COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

---

I. Summary:

CS/SB 656 authorizes a law enforcement officer to execute a warrantless arrest on a minor who unlawfully possesses a firearm.

More specifically, the bill permits an officer to execute a warrantless arrest for a violation of s. 790.22(3), F.S., which makes it a first degree misdemeanor for a minor who is:

- At least 16 years of age to possess a firearm unless he or she is hunting or target shooting.
- Less than 16 years of age to possess a firearm unless he or she is hunting or target shooting and is supervised by an adult.

However, s. 790.22(3), F.S., expressly does not prohibit any minor from possessing an unloaded firearm at home or when traveling to or from hunting or target practice.

A warrantless arrest authorized by the bill will remain subject to the constitutional limits on warrantless arrests of a person in his or her home.

The bill is effective October 1, 2020.

II. Present Situation:

News articles have reported a number of recent incidents in which children and teens have been killed with a firearm. Recently, in south Miami-Dade, teens were playing with a firearm when a 15-year-old fired a shot that killed two of his friends with one bullet.<sup>1</sup> In Jacksonville, during a short period of time in 2018, two 7-year-old children died in separate incidents when they were caught in the crossfire of open-air gun battles; a 16-year-old was charged with murder in the point-blank shooting of a 19-year-old after a high school football game; and then a 17-year-old high school student was critically wounded in a drive-by shooting while he waited to catch a school bus.<sup>2</sup> In a Broward County classroom, someone pointed a handgun at unsuspecting students. The act was captured on video and posted on a 16-year-old boy's social media account with a caption asking whether to "carry my pistol with me like last year" just before the 2019-20 school year started. He was later arrested.<sup>3</sup> Finally, the escalating levels of arrests for violent crime among young offenders has led Leon County prosecutors to seek adult penalties for young repeat offenders.<sup>4</sup>

Section 790.22, F.S.

Section 790.22(3), F.S., prohibits a minor under the age of 18 from possessing a firearm, other than an unloaded firearm at his or her home. The exceptions to this general prohibition are limited to circumstances where:

- The minor is engaged in a lawful hunting activity and is at least 16 years of age; or is under 16 years of age and supervised by an adult;
- The minor is engaged in a lawful marksmanship competition or practice or other lawful recreational shooting activity and is at least 16 years of age; or under 16 years of age and supervised by an adult who is acting with the consent of the minor's parent or guardian; or
- The firearm is unloaded and is being transported by the minor directly to or from an event described above.<sup>5</sup>

Section 790.22, F.S., as one court has stated, was "designed to get the immediate attention of all juveniles and to issue a 'wake-up call' that the state deems their firearm offenses to be serious enough to warrant the automatic deprivation of their liberty for a period of time, even on a first offense. Its intent clearly is to have a deterrent effect to hopefully prevent the juvenile's escalation into the adult criminal justice system."<sup>6</sup> As such, s. 790.22, F.S., contains a continuum of consequences for juveniles within the juvenile justice system, and their parents or guardians potentially in the criminal justice system, tailored to have a deterrent effect.

Arrest without an Arrest Warrant

Under s. 901.15, F.S., a law enforcement officer may arrest a person without an arrest warrant under any of a list of circumstances. The first four of these circumstances are relatively broad, in that they do not reference a particular crime as a basis for the arrest:

- The person has committed a felony or misdemeanor or violated a local ordinance in the officer's presence; however, the arrest for a misdemeanor or local ordinance must be made immediately or in fresh pursuit.
- A felony has been committed, and the officer reasonably believes the person committed it.
- The officer reasonably believes that a felony has been or is being committed, and that the person has committed or is committing it.
- A warrant for the arrest has been issued and is held by another officer for execution.<sup>22</sup>

From there, the list continues with twelve relatively particular circumstances, often referencing particular crimes, under which an officer may arrest a person without an arrest warrant. These include circumstances in which an officer has probable cause to believe the person being arrested has committed:

- A violation of an injunction for protection against domestic violence, dating violence, sexual violence, repeat violence, exploitation of a vulnerable adult or a foreign protection order.<sup>23</sup>
- An act of domestic violence or dating violence.<sup>24</sup>
- Child abuse or luring or enticing a child for unlawful purposes.<sup>25</sup>
- Battery.<sup>26</sup>
- Criminal mischief or graffiti-related offenses.<sup>27</sup>
- Violation of a safety zone, security zone, regulated navigation area, or naval vessel protection zone.<sup>28</sup>
- A racing violation.<sup>29</sup>
- An act that violates a condition of pretrial release when the original arrest was for an act of domestic violence or dating violence.<sup>30</sup>
- Trespass in a posted secure area of an airport.<sup>31</sup>
- Assault upon a law enforcement officer, a firefighter, an emergency medical care provider, public transit employee or agent, or other specified officer who is engaged in the lawful performance of his or her duties.<sup>32</sup>

<sup>22</sup> Section 901.15(1), (2), (3), and (4), F.S. Also, a law enforcement officer who witnesses a violation of ch. 316, F.S. (State Uniform Traffic Control), may relay that information to another officer who can then make the arrest when reasonable and proper identification of the vehicle and the violation has been communicated to the arresting officer. ### Constitutional Law

Under the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution, a person has the right to be free from an unreasonable search or seizure, including an unreasonable arrest.<sup>35</sup> To be “reasonable,” an arrest in a public place must be based on probable cause, though no arrest warrant is required.<sup>36</sup> To make an arrest in a home, an officer generally also needs an arrest warrant. However, the courts have recognized a number of exceptions to this warrant requirement, such as “exigent circumstances” or when the officer has consent to enter the home.<sup>37</sup>

Section 901.15, F.S., is not an exception and does not supersede the constitutional requirements for a lawful arrest.<sup>38</sup> Accordingly, courts have held the statute unconstitutional as applied in situations in which s. 901.15, F.S., was proffered as a basis for a warrantless arrest in a home.<sup>39</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill authorizes a law enforcement officer to execute a warrantless arrest on a minor who unlawfully possesses a firearm.

More specifically, the bill permits an officer to execute a warrantless arrest for a violation of s. 790.22(3), F.S., which makes it a first degree misdemeanor for a minor who is:

- At least 16 years of age to possess a firearm unless he or she is hunting or target shooting.
- Less than 16 years of age to possess a firearm unless he or she is hunting or target shooting and is supervised by an adult.

However, s. 790.22(3), F.S., expressly does not prohibit any minor from possessing an unloaded firearm at home or when traveling to or from hunting or target practice.

(1) the gravity or violent nature of the offense with which the suspect is to be charged; (2) a reasonable belief that the suspect is armed; (3) probable cause to believe that the suspect committed the crime; (4) strong reason to believe that the suspect is in the premises being entered; (5) a likelihood that delay could cause the escape of the suspect or the destruction of essential evidence, or jeopardize the safety of officers or the public.

Finally, under the bill and the United States Constitution, a warrantless arrest authorized by the bill must nonetheless be based on probable cause that the minor violated s. 790.22(3), F.S.

The bill is effective October 1, 2020.
