Senator Jason Brodeur to File Legislation Banning Current Flock Camera Programs Due to Privacy and Due Process Concerns

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
DATE: September 1, 2026

SANFORD, FL — Senate President Pro Tempore Jason Brodeur today announced his intent to file legislation banning current Flock camera programs due to privacy and due process concerns.

"Floridians have voiced legitimate outrage over the use of Flock cameras and other license-plate readers that infringe on our constitutional rights to due process and privacy," said Senator Brodeur. "We must always balance the tools of law enforcement that help them solve and prevent crime with the rights of law abiding citizens. For that reason, I intend to file the first legislation to ban current Flock camera programs. Bad guys aren't bound by our county lines, nor should law enforcement's ability to catch them. We need a statewide approach to keeping communities safe and statewide restrictions on the technology used to aid law enforcement. We must also address Floridians' rights to due process, privacy and personal data protection as a matter policy and fiscal responsibility when assessing any potential technology moving forward."

Jason Brodeur serves as President Pro Tempore of the Florida Senate and represents Senate District 10. A longtime Seminole County resident, local business owner, and former member of the Florida House of Representatives, Brodeur has built a record of turning Central Florida's priorities into action. He has delivered results to protect Florida's water and natural resources, strengthen public safety, expand access to health care, support small businesses, and bring critical funding home to Seminole and Orange counties. Brodeur continues to work across the aisle to solve problems and improve the quality of life for the families and communities he represents.
