B. PRESENT SITUATION:

Section 120.536(1), F.S., of the Administrative Procedure Act, provides that: "a grant of rulemaking authority is necessary, but not sufficient to allow an agency to adopt a rule; specific law to be implemented is also required. An agency may only adopt rules that implement or interpret the specific, powers and duties granted by the enabling statute."

In an effort to ensure compliance with the Administrative Procedure Act, s. 120.536(2)(b), F.S., states that each agency shall provide to the Administrative Procedures Committee, rules or partial rules that were adopted by June 18, 1999, which exceed rulemaking authority. Furthermore, under this section, the Legislature is to, during the 2000 Session, consider whether legislation authorizing the rules should be enacted. Lastly, by January 1, 2001, the agencies are to repeal each rule or portion of a rule that exceeds rulemaking authority.

The Department of Environmental Protection has identified Rule 62C-52.008(2)(e), F.A.C., as exceeding statutory authority. This rule states that the department is to provide appropriate corrective action to prevent the spread of noxious or prohibited aquatic plants, including requiring revegetation of a site in sovereign lands where excessive collection has occurred.

Presently s. 369.25, F.S., which sets forth the department's enforcement powers, does not include revegetation of a site where excessive collection has occurred and therefore, this rule exceeds current rulemaking authority.

C. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Section 369.25(3), F.S., is amended to provide the authority for the department to adopt rules requiring revegetation of a site on sovereignty lands where excessive collection has occurred, so that 62C-52.008(2)(e), F.A.C., would no longer be in violation of rulemaking authority.
