COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

SB 610 makes two changes to the statutes regarding limited liability corporations, business corporations, not-for profit corporations, and limited partnerships.

The bill requires the Department of State (department) to notify an entity or its authorized representative of the filing of a record either by email address or mailing address. If the filing changes the email address, the department must send the notification to the new email address and the most recent prior email address. If the filing changes the mailing address, the department must send the notification to the new mailing address and to the most recent prior mailing address.

The bill authorizes an entity to correct a business filing within 30 days after the filing if the record contains false, misleading, or fraudulent information. The fees will be waived if a statement of correction is delivered to the department within 15 days of the entity being notified of the filing.

The department will incur costs to implement the requirements of this bill. However, the amount of costs are unknown at this time because the department has not provided such information.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2018.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Department of State

The Florida Department of State (department) consists of six divisions: the Division of Elections; Division of Historical Resources; Division of Library and Information Services; Division of Cultural Affairs; Division of Administration; and Division of Corporations.¹

The Division of Corporations (division) maintains a registry for recording and retrieving commercial information that is filed or registered with the department.² In total, the division maintains more than eight million records, including a variety of business entity filings such as articles of incorporation or other forms of business entity organization, annual reports, trade and service mark registrations, judgment lien filings, and fictitious name registrations.³ The division determines whether submitted filings and forms meet the pertinent statutory requirements and then records and indexes those filings in its database of records.⁴ This database is publicly available, as are all documents filed with the department.⁵ As of November 1, 2017, the division began sending e-mail notifications to business entities upon its receipt and filing of certain types of business entity filings.^{6,7}

Business Identity Theft

Business identity theft is the impersonation of a business, or one of its owners, employees, or officers, with the intent to defraud or to make illicit gain to the detriment of the business.⁸ One common business identity theft scheme is to make fraudulent filings with the department of State that change the address of the business or name of its officers.⁹ This allows the identity thieves to open new lines of credit in the business' name without its knowledge because information is mailed to the thieves' name and address rather than to the business.

Several states provide informational resources or heightened monitoring to help prevent business identity theft:

- Maine has a monitoring program that emails an enrolled business each time a filing is made under its name;¹⁰
- Nevada’s Secretary of State may investigate fraudulent business filings and administratively prosecute those who fraudulently file such documents;¹¹
- Colorado provides a secure business filing portal, which requires a password to file business documents;¹² and
- California’s Secretary of State provides a resource guide for businesses.¹³

A business may also protect itself from identity theft by monitoring its credit profile through one of the national credit bureaus and by periodically reviewing its business filings on the appropriate state portal.

In Florida, cases of business identity theft can be prosecuted under s. 817.568, F.S. Identity theft is punishable by a third degree felony up to a first degree felony, depending on the presence of aggravating circumstances, including the number of victims harmed and the pecuniary value amassed by the perpetrator.¹⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill makes two changes to the statutes regarding limited liability corporations, business corporations, not-for profit corporations, and limited partnerships.

The bill requires the department to notify an entity or its authorized representative of the filing of a record either by email address or by sending a copy of the document to the entity’s or representative’s mailing address. If the filing changes the email address, the department must send the notification to the new email address and the most recent prior email address. If the filing changes the mailing address, the department must send the notification to the new mailing address and to the most recent prior mailing address. Further, for limited liability corporations, corporations, and not-for-profit corporations, the department will no longer be required to send a certified copy of the document to the entity or its representative. - A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

Recommended CS by Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation, Tourism, and Economic Development on December 7, 2017:

The committee substitute removes the new requirement of the department to develop and offer a business filing monitoring service, and instead:

- Requires the department, upon receipt of a record, to send a notice to the entity's or authorized representative's email address on file with the department. The CS creates specific requirements if the filing changes the email address or mailing address of the entity, and eliminates the requirement to send certified copies of documents to the entity or its representative.
- Authorizes an entity to correct a filed record if it contains false, misleading, or fraudulent information. The correction is not subject to any department fees if the correction is delivered to the department within 15 days of notification of the filing to the entity.

- B. Amendments:

None.
