I. Summary:

SB 176 requires each state university and Florida College System (FCS) institution to adopt and implement written safety policies and procedures intended to protect the physical safety of students, faculty, staff, and visitors in campus facilities, classrooms, and other institutional settings. The required policies and procedures must address both physical threats and other conduct or language that would cause a reasonable person to believe his or her physical safety is at risk. The bill requires each state university and FCS institution's policies and procedures to include certain provisions specified in the bill.

The bill requires each state university and FCS institution to annually review and update its policies and procedures to incorporate best practices in threat assessment, campus security, and safety.

The bill authorizes the Board of Governors to adopt regulations, and the State Board of Education to adopt rules, to administer the provisions of the bill.

This bill does not have a fiscal impact on state revenues and expenditures. See Section V., Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2026.

II. Present Situation:

Governance and Institutional Authority for Campus Safety Policy

The Board of Governors (BOG) has constitutional authority to regulate the State University System (SUS), and each local constituent university is administered by a 13-member board of trustees.<sup>1</sup> The BOG may adopt a regulation development procedure for the BOG and university boards of trustees to use in implementing their constitutional duties and responsibilities.<sup>2</sup> Florida College System (FCS) institution boards of trustees have statutory authority to provide for risk management, safety, security, and law enforcement operations at the institution, including emergency response.<sup>3</sup>

Campus Emergency Response Information; Public Records and Open Meetings Exemptions

Current law defines “campus emergency response” to include plans and training for responding to an act of terrorism or other public safety crisis or emergency, and it specifies categories of included information. Campus emergency response information includes, in part:

- Threat assessments conducted by any agency or private entity.
- Threat response plans.
- Emergency evacuation plans.
- Manuals for security personnel, emergency equipment, or security training.
- Security systems or plans.
- Identification of staff involved in emergency preparedness, response, and recovery activities.
- Individual identification of affected or at-risk students, faculty, and staff and related record-transfer and family-inquiry response methods.

Any portion of a campus emergency response held by a public postsecondary educational institution is exempt from the public records requirement.

Any portion of a campus emergency response held by specified governmental entities, including the BOG, the Department of Education, and state or local law enforcement and emergency management agencies, is also exempt from the public records requirement.

That portion of a public meeting that would reveal information related to a campus emergency response is exempt from open meetings requirements.<sup>4</sup>

State University System Emergency Management Planning

BOG regulation requires each SUS university to develop and maintain a comprehensive emergency management program and maintain a comprehensive emergency management plan and continuity of operations plan.<sup>5</sup>

The regulation also references state emergency management law that applies to state agencies and specified facilities, including requirements related to emergency coordination and disaster preparedness planning.<sup>6</sup>

Federal Campus Security Disclosure Requirements

The U.S. Department of Education describes the federal campus security framework as advancing goals of keeping students, parents, and employees informed about campus security, and it states that ensuring institutional compliance and enforcement is a departmental priority.<sup>7</sup>

Federal regulations implementing the Clery Act framework require participating institutions to prepare and distribute an annual security report and to comply with related policy statement and campus crime statistics disclosure requirements.<sup>8</sup>

Federal regulations also address timely warnings and require institutions to include emergency response and evacuation procedures in the annual security report.<sup>9</sup>

State University System Campus Safety Summit

A Florida Board of Governors report titled “SUS Safety Summit” states that, on October 8, 2025, the SUS hosted a safety summit for university leadership and FCS leaders and discussed key safety issues, including building hardening, threat assessment, and communications.<sup>10</sup>

The report describes facility lock review efforts following April 17, 2025, events at Florida State University and discusses facility and physical security measures such as reinforced access points, electronic door control systems, and modernized locking technologies.

The report discusses threat assessment as a proactive measure and describes multidisciplinary threat assessment teams drawing on expertise such as law enforcement, counseling, student affairs, and human resources.<sup>11</sup>

The report discusses emergency communications practices such as establishing communication hierarchies and distributing verified updates through multiple channels.<sup>12</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates s. 1004.0983, F.S., to require each state university and Florida College System (FCS) institution to adopt and implement written safety policies and procedures intended to protect the physical safety of students, faculty, staff, and visitors in campus facilities, classrooms, and other institutional settings. The required policies and procedures must address both physical threats and other conduct or language that would cause a reasonable person to believe his or her physical safety is at risk.

The bill requires each state university and FCS institution's policies and procedures to include, at a minimum, provisions that:

- Identify a responsible person who coordinates the institution's response to covered threats or conduct and implements the policies and procedures, including all safety measures.
- Establish clear internal and external reporting protocols, including notification of campus security or a local law enforcement agency when appropriate.
- Outline protective measures available to affected persons, which may include work or class relocation, security escorts, and restricting access to certain areas by a person engaged in covered conduct.
- Provide timely updates to an affected person regarding the status of an incident and any action taken.
- Ensure the policies and procedures are prominently posted on the institution's website and available to students, faculty, staff, and visitors upon request.

