COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 688 creates a section of law that increases the penalty for taking or possessing a freshly killed bear from a Level Two violation (a second-degree misdemeanor for the first offense) to a Level Three violation (a first-degree misdemeanor for the first offense). The bill also makes a subsequent offense of such taking or possession permanently ineligible for any other permit or license issued by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.

The bill also makes the sale or attempted sale of a bear taken in violation of the section a Level Four violation (a third-degree felony).

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission suggests that there may be a nominal loss of revenue due to the loss in permit fees from violators who are no longer eligible to be issued a license by the Commission. The bill has a positive insignificant prison bed impact (an increase of 10 or fewer prison beds) on the Department of Corrections. See Section IV Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill is effective July 1, 2020.

II. Present Situation:

Florida Black Bear

The Florida black bear (Ursus americanus floridanus) is a subspecies of the American black bear (Ursus americanus)<sup>1</sup> that has historically ranged throughout Florida, southern Georgia, and southern Alabama.<sup>2</sup> Once roaming across Florida, the Florida black bear is now mainly located in fragmented areas across the state covering about 49 percent of its historic range.<sup>3</sup> Due to loss of habitat and unregulated hunting, the population was reduced to an estimated 300-500 bears during the 1970s.<sup>4</sup> The massive population decline led the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) to classify the Florida black bear as a threatened species in 1974.<sup>5</sup>

After more than 35 years of strict statewide protection and management, the FWC conducted an evaluation and determined that the Florida black bear was no longer at risk for extinction. In 2012 the Florida black bear was removed from the state threatened species list.<sup>6</sup>

Population

The Florida black bear population is comprised of seven distinct sub-populations. They are Apalachicola; Eglin; Osceola; Ocala/St. Johns; Chassahowitzka; Highland/Glades; and Big Cypress.<sup>7</sup> During 2014-2015, the FWC conducted a statewide population assessment for Florida black bears and found that bear populations had increased substantially in certain sub-populations and increased by approximately 53 percent statewide.<sup>8</sup> Even though the Florida black bear population is growing, the bears still only reside in the seven disconnected sub-groups across the state.<sup>9</sup>

Each subpopulation is separated into a bear management unit (BMU). A BMU is a geographic location bounded by county and/or state borders with one of the seven Florida black bear sub-populations within it.<sup>10</sup> The goal of a BMU is to provide a defined area within which the FWC can have a community-focused effort to effectively manage and conserve Florida black bears.<sup>11</sup> FWC estimates that the current population of the Florida black bear is over 4,000.<sup>12</sup> A map of the BMUs and Florida black bear habitats is shown below.<sup>13</sup>

Habitat

The Florida black bear is adaptable and inhabits a variety of forested habitats but thrives in areas that provide seasonally available foods, secluded areas for denning, and some degree of protection from humans.<sup>14</sup> The optimal bear habitat in Florida is a thoroughly interspersed mixture of flatwoods, swamps, scrub oak ridges, bayheads, and hammock habitats.<sup>15</sup>

Hunting as a Management Tool

In 2015, the FWC authorized the first bear hunt, opening the East Panhandle, North, Central, and South BMUs to a limited hunt.<sup>16</sup> In 2016, the FWC staff considered four options regarding the hunting of Florida black bears.<sup>17</sup> These options included: using the same framework for the 2016 hunt as was used in 2015; authorizing a more conservative bear hunt utilizing input received from the public and stakeholders; postponing bear hunting in Florida; or prohibiting bear hunting in Florida for future years.<sup>18</sup> The FWC ultimately decided to postpone the bear hunt for 2016 with the option to reopen discussion at a later date.<sup>19</sup> Currently, there is no season where bear hunting is authorized in the state.

Penalties for Taking or Sale of Wildlife

The FWC has a four-tier system for penalties and violations which includes civil penalties for noncriminal infractions, criminal penalties, and suspension and forfeiture of licenses and permits. Level One violations are considered the least serious while Level Four violations the most serious.<sup>20</sup>

Level Two Violations

Examples of a Level Two violation include:

- Violating rules or orders of the commission relating to seasons or time periods for the taking of wildlife, freshwater fish, or saltwater fish;
- Violating rules or orders of the commission relating to restricted hunting areas, critical wildlife areas, or bird sanctuaries;
- Violating rules or orders of the commission relating to tagging requirements for wildlife and fur-bearing animals;
- Violating rules or orders of the commission relating to the use of dogs for the taking of wildlife;
- Violating rules or orders of the commission which are not otherwise classified; and
- Violating rules or orders of the commission prohibiting the unlawful use of traps, unless otherwise provided by law.<sup>21</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill adds the prohibited taking and possession of bears to the list of Level Three violations, which are first degree misdemeanor offenses punishable by up to a year in the county jail and a $1,000 fine.<sup>33</sup> It also adds the prohibited sale of an illegally-taken bear to the list of Level Four violations which are third degree felony offenses punishable by up to 5 years incarceration and a $5,000 fine.<sup>34</sup>

The bill creates s. 379.4041, F.S., which increases the penalty for taking or possessing a freshly killed bear during the closed season. Under the bill, a person who commits such offenses commits a Level Three violation and forfeits any other FWC license or permit for three years from the violation date. A person who commits a subsequent offense of taking a bear or possessing a freshly killed bear is permanently ineligible for issuance of any FWC license or permit.

The bill also states that any person who possesses for sale or sells a bear taken during the closed season commits a Level Four violation.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2020.

Section 379.101(38), F.S., defines the term "take" as taking, attempting to take, pursuing, hunting, molesting, capturing, or killing any wildlife or freshwater or saltwater fish, or their nests or eggs, by any means, whether or not such actions result in obtaining possession of such wildlife or freshwater or saltwater fish or their nests or eggs. The bill prohibits and creates criminal penalties for the illegal taking and possession of bears, and the sale of illegally taken bears.

The FWC mentions in their 2020 Agency Bill Analysis<sup>37</sup> that there are some limited circumstances under which persons may be allowed to “take” a bear, other than in a hunting scenario. The November 2019 FWC Draft Bear Management Plan<sup>38</sup> and Rule 68A-4.009 suggest ways that the public can “haze” a bear to keep it away from their property or other locations where a bear may be in too close proximity to humans. Some of the terms used in the statutory definition of “take” could be construed as making the act of “hazing” unlawful (i.e. pursuing with a loud horn), which would make the new statute and the Rule in conflict with one another.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill creates section 379.4041 of the Florida Statutes.
