3. Date of Request 03/01/2021

4. Project/Program Description

Home Instruction for Parents of Preschool Youngsters (HIPPY) which is housed at the University of South Florida is a free parent involvement, school readiness program that helps parents prepare their two, three, four, and five-year old children for success in school and in life. HIPPY helps parents empower themselves as their children's first teacher by giving them the tools, skills, and confidence they need to work with their children at home. Results from Florida HIPPY research and evaluation studies consistently demonstrated that participation in HIPPY made a positive difference in the lives of parents and children. The HIPPY curriculum exposes children to early literacy skills such as: phonological and phonemic awareness, letter recognition, book knowledge, and early writing experiences. In addition, the curriculum fosters social/emotional and physical (fine and gross motor skills) development.

a. What specific purpose or goal will be achieved by the funds requested?

he funds being requested will allow the Florida HIPPPY Training & Technical Assistance Center to manage the delivery of the Home Instruction for Parents of Preschool Youngsters (HIPPPY) to 1,000 children in Florida. This level of HIPPPY funding has been provided by the Legislature since FY 2014-2015 (with the exception of FY 17-18) and if it is not provided again in FY 2021-22, it will result in over 500 fewer families receiving HIPPPY services than in prior years. The purpose of HIPPPY is to partner with parents to prepare their children ages two to five for school. Although HIPPPY targets families at risk due to parental poverty and low education, a diverse sample of families from all socioeconomic levels is represented in the HIPPPY population.

b. What activities and services will be provided to meet the intended purpose of these funds?
