COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 742 allows charter schools to directly access funding through the Workforce Development Capitalization Incentive Grant Program. This funding may be used to cover some or all costs associated with the creation or expansion of career and technical education programs that lead to industry certifications included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List.

Additionally, the bill increases from three to six the number of programs for which each career center and Florida College System institution must offer a money-back guarantee.

The bill may have an indeterminate negative fiscal impact on local governments. See Section V., Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2025.

II. Present Situation:

Workforce Development Capitalization Incentive Grant Program

The Workforce Development Capitalization Incentive Grant Program (CAP Grant) provides grants to school districts and Florida College System (FCS) institutions to support the creation or expansion of career and technical education programs leading to industry certifications included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List. These programs may serve secondary students or postsecondary students, provided the postsecondary career and technical education program also serves secondary students.¹

Grant funds may be used for instructional equipment, laboratory equipment, supplies, personnel, student services, or other expenses related to the establishment or expansion of career and technical education programs serving secondary students. Expansion may include increasing program enrollment or adding new areas of specialization. However, grant funds may not be used for recurring instructional costs or institutions' indirect costs.²

The Department of Education (DOE) administers the program, and the State Board of Education is authorized to adopt rules for its administration. When ranking applications, the State Board of Education must consider the statewide geographic dispersion of grant funds and prioritize applications from education agencies that maximize workforce development funding by offering high-performing, high-demand programs.³

In both 2023⁴ and 2024,⁵ the Legislature provided $100 million for the CAP Grant.

Money-back Guarantee Program

The Money-back Guarantee Program aims to help individuals achieve self-sufficiency by requiring each school district and FCS institution to refund tuition costs for students who fail to secure employment in their trained field within six months of successfully completing an eligible workforce education program. These programs must prepare students for in-demand, middle- to high-wage occupations.⁶

Each school district and FCS institution must offer a money-back guarantee for at least three programs and establish student eligibility criteria, which may include:

- Student attendance.
- Program performance.
- Career Service or Career Day attendance.
- Internship or work-study participation.
- Job search documentation.
- Development of a career plan with the institution's career services department.⁷

The DOE is required to submit an annual report on the Money-back Guarantee Program. By November 1 of each year, the DOE must report performance results for each participating school district, FCS institution, and program to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.⁸

³ Section 1011.801(2), F.S.

⁴ Section 51, ch. 2023-81, L.O.F.

⁵ Specific Appropriation 120, s. 2, ch. 2024-231, L.O.F.

⁶ Section 1011.803(1), F.S.

⁷ Section 1011.803(2), F.S.

⁸ Section 1011.803(4), F.S.

Five school districts do not meet the three-program requirement because they only operate two qualifying programs under the Money-back Guarantee Program.⁹ A total of 3,872 students have enrolled in an eligible program, including 790 students at FCS institutions and 3,082 students at school districts. To date, no students have requested refunds for any program.¹⁰

Work Search Requirements under Reemployment Assistance Law

To receive reemployment assistance benefits, an individual must be able to work and available for work during each week of claimed unemployment. To be considered “available for work,” a claimant must be actively seeking employment, which is defined as engaging in systematic and sustained efforts to find work, including contacting at least five prospective employers each week.

Alternatively, a claimant may satisfy this requirement by reporting in person to a one-stop career center to meet with a center representative and access reemployment services. The center must maintain records of the services provided and make them available to the department upon request.

The law further provides that a claimant’s job search documentation may not include the same prospective employer at the same location for three consecutive weeks, unless the employer has indicated that it is hiring again since the initial contact.

For claimants residing in small counties, as defined in Section 120.52(19), Florida Statutes, the minimum number of required employer contacts is reduced to three per week. Union members may satisfy the work search requirement by reporting daily to their union hiring hall, if that is their customary method of seeking work.¹¹

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill amends s. 1011.801, F.S., to allow charter schools to directly access funding through the Workforce Development Capitalization Incentive Grant Program. This funding may be used to cover costs associated with the creation or expansion of career and technical education programs that lead to industry certifications included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List.

