344 specified information to the party authorized to receive such 345 information.

346 5. The exemptions in this paragraph apply to information 347 held by an agency before, on, or after the effective date of the 348 exemption.

2019248er

349 6. This paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset
350 Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed
351 on October 2, 2024, unless reviewed and saved from repeal
352 through reenactment by the Legislature.

353 Section 2. (1) The Legislature finds that it is a public 354 necessity to define the term "home addresses" for purposes of 355 the public records exemptions for agency personnel information
356 under s. 119.071(4)(d), Florida Statutes. The public records
357 exemptions for agency personnel information protect identifying 358 and location information of numerous types of personnel,
359 including, but not limited to, current or former law enforcement 360 officers, investigative personnel, state attorneys and 361 prosecutors, public defenders, guardians ad litem, Supreme Court 362 justices, various judges, and the spouses and children of such 363 personnel. The Legislature has previously recognized that such 364 personnel and their family members are at a heightened risk of 365 physical and emotional harm from disgruntled individuals who 366 have contentious reactions to actions taken by such personnel, 367 or whose business or professional practices have come under 368 scrutiny of such personnel, and, as a result, has enacted 369 various public records exemptions. While home addresses of such 370 personnel and their family members are already exempt from s.
371 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the 372 State Constitution, the current exemptions do not provide 373 protection for various forms of descriptive property information
374 that may be used on its own, or in conjunction with other 375 information, to reveal the home addresses that otherwise should 376 be protected from public disclosure. Therefore, the Legislature 377 finds that it is a public necessity to specifically define the

378 term "home addresses" so that the safety and privacy of various 379 personnel and their family members are not compromised.

380 (2) The Legislature further finds that it is a public 381 necessity that the home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of 382 birth, and photographs of active or former civilian personnel
383 employed by a law enforcement agency; the names, home addresses, 384 telephone numbers, photographs, dates of birth, and places of 385 employment of the spouses and children of such personnel; and 386 the names and locations of schools and day care facilities
387 attended by the children of such personnel be exempt from public 388 records requirements. Existing law already provides that the 389 identifying and location information of active or former 390 civilian law enforcement personnel and their spouses and 391 children are exempt from public records requirements. The 392 amendment made by this act further specifies that any active or 393 former civilian personnel employed by a law enforcement agency
394 and their spouses and children are entitled to the protections
395 of the public records exemption. The civilian personnel of law 396 enforcement agencies perform a variety of important duties that 397 ensure public safety and welfare and encourage safe and secure
398 communities. As a result of such duties, these civilian 399 personnel often come into close contact with individuals who not 400 only may be a threat to those personnel, but who might also seek 401 to take revenge against them by harming their spouses and 402 children. The Legislature finds that modifying the public
403 records exemption to apply to all active or former civilian
404 personnel employed by a law enforcement agency and their spouses 405 and children will serve the public interest by further ensuring 406 the safety of such personnel.

Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2019.
