COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 320 creates a public records exemption for certain financial information required by the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT), for prequalification purposes from entities wishing to qualify to bid on FDOT construction projects.

This exemption is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and will stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and reenacted by the Legislature.

The bill provides a statement of public necessity as required by the State Constitution.

The bill creates a new public records exemption and, therefore, requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage.

The bill may have a minimal fiscal impact to FDOT relating to the workload necessary for the redaction of records in responding to public records requests.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2024.

II. Present Situation:

Access to Public Records - Generally

The Florida Constitution provides that the public has the right to inspect or copy records made or received in connection with official governmental business.¹ The right to inspect or copy applies to the official business of any public body, officer, or employee of the state, including all three branches of state government, local governmental entities, and any person acting on behalf of the government.²

Additional requirements and exemptions related to public records are found in various statutes and rules, depending on the branch of government involved. For instance, section 11.0431, F.S., provides public access requirements for legislative records. Relevant exemptions are codified in s. 11.0431(2)-(3), F.S., and adopted in the rules of each house of the legislature.³ Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.420 governs public access to judicial branch records.⁴ Lastly, chapter 119, F.S., known as the Public Records Act, provides requirements for public records held by executive agencies.

Executive Agency Records – The Public Records Act

The Public Records Act provides that all state, county and municipal records are open for personal inspection and copying by any person, and that providing access to public records is a duty of each agency.⁵

Section 119.011(12), F.S., defines “public records” to include:

[a]ll documents, papers, letters, maps, books, tapes, photographs, films, sound recordings, data processing software, or other material, regardless of the physical form, characteristics, or means of transmission, made or received pursuant to law or ordinance or in connections with the transaction of official business by any agency.

The Florida Supreme Court has interpreted this definition to encompass all materials made or received by an agency in connection with official business that are used to “perpetuate, communicate, or formalize knowledge of some type.”⁶

The Florida Statutes specify conditions under which public access to public records must be provided. The Public Records Act guarantees every person’s right to inspect and copy any public record at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the custodian of the public record.⁷ A violation of the Public Records Act may result in civil or criminal liability.⁸

The Legislature may exempt public records from public access requirements by passing a general law by a two-thirds vote of both the House and the Senate.⁹ The exemption must state with specificity the public necessity justifying the exemption and must be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the exemption.¹⁰

General exemptions from the public records requirements are contained in the Public Records Act.¹¹ Specific exemptions often are placed in the substantive statutes relating to a particular agency or program.¹²

When creating a public records exemption, the Legislature may provide that a record is “exempt” or “confidential and exempt.” There is a difference between records the Legislature has determined to be exempt from the Public Records Act and those which the Legislature has determined to be exempt from the Public Records Act and confidential.¹³ Records designated as “confidential and exempt” are not subject to inspection by the public and may only be released under the circumstances defined by statute.¹⁴ Records designated as “exempt” may be released at the discretion of the records custodian under certain circumstances.¹⁵

Open Government Sunset Review Act

The provisions of s. 119.15, F.S., known as the Open Government Sunset Review Act¹⁶ (the Act), prescribe a legislative review process for newly created or substantially amended¹⁷ public records or open meetings exemptions, with specified exceptions.¹⁸ The Act requires the repeal of such exemption on October 2nd of the fifth year after creation or substantial amendment, unless the Legislature reenacts the exemption.¹⁹

¹⁶ Section 119.15, F.S.

¹⁷ An exemption is considered to be substantially amended if it is expanded to include more records or information or to include meetings as well as records. Section 119.15(4)(b), F.S.

¹⁸ Section 119.15(2)(a) and (b), F.S., provides that exemptions required by federal law or applicable solely to the Legislature or the State Court System are not subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act.

¹⁹ Section 119.15(3), F.S.

The Act provides that a public records or open meetings exemption may be created or maintained only if it serves an identifiable public purpose and is no broader than is necessary.²⁰ An exemption serves an identifiable purpose if the Legislature finds that the purpose of the exemption outweighs open government policy and cannot be accomplished without the exemption and it meets one of the following purposes:

- It allows the state or its political subdivisions to effectively and efficiently administer a governmental program, and administration would be significantly impaired without the exemption;²¹
- It protects sensitive, personal information, the release of which would be defamatory, cause unwarranted damage to the good name or reputation of the individual, or would jeopardize the individual's safety. If this public purpose is cited as the basis of an exemption, however, only personal identifying information is exempt;²² or
- It protects information of a confidential nature concerning entities, such as trade or business secrets.²³

The Act also requires specified questions to be considered during the review process.²⁴ In examining an exemption, the Act directs the Legislature to question the purpose and necessity of reenacting the exemption.

If the exemption is continued and expanded, then a public necessity statement and a two-thirds vote for passage are required.²⁵ If the exemption is continued without substantive changes or if the exemption is continued and narrowed, then a public necessity statement and a two-thirds vote for passage are not required. If the Legislature allows an exemption to expire, the previously exempt records will remain exempt unless otherwise provided by law.²⁶

Information Required by Florida Department of Transportation for Bid Qualification

Section 337.14(1), F.S., requires contractors desiring to bid on any Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) construction contract in excess of $250,000 be certified by FDOT. FDOT rules regarding the certification of contractors must include requirements regarding equipment, experience, financial resources, and organizational personnel.²⁷ Included in s. 337.14(1), F.S., is the requirement that the applying contractor submit to FDOT audited, certified

- What specific records or meetings are affected by the exemption?
- Whom does the exemption uniquely affect, as opposed to the general public?
- What is the identifiable public purpose or goal of the exemption?
- Can the information contained in the records or discussed in the meeting be readily obtained by alternative means? If so, how?
- Is the record or meeting protected by another exemption?

financial statements. Section 337.14(1), F.S., provides that the information required by s. 337.14(1), F.S., is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), F.S., relating to public records.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 creates s. 337.14(1)(b), F.S., providing that any information currently required by FDOT pursuant to s. 337.14(1)(a), F.S., which would reveal the revenue, profit, loss, expenses, gross receipts, taxes paid, or capital investment of any applying contractor is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), F.S., and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution. This provision is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and stands repealed on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and reenacted by the Legislature.

Section 2 provides a public necessity statement, as required by the State Constitution. The public necessity statement provides that it is a public necessity that any financial information required by FDOT for prequalification purposes, including information that would reveal the revenue, profit, loss, expenses, gross receipts, taxes paid, or capital investment from any applying contractor, be made exempt from s. 119.07(1), F.S., and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution. In the prequalification process, an applying contractor will provide financial statements to FDOT, and FDOT may request additional financial information in order to verify the financial adequacy of the prospective bidder. These records may contain sensitive information related to an applying contractor's financial condition. The risk of potential disclosure of sensitive financial information defeats the purpose of protections already afforded to financial statements and may have a chilling effect on entities desiring to prequalify or maintain prequalification. The chilling effect may result in a limited pool of prequalified bidders, thus negatively impacting FDOT's ability to receive the best value for projects.

Additionally, protecting this financial information from public disclosure will prevent such information from being used by competitors to gain an unfair advantage against other bidders on the project. Lastly, protecting this information from disclosure promotes the free provision of such information to the department by removing a prospective bidder's concern for attendant risks in doing so. As a result, this exemption promotes the state's interest in ensuring that prospective bidders on transportation projects possess the necessary financial resources to complete such projects, many of which involve immense costs and may be complex and of long duration.

Section 3 provides that the bill takes effect July 1, 2024.
