PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Command Chaplain Bryan Crittendon, Naval Air Station Pensacola:

Heavenly Father, we bow before you, in prayer, invoking a strong movement of your spirit among us as we open this session of the Senate and pray your wisdom, strength, and health on these state leaders as they draft and consider legislation in governing the State of Florida.

This morning we pray remembering the heroes and sacrifices from the tragic events of December 6 in Pensacola, especially the three who paid the ultimate sacrifice.

We lift up our prayers of thanksgiving for the first responders from the base, the county, the state, and the city who stopped the tragedy and saved innumerable lives. We honor their heroism this morning. We pray your continued strength for our military, our first responders, and their loved ones as they continue to protect our communities and our nation. We especially pray for those in harm’s way at this very moment and for those who wait for them at home.

In the tradition of our Navy, we voice these words: “Eternal Father, strong to save, whose arm hath bound the restless wave, who bidd’st the mighty ocean deep, its own appointed limits keep, O hear us when we cry to thee, for those in peril on the sea!”

Please join me now in a moment of silence as we remember our fallen heroes. Amen.

SPECIAL GUESTS

The President honored the following fallen service members who were killed during a terrorist attack at Naval Air Station Pensacola on December 6, 2019: Airman Apprentice Cameron Walters, survived by his mother, Amanda; father, Shane; and stepmother, Heather, who were present in the gallery; Airman Mohammed Shahed Haitham, survived by his mother, Evelyn Brady, who was present in the gallery, and his father, who was unable to attend; and Ensign Joshua Kaleb Watson, survived by his parents, who were unable to attend.

The President recognized the following survivors who were injured during the attack: Airman Ryan Joseph Blackwell and Ensign Breanna N. Thomas, who were present in the gallery; Airman Apprentice Alan G. Johnson, Ensign Kristy A. Lehmer, and Ms. Jessica K. Pickett, who were unable to attend.

The President recognized the following Escambia County law enforcement officers who aided in the efforts to stop the terrorist attack that day: Deputy Jonathan Glass and Deputy Matthew Tinch, who were shot in the line of duty; Sheriff David Morgan, accompanied by his wife, Susan; Chief Deputy Chip Simmons; Major Andrew Hobbs; Sergeant Michael Hoyland; Senior Deputy A. Grant Lopez; Deputy Matthew Keebler; Deputy Matthew Housam; Amber Southard; and Stacey Richter, who were present in the gallery.

The President recognized the following Florida Highway Patrol Officers who heroically advanced on the shooter, secured the site, provided aid to the injured, and stood guard: Trooper Adalberto Orellana, Trooper Angel Luna, Trooper Hendrick Martinez, Trooper Aaron Goodwin, Sergeant Gregory Forrest, and Captain Richard Warden, who were present in the gallery.

COLOR GUARD

At the direction of the President, the Sergeant at Arms opened the doors of the chamber and a Color Guard of the Florida National Guard marched into the chamber bearing flags of the United States of America and the State of Florida.

PLEDGE

Senate Page Penelope May, granddaughter of former Senate President John McKay and his wife, Michelle, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE

The President introduced his sister, Mary Galvano Bajohr, who sang The Star Spangled Banner.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Dr. Aaron Sudbury of Bradenton as the doctor of the day. Dr. Sudbury specializes in obstetrics and gynecology.

The President welcomed former Senate Presidents Mike Haridopolos and his wife, Stephanie; Jeff Atwater; John McKay and his wife, Michelle; Jim Scott; and Tom Lee, currently serving in the Senate, and his wife, Secretary of State Laurel Lee.

The President welcomed former Senators Ellyn Bogdanoff; Carey Baker, Lake County Property Appraiser; Steve Geller, Broward County Commissioner; Frank Artiles; Curt Kiser; Alex Diaz de la Portilla, Miami City Commissioner; Ron Silver; Dave Aronberg, State Attorney for Palm Beach County; and Eleanor Sobel, who were present in the chamber.

The President welcomed his wife, the First Lady of the Florida Senate, Julie Galvano; their son, William; his sister, Mary Galvano Bajohr; his sister-in-law, Karrie Galvano; and his mother-in-law, Mary Jean Forrester, and father-in-law, Reverend Sterling Forrester.

