I. SUMMARY:

This bill is a result of a 1997 State Government Function/Activity Review Interim Project directive to identify obsolete or incorrect statutory language relating to transportation issues. As such, the bill removes obsolete language, corrects cross references, and otherwise, makes a number of technical, but important, changes to certain existing transportation laws. These changes are accomplished through revising, reenacting, and amending various relevant provisions of existing Florida law.

The bill has no substantive or fiscal impact since the changes are technical in nature.

II. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS:

A. PRESENT SITUATION:

On November 17, 1997, the Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives directed House committees to perform several activities relating to the State Agency Function/Activity Review and Prioritization Project. Statutory provisions relating to the operations of Department of Transportation (DOT) were reviewed to determine whether they were consistent with the agency's mission.

As part of the project, staff was instructed to identify statutes that are obsolete or in need of technical revision. During the review several statutory provisions were found to have incorrect and obsolete references.

In January 1998, a report was issued in response to the Speaker's directive for the House Committee on Transportation. As part of the Transportation Committee's report, a proposed committee bill was prepared to make technical changes to the state statutes governing transportation issues. During the 1998 Session, the proposed committee bill became House Bill 4199 and was passed by the House, but died on the Senate Calendar.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

HB 591 (PCB TR 99-02) revises, reenacts, and amends various provisions of the Florida Statutes relating to transportation to delete obsolete language, to correct cross-references, to make grammatical corrections, and to make other technical changes to the state statutes governing transportation issues.

Because the changes are technical in nature, the bill has no substantive impact. This bill contains the same provisions as HB 4199 from the 1998 Session except that certain sections have been deleted where the technical corrections were made in legislation that did become law in 1998.

For detailed descriptions of the technical changes, see the "Section-by-Section Analysis" below.

C. APPLICATION OF PRINCIPLES:

1. Less Government:

a. Does the bill create, increase or reduce, either directly or indirectly:
