Established in 1992, Brehon House is transitional housing in Tallahassee that provides safe and secure housing for homeless, pregnant women and their infants. Services are at no cost to the residents. The women are permitted to bring children three years and younger to live with them. The women and children are provided a stable, nurturing, safe and loving environment.

Brehon House can accommodate six women plus their newborns and toddlers at any given time. The residents much be at least 18 years or older, pregnant at the time of their enrollment, currently homeless or living in a dangerous environment from which they wish to escape, have no criminal history that would pose a danger to themselves or others and be willing to abide by house rules.

Brehon House has welcomed more than 600 homeless, pregnant women and children to Brehon House. Here they can complete their education, receive job training, and learn to care for themselves and their children.
