Section 1. Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature to establish policies designed to stimulate economic activity in this state and promote the economic security of the residents of this state. The need to retain and create jobs in this state in the current economic environment is great. A significant investment of state funds in reemployment and retraining programs is essential to economic recovery in this state. The state should invest in Training agreements may not be continued with employers who demonstrate a pattern of failing to provide participants with employment. The Agency for Workforce Innovation and its controlling board, Workforce Florida, Inc., shall have power and authority over the use of economic-recovery training funds pursuant to this act and such funds shall be expended in accordance with the provisions of chapter 445, Florida Statutes.
