SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Florida Pregnancy Support Services Program (FPSSP), was established in 2005, to provide supportive counseling and services to pregnant women and their families that promote and encourage childbirth. Under contract with the Department of Health (DOH), Florida Pregnancy Care Network, Inc., manages a network of pregnancy help centers that offer services such as pregnancy testing, counseling, education and training, and referrals to state, community, and medical resources.

The program was created by proviso in 2005, and has received annual appropriations since 2006. The bill codifies the program and defines program requirements.

The bill requires DOH to contract with the Florida Pregnancy Care Network, Inc., (FPCN), to provide contract management services for the delivery of pregnancy support and wellness services to eligible clients. The contract must:

- Limit the amount of funds that may be used for administration costs;
- Require all paid staff or volunteers of a provider to undergo a background screening if they provide direct services to minors, elderly individuals, or individuals who have a disability;
- Require FPCN to monitor its subcontractors annually, and establish sanctions for noncompliance;
- Require FPCN to only subcontract with providers that solely promote and support childbirth;
- Require informational materials provided to eligible clients be current and accurate, and the reference source of any medical statements made in such materials be made available to eligible clients; and
- Define the contract deliverables, including financial reports and other reports due DOH.

The bill requires that any services provided under FPSSP be provided in a manner that is non-coercive, and may not include any religious content.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Present Situation

Florida Pregnancy Support Services Program

The Florida Pregnancy Support Services Program (FPSSP) was created in 2005, to encourage women to carry their pregnancies to term, and increase awareness of non-abortion counseling options, such as parenting or adoption.¹ The program, through a network of private pregnancy support centers, provides services to pregnant women (or women who suspect they are pregnant) and their families at no charge, which may continue for 12 months after the birth of the child. Interested women may be connected to a local participating center by accessing a free helpline via telephone, text, or email. The services provided include:

- Free pregnancy testing;
- Abortion education;
- Alternatives to abortion;
- Education and training;
- Counseling; and
- Referrals to state, community, and medical resources.²

Currently, the Department of Health (DOH) contracts with the Florida Pregnancy Care Network, Inc. (FPCN), to manage subcontracts with the direct service providers throughout the state that provide the services listed above, as well as an operational call center.³ The network consists of 74 Florida pregnancy resource organizations or pregnancy centers.⁴

Under the contract with DOH, a participating provider must:

- Be an established pregnancy organization with a fully functioning pregnancy support program in existence for at least one year;
- Be recognized as tax-exempt under IRS Code 501(c)(3);
- Have a primary mission to promote life-affirming decisions among its clients;
- Provide FPSSP services in a manner that is non-coercive and does not include religious content;
- Offer pregnancy tests and counseling for women who are pregnant or suspect they are pregnant, and seek FPSSP services voluntarily;
- Have a board that hires and oversees a director who implements board policy and manages the organization's operations;
- Maintain a system of financial accountability consistent with generally accepted accounting principles;
- Have board members, directors, employees, and volunteers participate in continuing education, as necessary, in order to effectively perform their duties;
- Not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, age, or marital status;
- Provide services that are confidential, nonjudgmental, and free of charge;

- Make available support information, education, and counseling to women, their partners, and their families to solely promote and support childbirth and to assist them in decisions regarding adoption or parenting; and
- Must complete FPSSP training.⁵

Under the contract, providers may only be reimbursed for the face-to-face services that they provide to eligible clients. Providers are paid $60 per hour for face-to-face services and are reimbursed $1.50 for each pregnancy test provided to a FPSSP client.⁶ Payment is provided monthly through the submission of a properly completed invoice and monthly report.⁷ Providers are also responsible for submitting quarterly (including financial reports) and final reports addressing operations for FPSSP during the contract period.

The FPSSP operates a 24-hour toll free number that offers referrals to local pregnancy centers, as well as a text hotline, to which an individual may text the word “choices,” for assistance. Assistance is also available by e-mail.⁸

In Fiscal Year 2015-2016, the FPSSP served 24,184 clients, provided 120,929 services, and handled 5,756 phone calls to its helpline. From July 2016 through December 2016, the FPSSP has served 14,001 clients, provided 67,028 services, and handled 2,596 phone calls to its hotline.

When FPSSP was established, DOH received an initial annual appropriation of $2 million in proviso language in the General Appropriations Act to establish and operate the FPSSP.⁹ DOH has annually received funding for the operation of the FPSSP in the proviso of the annual appropriations bill. In Fiscal Year 2016-2017, the FPSSP received an appropriation of $4 million and was authorized, in proviso, to provide wellness services, including but not limited to, high blood pressure screening, flu vaccines, anemia testing, thyroid screening, cholesterol screening, diabetes screening, assistance with smoking cessation, and tetanus vaccines.¹⁰ Such wellness services may be offered through vouchers or other arrangements that allow the purchase of services from qualified providers. DOH and FPSSP executed a contract amendment in February 2017, to incorporate the new services.¹¹

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill creates s. 381.96, F.S., to codify the Florida Pregnancy Support Services Program (FPSSP) in Florida Statutes. The bill establishes eligibility for the program for pregnant women (or women who suspect they are pregnant) who voluntarily seek pregnancy support and wellness services, and their families. The family of a pregnant woman or a woman who suspects she is pregnant is also eligible to receive services. Eligibility continues for up to 12 months after the birth of the child.

The bill codifies services to be provided under the program including pregnancy support services and wellness services. Pregnancy support services, as defined in the bill, are services that promote and encourage childbirth, including direct client services, program awareness activities, and communication activities. Wellness services, as defined by the bill, are services or activities intended to maintain and improve health or prevent illness and injury, including but not limited to flu and tetanus vaccines,
