning in Fiscal Year 2022-2023. The REC noted that the fiscal impact may likely be greater because the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice appear to provide minimal guidance regarding the adequate number of timeshare property resales.<sup>19</sup>

B. Private Sector Impact:

Persons having an interest in a timeshare unit or timeshare period may benefit from a reduction in assessed ad valorem taxes.

<sup>17</sup> An insignificant fiscal impact is the amount not greater than the average statewide population for the applicable fiscal year multiplied by $0.10. <sup>18</sup> Based on the Demographic Estimating Conference's April 1, 2021, estimated population adopted on Nov. 13, 2020. The conference packet is available at <http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/conferences/population/ConferenceResults.pdf> (last visited Feb. 03, 2021).

C. Government Sector Impact:

None.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

Two recent appeals of a property appraiser's valuation of timeshare properties highlight that the timeshare resale market may not be sufficiently robust to use as the basis of an appraisal for ad valorem valuation.<sup>20</sup>

The appeals involved four timeshare developments. For each development, the property appraiser determined that the resale market for the timeshare developments was insufficient to produce an adequate number of resales for valuation purposes. Consequently, the property appraiser deducted from the original purchase price the usual and reasonable fees and costs of the sale. The property appraiser prevailed in both appeals. There may be additional, related appeals pending that challenge the property appraiser's valuation of time share properties.<sup>21</sup>

The resale valuation and the original purchase price valuation may produce significantly different results. In these court cases, the resale price valuation method resulted in values that were between 75 percent and 40 percent lower than the purchase price method.<sup>22</sup>

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends section 192.037 of the Florida Statutes.