The bill also amends s. 1011.803, F.S., relating to the Money-back Guarantee Program, to:

- Require each school district and Florida College System (FCS) institution to increase the number of programs for which a money-back guarantee is offered from three to six by July 1, 2026, and to notify the State Board of Education of the additional programs.
- Clarify that enrollment in a qualifying program constitutes enrollment in the money-back guarantee program.
- Provide that eligibility criteria related to job search documentation and internship or work-study participation may not exceed the work search requirements under Reemployment Assistance Law.

¹¹ Section 443.091(1), F.S.

The bill also expands the Department of Education's annual reporting requirement to include the eligibility criteria for tuition reimbursement by school district, FCS institution, and program, in addition to performance results.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2025.

I. Summary:

SB 892 creates the Florida State University Election Law Center within the Florida State University College of Law to conduct nonpartisan research, provide training, and serve as a resource on election law issues. The center will study topics including:

- Voting rights, redistricting, and campaign finance.
- Election administration, election disputes, and related issues.
- Election integrity and best practices for electoral systems.

The bill authorizes the center to:

- Hire faculty, develop courses, and host events.
- Assist government entities with election law matters.
- Offer student scholarships and fellowships.

The bill provides that the center will be funded through appropriations as provided in the General Appropriations Act, charitable donations and grants, and other university funds.

This bill has an indeterminate fiscal impact on state revenues and expenditures. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2025.

II. Present Situation:

Election Law

Election law covers a wide array of topics, including political spending, voting rights, ballot propositions, redistricting, gerrymandering, and campaign finance. Useful secondary materials include legal resources as well as interdisciplinary sources in the areas of political science, history, and public policy.¹ Federal statutes, such as the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, regulate key aspects of election law, while state laws dictate voter eligibility, ballot access, and election procedures.²

At the state level, elections are primarily governed by Chapters 97 through 106, Florida Statutes, which address voter registration, election administration, campaign finance, and recount procedures.³ The Florida Division of Elections, under the Department of State, provides guidance and oversight for elections, while county supervisors of elections administer elections locally.⁴ Legal challenges related to election law arise in state and federal courts, particularly concerning issues of voter access, redistricting, and campaign finance regulations.⁵

Florida State University College of Law

Florida State University (FSU) College of Law, located in Tallahassee, Florida, is a nationally recognized public law school. The college offers a range of legal education programs, including specialized courses in constitutional law, administrative law, and public policy, leveraging its proximity to the Florida Capitol to provide students with access to state government institutions and legal practitioners.⁶

Florida State University Election Law Center

The FSU Election Law Center, housed within the FSU College of Law, provides nonpartisan research, training, and policy analysis on election law. The center collaborates with election officials, legislators, and scholars to improve election administration, voting rights, and election integrity. It also offers student scholarships, externships, and research fellowships to support careers in election law.⁷

The center is led by a Faculty Director and an Executive Director, who oversee its academic, research, and outreach initiatives.⁸ The center hosts conferences, lectures, and training sessions, including the Election Law Conference and the Distinguished Lecture in Election Law.⁹

Intellectual Freedom and Viewpoint Diversity

"Intellectual freedom and viewpoint diversity" is the exposure of students, faculty, and staff to, and the encouragement of their exploration of, a variety of ideological and political perspectives. State universities are prohibited from shielding students, faculty, or staff from ideas or opinions they may find uncomfortable, unwelcome, disagreeable, or offensive.

The Board of Governors of the State University System is required to conduct an annual assessment of intellectual freedom and viewpoint diversity at each state university, using an objective, nonpartisan, and statistically valid survey. This survey measures the extent to which competing ideas and perspectives are presented and whether members of the university community feel free to express their beliefs and viewpoints.¹⁰

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill establishes the Florida State University (FSU) Election Law Center within the FSU College of Law. The bill creates s. 1004.421, F.S., to codify the center's establishment and define its purpose and scope.

Election Law

The bill defines "election law" broadly to include, but not be limited to, the following areas:

- Voting rights.
- Election administration.
- Election emergencies.
- Election integrity.
- Voter registration and voter registration databases.
- Cyber or other technical issues relating to elections.
- Federal, state, and local legal provisions governing the electoral process.
- Election contests for any federal, state, or local office.
- Matters relating to the Electoral College or the casting, counting, or validity of electoral votes.
- Federal and state campaign finance law.
- Election audits.
- Apportionment and redistricting.
- Doctrines relating to justiciability, civil procedure, and remedies in election-related cases.