The bill requires each state university and FCS institution to annually review and update its policies and procedures to incorporate best practices in threat assessment, campus security, and safety.

The bill authorizes the Board of Governors to adopt regulations, and the State Board of Education to adopt rules, to administer the provisions of the bill.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2026.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

The bill requires each state university and Florida College System institution's safety policies and procedures to address physical threats and "other conduct or language that would cause a reasonable person to believe his or her physical safety is at risk."

The First Amendment to the United States Constitution and Art. 1, s.4 of the Florida Constitution protect freedom of speech and press.<sup>13</sup>

The United States Supreme Court has stated that First Amendment protections apply on a state university campus and that the dissemination of ideas may not be restricted because the ideas are offensive.<sup>14</sup> When a public university regulates access to campus platforms or resources, restrictions generally must be reasonable and viewpoint neutral.<sup>15</sup> For example, the Court has held that a public university may not deny access to student activity fee funding for a student publication based on the publication's religious viewpoint.<sup>16</sup>

The Court has also recognized that laws and policies regulating speech may raise concerns if they are vague or overbroad, including because unclear standards may chill protected expression or invite arbitrary enforcement.<sup>17</sup> In Grayned v. City of Rockford, the Supreme Court upheld an anti-noise ordinance as not unconstitutionally vague where, in the school context, the prohibited disturbance was measured by whether normal school activity had been or was about to be disrupted. The ordinance gave fair notice because prohibited disturbances were easily measured by their impact on normal school activities.<sup>18</sup>

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

This bill does not have a fiscal impact on state revenues or expenditures. State universities and Florida College System institutions may incur costs to develop, implement, post, and annually update required safety policies and procedures.

I. Summary:

SB 816 codifies the University of Florida Diabetes Institute within the University of Florida College of Medicine as a statewide resource for diabetes research, prevention, treatment, and education, and focuses on all forms of diabetes, including type 1, type 2, and gestational diabetes. The bill provides for the institute to conduct research, develop prevention and treatment strategies, provide multidisciplinary clinical care, educate and train health care professionals, and engage in community outreach.

Additionally, the bill authorizes the institute to administer statewide pilot programs, maintain and share deidentified data for research purposes, and convene a statewide diabetes research and care consortium to coordinate research, share expertise, and support collaborative initiatives.

The bill does not impact state revenues or expenditures. See Section V., Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2026.

II. Present Situation:

Diabetes

Diabetes is a chronic health condition that affects how the human body turns food into energy. The human body breaks down most food into sugar, known as glucose,<sup>1</sup> which is released into

<sup>1</sup> Glucose is a type of sugar that primarily comes from carbohydrates consumed through food and drinks and serves as a primary source of energy for the body. Glucose circulates in the bloodstream and is transported to the body's cells for use as energy. See: Cleveland Clinic, Diabetes, <https://my.clevelandclinic.org/health/diseases/7104-diabetes> (last visited Jan. 20, 2026).

the bloodstream. When blood glucose levels increase, the pancreas releases insulin. Insulin allows glucose to enter the body's cells, where it is used as a source of energy.

In individuals with diabetes, the body either produces insufficient insulin or uses it inefficiently. When insulin is insufficient or cells do not respond properly to insulin, excess glucose remains in the bloodstream. Over time, elevated blood glucose levels can lead to serious health complications, including heart disease, vision loss, and kidney disease.

There is currently no cure for diabetes; however, the condition can be managed through lifestyle changes and other interventions.

There are three basic types of diabetes:

- Type 1 diabetes.
- Type 2 diabetes.
- Gestational diabetes.<sup>2</sup>

Type 1 Diabetes

Type 1 diabetes is thought to be caused by an autoimmune reaction in which the body's immune system attacks and destroys the cells in the pancreas that normally produce insulin. Roughly 5 to 10 percent of people with diabetes have type 1. Symptoms of type 1 often develop quickly. It is usually diagnosed in children, teens, and young adults. Someone with type 1 diabetes must take insulin regularly to survive, usually through subcutaneous injection one or more times per day. Currently, type 1 diabetes can neither be prevented nor cured.<sup>3</sup>

Type 2 Diabetes

In type 2 diabetes, the body does not use insulin effectively, leading to elevated blood glucose levels. About 90 to 95 percent of people with diabetes have type 2. It develops over many years and is usually diagnosed in overweight, middle-aged adults, although it can sometimes manifest in adolescents and young adults. Type 2 diabetes can often be prevented, delayed, or even eliminated through healthy lifestyle changes, such as losing weight, eating a healthy diet, and exercising regularly.<sup>4</sup> Type 2 diabetes is usually treated with oral medications, but can require insulin injections in some cases.