The President welcomed all the other Senate spouses who were present in the chamber.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

On motion by Senator Benacquisto, by unanimous consent—

SCR 1180—A concurrent resolution providing that the House of Representatives and the Senate convene in Joint Session for the purpose of receiving a message from the Governor.

WHEREAS, Governor Ron DeSantis has expressed a desire to address the Legislature in Joint Session, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida, the House of Representatives Concurring:

That the House of Representatives and the Senate convene in Joint Session in the Chamber of the House of Representatives at 11:00 a.m. this day, January 14, 2020, for the purpose of receiving a message from the Governor.

—was taken up and the read the first time by title. On motion by Senator Benacquisto, SCR 1180 was read the second time in full, adopted, and, by two-thirds vote, immediately certified to the House.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT BILL GALVANO

First and foremost, I would like to thank you for the hard work and great work you have done over the past year, including the weeks of committee hearings leading to this opening day of session. I could not be more proud of how we have conducted business in the Florida Senate and the productivity that it has yielded. It gives me great confidence that this session will be productive, effective, and worthy of the people of Florida.

As we go into session, let us continue to show our constituents that we can exchange and debate ideas while maintaining civility and decorum. We can problem solve together; we can put aside personalities and politics for good policy. We are not a microcosm of Washington, D.C., but instead, we will continue to be an example for Washington, D.C.

The Senate seated before me will always be unique in history. You all are the first Senate of a new decade. We have, this session, the opportunity to set the bar for the 2020s. For my part, I will do everything I can to make sure that I provide an opportunity for each of you to carry the dreams, goals, and objectives of your constituencies to this process with respect, fairness, and candor. As I have reminded you in the past, you come into this chamber carrying the responsibility of the hundreds of thousands of people each of you represents, and those microphones on your desk amplify their voices. I respect that. And again, let us conduct our business with the discipline to look at the big picture, as opposed to personal agendas, and to look at what we are doing for the people of Florida as a whole above what may be something that we personally want.

This is my sixteenth regular session, with many special sessions in between. It is also my last regular session, and I share that this morning with Senator Benacquisto, Senator Braynon, Senator Bradley, Senator Flores, Senator Montford, and our President Pro Tempore, Senator Simmons. I am very pleased to go with you all again into session, each of you as a distinguished leader. Thank you for your service.

Our work is cut out for us, and the reality is we are all veterans of this process. We're all veterans. We know the issues. Every one of us knows what the issues are that we are about to face. We all know, at the end of the day, we're all tied to the budget and how we negotiate the budget. I trust you. I have confidence in you that you all are going to help us craft the agenda, help us address these issues, and that you all will know what to do. And, I want to help facilitate that. We are ready. We are well equipped. We are certainly well supported by an unbelievable, professional staff here in Tallahassee, as well as our district staffs, and all under the leadership of our fantastic Chief of Staff, Lisa Vickers.

Governor, I look forward to working with you—I truly do—collaborating and making big strides and differences for the people of this great State of Florida. I truly appreciate your service and look forward to this session with you. Also, I look forward to continuing to work with Speaker Jose Oliva and the Florida House as we craft our budget and policies for the benefit of the people of the great State of Florida. But most importantly, I look forward to working with you, Senators. I look forward to working with you. I look forward to serving you. Let us build this new decade, starting this session, day by day, with focus, commitment, and hard work. Let's make every moment that we are in this session matter. In the words of Mother Teresa, "Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow has not yet come. We have only today. Let us begin." Thank you.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

On motion by President Pro Tempore Simmons that a committee be appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate was convened and ready to proceed to the business of the 2020 Session, the President appointed Senator Bradley, Chair; and Senators Braynon, Flores, and Montford. The committee was excused.

COMMITTEE DISCHARGED

The committee appointed to notify the House of Representatives returned to the Senate Chamber and reported to the President that its duty had been performed. The committee was thanked for its service and discharged.

COMMITTEE RECEIVED

A committee from the House of Representatives composed of Representative Perez, Chair; and Representatives Andrade, Brown, Silvers, and Tomkow was received and informed the Senate that the House of Representatives was convened and ready to proceed to the business of the session. The committee then withdrew from the chamber.

