Number 14 - The Department of Business and Professional Regulation reported an administrative complaint was filed against Mr. Martinez and Caribe Construction, Inc., alleging violations of the South Florida Building Code and/or Chapter 489, F.S. on August 6, 1993. The DBPR and the Construction Industry Licensing Board and Mr. Martinez and Caribe Construction, Inc. entered into a Stipulation and Agreement on March 30, 1995. Caribe Construction, Inc. provided reimbursement of administrative expenses totaling $10,500 to the DBPR and provided $44,500 to counsel for distribution to any homeowners who opted out of a civil action case filed in Dade County Circuit Court. The final order approving the settlement stipulation was signed on August 24, 1995. This disciplinary action was unintentionally omitted in the questionnaire. Mr. Martinez offered the following explanation. "This in fact is the settlement stipulation that I entered into with DPBR in 1995. This settlement came as a result of a complaint filed against my construction company in the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew in 1992. I was building homes in the "Country Walk Area" which became known as Ground Zero due to the force of the winds that hit that immediate area. As stated in the agreement I categorically rejected and denied all allegations and the Department ultimately agreed that the devastation that occurred was due to an unprecedented storm that caused record devastation and loss of property in Miami Dade County and not due to construction defects. I would like to highlight the fact that in the 30 plus years I have had my GC license, not a single complaint has been filed against me or my company other than this one."
