B. PRESENT SITUATION:

Abandoned Newborns

Chapter 2000-213, Laws of Florida, provided a process for the abandonment of newborns at designated locations under certain circumstances.

Section 39.201, F.S., provides procedures and requirements for reporting calls to the central abuse hotline related to abandoned newborns. Section 63.0423, F.S., relating to abandoned newborns, provides a process by which a person can anonymously, and with limited amnesty from criminal prosecution, abandon a newborn infant at a fire station or hospital. This law provides a streamlined process for the acceptance, emergency treatment, transfer of custody, termination of parental rights and adoption in cases of unclaimed abandoned newborn infants which bypasses involvement by the Department of Children and Family Services unless there is evidence of actual or suspected child abuse or neglect. This section also established the responsibilities and duties for fire stations, hospitals, licensed child-placing agencies, and the Department of Children and Family Services in the process for handling an abandoned newborn infant.

Subsections 383.50(1), (3), (5), (6), and (9), F.S., provide for the treatment of abandoned newborns left at hospitals and fire stations. These sections authorize acceptance of abandoned newborns by firefighters or emergency medical technicians.

Section 827.035, F.S. provides that if a parent leaves a newborn infant at a hospital or fire station or brings the infant to an emergency room and expresses an intent to leave the infant and not return the act shall not constitute neglect of a child or contributing to the dependency of a child.

In many rural counties of Florida, there are no hospitals, and volunteers staff the county fire departments. By contrast, each county has at least one full-time emergency medical service provider, which has at least one station staffed 24 hours a day. Paramedics often operate these stations. Paramedics have a higher level of medical training than emergency medical technicians and firefighters but are not currently included in the statute as personnel authorized to accept the abandoned newborns.

Provision of Medical Services by Nonmedical Assistive Personnel in Schools

Subsection 232.465(2), F.S., authorizes nonmedical assistive personnel to perform health-related services upon successful completion of child-specific training by a registered nurse, a licensed practical nurse, a physician licensed pursuant to chapter 458 or chapter 459, or a physician assistant licensed pursuant to chapter 458 or chapter 459. Non-invasive procedures are specified. The nurse must monitor all procedures periodically. For all other invasive medical procedures not listed, a registered nurse, a licensed practical nurse, a physician licensed pursuant to chapter 458 or chapter 459 must determine if nonmedical school district personnel must be allowed to perform such service.

Background Screening Requirements for School Health Services Personnel

Section 381.0059, F.S., provides background screening requirements for any person who provides services under a school health services plan as follows:

Paragraph (1)(a) requires any person who provides services under certain school health plans to complete level 2 screening as provided in chapter 435, F.S. Authorizes an alternate screening approval pursuant to s. 435.04, F.S., if conducted within the previous 12 months. Provides for probationary period pending level 2 screening results.

Paragraph (1)(b) establishes the requirements for conducting a level 2 screening.

Paragraph (1)(c) relates to the payment of fees for level 2 screening.

Paragraph (2)(a) relates to disqualification of persons providing services.

Paragraph (2)(b) authorizes the Department of Health to grant an exemption from disqualification to individuals who have not received a professional license or certification from the Department of Health.

Paragraph (2)(c) provides additional authorization to the Department of Health to grant exemptions from disqualification to individuals who have received a professional license or certification from the Department of Health.

Subsection (3) provides for disqualification of an individual who refuses to cooperate in such screening or refuses to submit information necessary to complete the screening.

Subsection (4) establishes that under the penalty of perjury, each person who provides such services must attest to meeting the level 2 screening requirements and must agree to inform the Department of Health immediately if convicted of any disqualifying offense while providing such services.

Subsection (5) specifies that a "person who provides such services under a school health services plan" does not include an unpaid volunteer who lectures students in group settings on health education topics.

Vital Statistics

Subsection 382.003(6), F.S., authorizes the Department of Health to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of law and requires all local registrars of Vital Statistics to assist the department in such investigations. Requires the department, when necessary, to report such cases to the appropriate state attorney's office.

The Office of Vital Statistics receives reports from hospitals, physicians, funeral homes, Clerks of Court, and the general public. Over time due to statutory changes and changes in technology some of the provisions of subsection 382.003(10), F.S., relating to receipt and processing of records, have become outdated or need clarification.

Subsection 382.003(10), F.S., also authorizes the department to adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules necessary for the issuance, recording, maintenance, and processing of vital records and for carrying out the provisions of specified statutes.

Subsection 382.004(1), F.S., requires the department to photograph, microphotograph, reproduce on film, or by electronic means vital records in exact conformity to the original record.

Subsection 382.004(2), F.S., authorizes the department to destroy original vital records after they have been photographed or reproduced in exact conformity with the original record.

