SUMMARY ANALYSIS

CS/HB 1493 passed the House on March 2, 2022, and subsequently passed the Senate on March 10, 2022.

The Florida Constitution requires each county commission to divide the county into districts of contiguous territory with as equal population as practicable following each decennial census. One commissioner residing in each district is elected as provided by law. Each county commission consists of five or seven members serving staggered terms of four years, unless otherwise provided by a county charter.

The Alachua County Board of County Commissioners is a five-member body, divided into districts, with one commissioner elected from each district by the qualified electors of the entire county.

The bill amends the Alachua County Home Rule Charter to require members of the county commission to be elected by the qualified electors of the district they represent. The charter amendment is subject to approval by the electors of Alachua County voting in a referendum to be held on November 8, 2022, the 2022 General Election.

The bill will have a minimal fiscal impact on Alachua County associated with the costs of including the referendum question on the 2022 General Election ballot.

The bill was approved by the Governor on June 20, 2022, ch. 2022-257, L.O.F., and will become effective upon approval by a majority vote of electors voting in the referendum, except that sections 2 and 3 of the bill became effective on June 20, 2022.

I. SUBSTANTIVE INFORMATION

A. EFFECT OF CHANGES:

Background

The Florida Constitution requires each county commission to divide the county into districts of contiguous territory with as equal population as practicable following each decennial census.<sup>1</sup> One commissioner residing in each district is elected as provided by law. Each county commission consists of five or seven members serving staggered terms of four years, unless otherwise provided by a county charter.

The default county election system requires the county commission to draw five districts nearly equal in population as possible, with one commissioner elected from each district by the qualified electors of the entire county.<sup>2</sup> County commissioners are responsible for making periodic boundary adjustments to ensure district populations are nearly equal as possible, but these changes may only be made during odd-numbered years.<sup>3</sup> This system is used by 41 of the state's 67 counties, including Alachua County.<sup>4</sup>

Alternatively, county commissioners may be elected from single-member districts, subject to voter approval at a referendum.<sup>5</sup> A referendum to convert to single-member districts may be called by the county commission or electors of the county may petition to have the proposition placed on the ballot by gathering the signatures of at least 10 percent of the qualified electors of the county.<sup>6</sup> The referendum may convert the county commission to a five-member body, with all members elected in districts, or a seven-member body with five members elected in districts and two members elected at-large by the qualified electors of the entire county.<sup>7</sup> Commissioners are elected to four-year terms which are staggered so that approximately half of the commissioners elected from districts and, if applicable, one of the commissioners elected at-large from the entire county, are elected every two years.<sup>8</sup> The conversion to single-member districts does not impact the term of current officeholders.<sup>9</sup>

Charter counties have all powers of local self-government not inconsistent with general law, or with special law approved by vote of the electors.<sup>10</sup> Alachua County adopted its Home Rule Charter in 1986.<sup>11</sup> The charter assigns legislative powers to a five-member elected county commission and executive powers to a county manager appointed by the commission.<sup>12</sup> Amendments to the charter may be proposed by a petition signed by at least 10 percent of the number of electors qualified to vote in the county as a whole in the preceding general election.<sup>13</sup>

Effect of the Bill

The bill amends the Alachua County Home Rule Charter to require members of the county commission to be elected by the qualified electors of the district they represent. The charter amendment is subject to approval by the electors of Alachua County voting in a referendum to be held on November 8, 2022, the 2022 General Election. The bill specifies the wording of the referendum question on the ballot.
