7. State and comply with the maximum overnight occupancy of the vacation rental which does not exceed either two persons per bedroom, plus an additional two persons in one common area; or more than two persons per bedroom if there is at least 50 square feet per person, plus an additional two persons in one common area, whichever is greater.

(c) Within 15 business days after receiving an application for registration of a vacation rental, a local government shall provided in this paragraph, particularly in the event of a force registration within the timeframes provided in this paragraph, the application is deemed accepted.

(d) If a local government denies a registration of a registration. A local government may not prohibit an applicant from reapplying if the applicant cures the identified deficiencies.

(e)1. Upon acceptance of a vacation rental registration, a local government shall assign a unique registration number to of a vacation rental registration, provide the registration

Before issuing a fine for a violation of subparagraphs (b)1.-6., the local government shall issue written notice of such violation and provide a vacation rental operator 15 days to cure the violation. If the vacation rental operator has not cured the violation within the 15 days, the local government may issue a fine.

(g) A certified copy of an order imposing a fine may be recorded in the public records and thereafter constitutes a lien against the real property on which the violation occurred. Upon petition to the circuit court, such order is enforceable in the same manner as a court judgment by the sheriffs of this state, including execution and levy against the personal property of the violator, but such order may not be deemed to be a court judgment except for enforcement purposes. A fine imposed pursuant to this subsection will continue to accrue until the violator comes into compliance or until judgment is rendered in a suit filed pursuant to this section, whichever occurs first. A lien arising from a fine imposed pursuant to this subsection runs in favor of the local government, and the local government shall execute a satisfaction or release of lien upon full payment. If such lien remains unpaid 3 months or more after the filing of the lien, the local government may foreclose on the lien against the real property on which the violation occurred or sue to recover a money judgment for the amount of the lien.

provisions of this section do not apply to real property or personal property that is covered under s. 4(a), Art. X of the State Constitution.

found by the code enforcement board or special magistrate to be a material violation of a local law, ordinance, or regulation that does not solely apply to vacation rentals, and the violation is directly related to the vacation rental premises, the local government must issue a written notice of such violation.

2. If a code violation related to the vacation rental is found to be a material violation of a local law, ordinance, or regulation as described in subparagraph 1., the code enforcement board or special magistrate must make a recommendation to the local government as to whether a vacation rental registration should be suspended.

3. The code enforcement board or special magistrate must recommend the suspension of the vacation rental registration if there are:

a. One or more violations on 5 separate days during a 60-day period;

b. One or more violations on 5 separate days during a 30-day period; or

c. One or more violations after two prior suspensions of the vacation rental registration.

4. If the code enforcement board or special magistrate recommends suspension of a vacation rental registration, a local government may suspend such registration for a period of:
   a. Up to 30 days for one or more violations on 5 separate days during a 60-day period;
   b. Up to 60 days for one or more violations on 5 separate days during a 30-day period; or

However, the local government shall allow the vacation rental

2. A local government shall provide notice within 5 days after the revocation of, or refusal to renew, a vacation rental registration to the vacation rental operator and the division.