Subsection 382.013(1), F.S., provides procedures for amendment of records upon the receipt of fees, for records amended on the basis of specified documentary evidence. Provides for exemption from the necessity of a court order for amendment to death certificate for specified reasons.

Paragraph 382.013(2)(c), F.S., provides that if the mother is not married at the time of birth the name of the father may not be entered on the birth certificate without the execution of a consenting affidavit signed by both the mother and the father. Provides that the facility must give notice to the mother and the person to be named as the father as to the benefits of voluntarily establishing paternity and information provided by the Title IV-D agency. Provides that the notice must include certain specified information. Requires that, upon request of the mother and the person to be named as the father, the facility must provide assistance in executing the affidavit.

Subsections 382.016(2) and (3), F.S., establishes the requirements related to certificate of live birth amendments. These paragraphs contain outdated language. The Child Support Enforcement Office in the Department of Revenue no longer requires an affidavit (which must be notarized) for such acknowledgements.

Subsection 382.016(4), F.S., provides the procedure for the issuance of a substitute new certificate of birth for an original certificate.

Paragraph 382.0255(1)(h), F.S., authorizes departmental fees relating to vital records as determined by rule.

Establishment of Paternity

Section 742.10(1) and (3), FS., provide for the establishment of paternity for children born out of wedlock.

Child Abuse Death Review

Paragraph 383.402(3)(c), F.S., requires the State Child Abuse Death Review Committee to prepare an annual statistical report on the incidence and cause of death resulting from child abuse in the state during the previous calendar year. The report is required to be submitted to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by September 30 of each year.

Pediatric Tumor Data Collection

Section 385.206(5), F.S., authorizes the Department of Health to annually evaluate data from the Florida Association of Pediatric Tumor Programs, Inc. According to the department, this language is outdated as the department is able to obtain this data through other means.

Tuberculosis Control

The A. G. Holley Tuberculosis Hospital is administered by the Department of Health and authorized by section 393.62, F.S., to treat patients with active tuberculosis. The patients referred to the hospital have proven difficult to treat in the community and are frequently suffering from a variety of other health related problems. Half of the patients admitted to the hospital are functionally incompetent to consent to treatment and require a guardian.

As provided in chapter 744, F.S., a guardianship is a legal proceeding in the courts in which a guardian is appointed by the court to exercise the legal rights of an incapacitated person. A guardian of the person makes decisions and takes action regarding the well being of the incapacitated. The guardian of the property is responsible for managing the property/assets of the incapacitated person. At times, treatment at A. G. Holley must be delayed until a guardian can be appointed through the process provided in chapter 744, F.S.

Appointment of an emergency temporary guardian typically must occur before treatment can begin; however, it requires 5 to 10 days to complete and only remains in effect for 60 days. The authority of an emergency temporary guardian expires 60 days after the appointment, but may be extended for an additional 30 days upon a showing that the emergency condition still exists.

If the need for guardianship extends beyond the 90 days, the court to examine the patient and make a determination on the patient's competency must convene an examining committee from the medical community. If the committee recommends a limited or full guardianship, the process takes approximately 6 to 8 weeks and the hospital must return to court for a hearing on the appointment of that guardian.

Currently, the vast majority of A. G. Holley patients are recommended for a limited guardianship over decisions related to medical treatment, financial matters, and discharge planning. The appointment of the guardian remains in effect even after the patient is released to the home community, unless the patient has returned to full capacity as determined by a physician. Discharge of a guardian requires approval of the court.

Florida Emergency Medical Services Grant Act

Paragraph 401.113(2)(b), F.S., authorizes 40 percent of the moneys appropriated to the Emergency Medical Trust fund be used by the department to make matching grants to local agencies, municipalities, and emergency medical services organizations for the purposes of conducting research, increasing existing levels of emergency medical services, evaluation, community education, and training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation and other lifesavings and first aid techniques.

Emergency Medical Services Personnel

Subsection 401.27(5), F.S., establishes the requirements for the department to offer monthly certification examinations for emergency medical technicians and paramedics. Creation of new exams typically cost approximately $500 per question. Currently, when a lawsuit is filed the certification examinations can become part of the court record during the lawsuit. Typically, profession and certification examinations are exempt from discovery in a law suit, including the following: subsection 445.229(2), F.S., relating to Business and Professional Regulations; and subsection 456.041(2), F.S., relating to Health Professions.

Environmental Radiation Standards and Programs

Subsection 404.056(2), F.S., establishes the Florida Coordinating Council on Radon Protection and provides for its membership, organization, and responsibilities.

Subsection 404.056(5), F.S., requires radon testing for specified facilities. The testing is required to be completed within specified times during construction and reports provided to the department by July 1 of the year the building is opened for occupancy. Follow-up testing is required, subject to specified conditions. Requires initial testing of fill soil where such soil is required for the construction of a regulated building and submission requirements of the results of such testing to the department.