MOTIONS

On motion by Senator Benacquisto, the Senate adjourned at 10:49 a.m. and, pursuant to SCR 1180, will meet in joint session at 11:00 a.m. this day for the purpose of receiving a message from the Governor and conducting other Senate business.

(See remainder of Senate business following the joint session.)

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to SCR 1180, the Senate formed in processional order and marched as a body to the chamber of the House of Representatives where they were received in due form. The joint session was called to order by The Honorable Jose Oliva, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Lieutenant Governor, members of the Cabinet, and Justices of the Supreme Court were received and seated.

The Speaker invited The Honorable Bill Galvano, President of the Senate, to the rostrum, and requested that the President preside over the joint session.

THE PRESIDENT PRESIDING

The President declared a quorum of the joint session present.

Representative Mel Ponder delivered the prayer.

Senate President Pro Tempore David Simmons and House Speaker Pro Tempore MaryLynn Magar led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

On motion by Representative Paul Renner that a committee be appointed to notify the Governor that the joint session was assembled to receive his message, the President appointed Senator Hutson, Co-chair; and Senators Broxson, Stewart, Taddeo, and Wright. On behalf of the Speaker, the President appointed Representative Burton, Co-chair; and Representatives Antone, Duran, Sirois, and Killebrew. The committee withdrew from the chamber.

SPECIAL GUESTS

The President recognized the following guests: First Lady of the House of Representatives, Jeanne Oliva; and First Lady of the Senate, Julie Galvano.

The committee appointed to wait upon the Governor subsequently returned to the chamber escorting His Excellency, the Honorable Ron DeSantis, Governor, who was escorted to the rostrum.

The President recognized First Lady of Florida Casey DeSantis who was present in the gallery.

The President presented the Governor to the joint assembly.

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR RON DESANTIS

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of the House and Senate, and fellow citizens:

The Constitution requires me to “inform the legislature concerning the condition of the state” and “recommend measures in the public interest.” It brings me great satisfaction to report on the promising prospects of our public affairs and to commend the members of the House and Senate for your efforts to make Florida successful.

- Florida’s unemployment rate is near a historic low
- We have a AAA credit rating
- Florida’s public university system is ranked #1 in the nation
- We are rated one of the top states in the nation for fiscal health
- Florida’s crime rate is at an almost 50 year low
- And we have no state income tax

It is said that the only things certain in life are death and taxes. I’d like to suggest we append an asterisk to that statement here in Florida; no, we can’t forestall Father Time, but we can say with certainty that we won’t have an income tax or a death tax.

Last session was productive on a number of fronts, and I want to thank Speaker Jose Oliva and President Bill Galvano for their leadership. I also would like to recognize our Lieutenant Governor, Jeanette Nuñez, who has led on key issues ranging from health care to aerospace.

I’m also happy to have with us today our great First Lady. Casey has spearheaded her Hope for Healing initiative to tackle problems facing Floridians in the areas of mental health and substance abuse. She is making a difference—and she is only just getting started. We are both looking forward to big things in 2020, including a new baby daughter arriving a couple weeks after session. This will be three kids, ages 3 and under, running around the house; chaos will officially reign supreme in our household. I can’t tell you for sure how this will affect any vetoes I might issue; stay tuned.

In 2019, we took bold steps to expand educational opportunities, protect our environment and natural resources, reform health care, invest in infrastructure and bolster public safety—all while reducing taxes and adding to our budget reserves. While we should look with favor on these bold beginnings, we have much more to do.

For everything there is a season, and this is Florida’s season of opportunity—we have the chance to build on a strong foundation, the chance to face the challenges before us, and the chance to leave a legacy of success that will benefit our people now and in the future. If we work together during our season of opportunity, we can ensure that Florida works for our fellow citizens. This will require a lot of toil and sweat and it will require not just words, but deeds. We can’t rest on past accomplishments. Our only easy day was yesterday.

Florida must remain steadfast in its commitment to low taxes and fiscal responsibility. “For which of you intending to build a tower does not first sit down to count the cost?” We live in an increasingly mobile and interconnected time. States cannot tax, regulate, and spend with impunity without significant negative consequences. Taxpayers flee. Businesses relocate. The economic base narrows and the state inevitably hemorrhages money. Rinse and repeat.