Gestational Diabetes

Gestational diabetes develops in pregnant women who have never had diabetes. If a woman has gestational diabetes, her baby could be at higher risk for health problems. Gestational diabetes usually goes away after the baby is born. However, it increases the mother's risk for type 2 diabetes later in life, and the baby is more likely to have obesity as a child or teen and develop type 2 diabetes later in life.<sup>5</sup>

Prevalence of Diagnosed Diabetes

The National Diabetes Statistic Report provides up-to-date information on the prevalence and incidence of diabetes and prediabetes, risk factors for complications, acute and long-term complications, deaths, and costs. Highlights of reported statistics include the following:

- In 2021, there were 29.7 million people of all ages, or 8.9 percent of the U.S. population, who had diagnosed diabetes.
- In 2021, there were 352,000 children and adolescents younger than age 20 who had diagnosed diabetes, including 304,000 with Type 1 diabetes.<sup>6</sup>

Diabetes in Florida

In Florida, recent estimates indicate that roughly 9.6 percent to 11.6 percent of the adult population has diagnosed diabetes, representing more than 2 million adults with the condition. An estimated 117,000 Florida adults are newly diagnosed each year, reflecting the prevalence of diabetes in the state.<sup>7</sup>

University of Florida Diabetes Institute

The University of Florida (UF) Diabetes Institute was founded in 2015 and operates within UF and UF Health, the university's academic health center. The institute serves as an umbrella organization that coordinates diabetes-related research, treatment, and education activities across the university.

Researchers and physicians affiliated with the institute work to prevent, diagnose, and treat diabetes across a wide range of disciplines, including immunology, genetics, endocrinology, metabolism, pediatrics, and social sciences. The institute supports both basic and clinical research and participates in national and international research collaborations to understand the causes of diabetes and improve its treatment and management.<sup>8</sup>

The UF Diabetes Institute serves as the primary coordinating center for the Breakthrough T1D<sup>9</sup> Network for Pancreatic Organ Donors with Diabetes, which supports research using donated pancreatic tissue to study how diabetes develops. In this role, the institute coordinates a global network of researchers and participates in international efforts to examine genetic and environmental factors associated with diabetes.

Faculty affiliated with the UF Diabetes Institute have received competitive research funding from public and private sources, including the National Institutes of Health/National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases, Breakthrough T1D, the American Diabetes Association, the Leona M. and Harry B. Helmsley Charitable Trust, and other funding agencies. According to the institute, current annual diabetes-related research funding exceeds $15 million, and UF faculty scholarship includes more than 1,100 papers, chapters, and books.<sup>10</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill creates s. 1004.562, F.S., to codify the University of Florida (UF) Diabetes Institute within the UF College of Medicine as a statewide resource for diabetes research, prevention, treatment, and education. The institute's purpose is to advance scientific discovery, improve prevention and clinical care, and promote education and outreach on all forms of diabetes, including type 1, type 2, gestational, and related metabolic conditions. The bill requires the institute to:

- Conduct research on the causes, mechanisms, and potential cures of diabetes, including autoimmune, genetic, and environmental factors.
- Develop advanced prevention, diagnostic, and treatment strategies to reduce the incidence and complications of diabetes.
- Provide comprehensive, multidisciplinary clinical care to individuals living with diabetes, including patient and family education, nutrition counseling, mental health support, and disease management resources.
- Train and educate health care professionals, including physicians, nurses, dietitians, pharmacists, and scientists, to expand expertise in diabetes care and research.
- Collaborate with state universities, medical centers, community organizations, patient advocacy groups, and government agencies to advance care and accelerate progress towards prevention and cures.
- Engage in community-based outreach and education programs to reduce disparities and promote healthier lifestyles.

The bill authorizes the institute to establish and administer statewide pilot programs, including, but not limited to, screening, prevention initiatives, and technology-driven management tools. The institute must maintain a secure repository of deidentified data to advance diabetes research, prevention, and care. The bill authorizes the institute to share deidentified data with research collaborators under data-sharing agreements to support ongoing and future scientific investigations.

The bill authorizes the institute to convene a statewide diabetes research and care consortium composed of clinical and academic experts, health care providers, and patient representatives to coordinate research, share expertise, and develop innovative care models. Upon convening, the consortium must be administered by the institute under the direction of the institution's executive leadership. Additionally, the bill authorizes the consortium to solicit funding from public, nonprofit, and private sources to expand programs, research initiatives, and community services.

<sup>10</sup> University of Florida, UF Diabetes Institute, About the UF Diabetes Institute, <https://diabetes.ufl.edu/about-us/> (last visited Jan. 7, 2026).

The bill requires the institute to provide an annual report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, beginning October 15, 2027, detailing research projects and findings; clinical services provided and patient outcomes; community outreach and prevention initiatives; and recommendations for future initiatives.

The bill's implementation is contingent on appropriations provided in the General Appropriations Act or from other available funds.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2026.