During the period between 1988-1995, the Florida Radon Research Program studied fill soil testing as a predictor of elevated radon potential. Results showed that many other construction parameters such as foundation construction details, ventilation system construction and behavior, and native soils were the leading indicator of elevated radon potential were better predictors of elevated radon potential than fill soil. In addition, fill soil parameters were rejected as a predictor when it was discovered that fill soil parameters were unreliable and not cost effective.

Palm Beach County Health Care District

The Palm Beach County Health Care District was created in 1987 by chapter 87-450, Laws of Florida, as amended by chapter 91-344, 96-509, and 2000-489, Laws of Florida. The purpose of creating the health district was to provide a source of funding for indigent and medically needy residents of Palm Beach County and to maximize the health and well being of Palm Beach County residents by providing comprehensive planning, funding, and coordination of health care service delivery. During the 2000 legislative session the district was authorized to plan, coordinate, supervise, manage, and take such other action as appropriate to implement school health programs as established by the health care district. Currently, with the exception of the Palm Beach County Health Care District, all school health programs must comply with sections 831.056 – 381.0059, F.S., relating to school health services.

Kidney Disease Education Program

Section 385.205, F.S., provides the Department of Health's responsibilities with regard to the patient education services and coordination of employment rehabilitation activities for Florida's renal population.

Patient education is made available through six regional patient education conferences, the distribution of educational materials through physicians' and renal facilities, and quarterly patient newsletters. Five patient education conferences were held in 1999-2000. Four rehabilitation and employment seminars were held in 1999-2000. A total of 550 patients, family members, and professionals attended these conferences. Total funding for 1999-2000 was $200,000. In 1999-2000, 507 patients applied to participate in the Renal Employment Program and 104 found full or part-time work after referrals to Vocational Rehabilitation or other rehabilitation agencies.

Comments by the Committee on Judicial Oversight

The bill as filed contained provisions that provided for a guardian advocate for certain tuberculosis patients, which provisions were modeled after the guardian advocate provisions in ch. 394, F.S. Amendment 2, which is traveling with this bill, removes the guardian advocate provisions, but adds other provisions that conflict with normal guardianship practice. That amendment further provides that a physician at the A.G. Holley Tuberculosis Hospital has the discretion to order any medical treatment for any illness that the physician deems necessary to treatment of the tuberculosis, before a guardian of the person is appointed. Amendment 2 also contains a sentence with drafting errors at page 2, lines 3-7.

VI. AMENDMENTS OR COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE CHANGES:

On March 6, 2001, the Committee on Health Promotion adopted the following amendments:

Amendment 1 [page 10, line 19 through page 12, line 29]: corrects a drafting error; expands documents acceptable for establishment of paternity; provides an exception for requiring an order for release of certain documents; and provides a procedure for subsequent issuance of certain amended birth certificates.

Amendment 2 [page 16, line 9 through page 19, line 18]: provides for court ordered treatment for certain tuberculosis patients and provides for appointment of a limited guardian for certain patients.

Amendments 3 and 4 [page 22, lines 27 and 30]: inserts the word "notarized" before the phrase "voluntary notice of paternity."

Amendment 5 [page 23, line 11]: retains reference to s. 382.016, F.S., as currently found in statute.

Amendment 6 [page 24, lines 1-19]: requires any school health care program to comply with certain statutes relating to state school health standards.

The bill was then reported favorably with six amendments.

On March 20, 2001, the Committee on Judicial Oversight adopted five amendments:

Amendment 7 deletes section 12 from the bill, thus maintaining funding for the Pediatric Tumor Program.

Amendment 8 removes section 21 from the bill, thus maintaining funding for the Kidney Disease Education Program.

Amendment 9 amends Amendment 1 to remove language that would have allowed the Bureau of Vital Statistics to administratively examine and approve a parent's request for name change for a child without a court order.

Amendment 10 amends Amendment 1 to remove language regarding access to birth records that may have had the unintended effect of opening up some sealed adoption records.

Amendment 11 was withdrawn.

Amendment 12 adds a section to the bill regarding consent to medical care for minors. A minor cannot consent to medical procedures; a parent or legal guardian must consent on behalf of the minor child. Under current law, the parent or legal guardian of a minor child may execute a written power of attorney by which a caretaker of the minor child is authorized to consent to medical care for the minor child. Current law is unclear whether such a power of attorney gives legal authority to consent to surgical treatment. This amendment provides that a written consent for medical treatment regarding a minor includes the right of the caretaker to consent to surgical procedures and anesthesia.

The bill was then reported favorably, as amended.
