13. Program Performance

Services/Study

a. What specific purpose or goal will be achieved by the funds requested?

Workforce readiness of FDC inmates with guided effort to prepare them for quality careers in high demand fields that are essential to Florida's economic growth and need. This will include both CTE curriculums as well as literacy and academic progress, with focus on attaining high school diplomas, as opposed to a GED, for those that lack them currently as this can increase their earning potential post release by up to 50%.

b. What activities and services will be provided to meet the intended purpose of these funds?

work with students at FDC facilities

LFIR # 1641

As proved in previous pilots with FDC, students will engage in learning through virtual reality headsets in career oriented curriculums that allow them to attain nationally recognized credentials in high demand skilled labor fields. Virtual Reality CTE coursework will vary from construction fields to emerging technology and CDL programming. Adult phonics and Ability to Benefit programming ensures these students have access to Pell funding (Workforce Pell will be implemented in 2026 after passage in the Big Beautiful Bill passed in 2025) but will also lead students to attainment of a High School Diploma.

<ul> <li>a. Name of the natural disaster (or Executive Order # for events not under a federal declaration):</li> </ul>	a	High School Diploma.
d. Who is the target population served by this project? How many individuals are expected to be served?  500 individuals who are currently incarcerated by the Florida Department of Corrections will participate in the prograe. What is the expected benefit or outcome of this project? What is the methodology by which this outcome be measured?  As in prior pilots conducted by FDC with Promising People, the number of nationally recognized career credentials attained will be measured as well as high school diplomas earned for those that lack them. The combination of a hig school diploma and these nationally recognized career certifications will enable these individuals to find employment post release and therefore reduce the likelihood of them recidivating reducing the burden of the state to have to incarcerate them in the future. Florida's economy currently badly needs the type of workforce this program will create f. What are the suggested penalties that the contracting agency may consider in addition to its standard pen for failing to meet deliverables or performance measures provided for in the contract?  Loss of future contracting ability.  4. Is this project related to mitigation, response, or recovery from a natural disaster? No  a. If Yes, what phase best describes the project?