Additionally, the bill extends the definition of election law to historical, empirical, and comparative studies of the specified topics, as well as philosophical and theoretical discussions on democracy, democratic theory, and republicanism.

¹⁰ Section 1001.706(13), F.S.

Goals of the Florida State University Election Law Center

The bill establishes the goals of the FSU Election Law Center, directing it to advance scholarship, education, and public confidence in election law. The bill specifically provides that the goals of the center are to:

- Conduct and promote rigorous, objective, nonpartisan, and evidence-based research on significant constitutional, statutory, and regulatory issues related to election law.
- Plan and host events to facilitate learning about the electoral process and election law, providing opportunities for students, scholars, legislators, judges, election administrators, attorneys, and members of the public to engage in discussions.
- Develop and sponsor publicly accessible materials and resources that educate the public on elections and election law, ensuring transparency and accessibility.
- Assist students by providing learning opportunities, practical experience, and career pathways in election law.
- Enhance the reputation of the FSU College of Law as a nationally recognized center for cutting-edge legal scholarship and technical expertise in election law.
- Serve as a nonpartisan resource to address election law inquiries from federal, state, and local election officials, the Legislature, and legislative staff. The center supports understanding of the electoral process and promotes public confidence in Florida's electoral system.
- Develop objective, evidence-based analysis, best practices, and potential reforms to election statutes, regulations, and policies to:
 - Strengthen electoral systems to effectively manage natural disasters and other emergencies that could disrupt elections.
 - Promote public confidence in the electoral process by promoting transparency and integrity.
 - Ensure that all qualified United States citizens in Florida have a reasonable, adequate, and safe opportunity to exercise their right to vote.
 - Minimize the risks of mistakes, fraud, violations, accidents, or other irregularities that could affect elections.

Authorized Activities of the Center

The bill authorizes the FSU Election Law Center to undertake a range of activities to fulfill its mission of advancing election law research, education, and policy development. The bill authorizes the center to:

- Hire necessary faculty and staff to support the center's operations and develop and teach courses related to election law.
- Organize and host events such as workshops, symposia, roundtables, interviews, public discussions, lectures, and conferences.
- Conduct, aid, and sponsor research on election law and publish or make publicly available articles, reports, analyses, databases, or websites to disseminate election law scholarship and policy insights.
- Provide training and continuing education for members of the federal and state judiciaries and judicial organizations, attorneys, Department of State personnel, supervisors of elections and their employees, and other election administrators.

- Offer formal and informal assistance to the Legislature and governmental entities or officials at the federal, state, and county levels on matters related to elections and election law. This assistance may include research, reports, public comments, testimony, or briefs.
- Award scholarships and research assistantships to outstanding students interested in election law and sponsors fellowships to fund qualified students to work with the center or at local, state, or federal offices and nonpartisan entities engaged in election law matters.
- Form partnerships with other centers, programs, institutes, and associations as appropriate to promote the center's goals.

Data Sharing and Confidentiality Requirements

The bill authorizes the Department of State, supervisors of elections, the State Library, and the State Archives to cooperate with the FSU Election Law Center by sharing electronic copies of information or data in their possession, custody, or control upon request of the center's faculty director.

The bill requires the center and its employees to be subject to, and to store such information or data consistent with, confidentiality and security requirements that are comparable to those that apply to the Department of State, supervisors of elections, and their employees.

Funding for the Center

The bill provides that the center will be funded through appropriations as provided in the General Appropriations Act, charitable donations and grants, and other university funds.

Leadership and Governance

The bill requires the dean of the FSU College of Law to appoint a faculty director to lead the center who is a tenured member of the faculty of the law school. The bill requires the faculty director to hire an executive director to conduct the center's day-to-day operations.

The bill requires the faculty director, in consultation with the executive director, to:

- Establish programs that promote the center's goals.
- Develop the budget and disburse the funds appropriated, donated, or provided to the center.
- Hire employees for the center.
- Oversee the center's research, education, and training programs, events, and work product.

Academic Freedom and Intellectual Diversity Protections