According to IRS figures, Florida had led the nation for six consecutive years in the amount of income—tens of billions of dollars—being brought to the state from internal migration. People are voting with their feet, and they are leaving states with bad economic climates for the greener economic pastures of the Sunshine State.

We have the good fortune to be attracting investment and business activity and have good potential for further growth in aerospace, financial services, health care, and manufacturing. To realize this potential, Florida needs to tax lightly, spend wisely, and regulate reasonably. Maintaining fiscal health will provide the type of durable foundation required for the expansion of our economic base, which means more opportunities for the people of Florida.

When I took office, I issued a sweeping executive order outlining a bold approach to protecting our natural resources, improving water quality, and restoring the Everglades. I did so in part because I believe that stewardship of our natural resources is key to our economic well-being—our water is the foundation of our tourism industry, makes Florida the top fishing and boating destination in the world, and enhances our property values.

This vision required a commitment from the Legislature and you delivered—to the tune of more than $625 million for water resources and Everglades projects. Because Florida had skin in the game, we were able to get support from the Trump administration for another $200 million for Everglades restoration. Ditto with the raising of the Tamiami Trail. Key water projects are proceeding apace, including the EAA reservoir, which will be a welcome relief to so many Floridians who have been negatively impacted by things like blue-green algae.

We are even on offense against the epidemic of non-native Burmese Pythons that have ravaged the wildlife in the Everglades. Geoff and Robbie Roestorff are with us today. They are successful bankers from southwest Florida but also double as python hunters. They and others—including more than 500 people who have registered for our Python Bowl—are helping to protect Florida's native wildlife by removing these voracious predators from the Everglades.

Florida is in the process of realizing a vision that has been widely desired but stubbornly elusive. We have strong momentum and need to keep it going. We can keep it going by addressing three main areas.

First, we should fund water resource projects at the $625 million level on a recurring basis for three years. This will provide needed certainty for these key initiatives and will help us leverage more federal support.

Second, the Legislature should pass the comprehensive water quality legislation I have proposed. The bill represents the initial recommendations of the Blue-Green Algae Task Force that I launched upon taking office. It is based on sound science and provides a roadmap to reduce nutrients in our water.

Third, those that spew untreated wastewater into Florida's waterbodies need to be deterred from doing so by appropriate penalties. Too many municipalities have failed to invest in needed upgrades to their water infrastructure in part because it is cheaper to violate the law and pay a nominal fine. This is unacceptable and needs to change.

We at the state level will also be doing our part to fortify our infrastructure in our areas most vulnerable to increased flood risks. Over the coming months our Division of Emergency Management and Department of Economic Opportunity will be distributing more than a billion dollars in mitigation funds to areas impacted by the hurricanes over the last several years.

The bottom line is we have a chance to take bold action to make a lasting positive impact upon Florida's environment. Let's seize this opportunity.

Over the past year, my administration has been focused on education—and for good reason. Low taxes and a healthy business climate are important in attracting investment in Florida, but so too is our ability to produce top-flight talent—through our colleges and universities, through workforce education opportunities, and through strong K-12 schools. Florida has the top-ranked public university system in the nation and has three universities in the top 50: UF in the top 10 heading for the top 5; FSU in the top 20 heading for the top 15; and USF in the top 50 heading for the top 25.

There is no question that Florida is cultivating the talent needed to power our economy to new horizons. Let's keep it going and do even better. Traditional four-year universities aren't the only way to acquire advanced knowledge or skills—and for many it is not the best way. Thanks to the leadership of our Commissioner of Education, Richard Corcoran, we have launched an initiative to make Florida the nation's leader in workforce education by 2030 and, thanks to your support, we are off to a good start. Vocational education is making a comeback in our high schools, and students in districts such as Miami-Dade can graduate with industry certifications in fields like electrical and HVAC. Apprenticeship programs also offer a great way to equip Floridians with skills that merit gainful employment.

It was either Benjamin Franklin or an ancient Confucian philosopher who once said, "Tell me and I forget. Teach me and I remember. Involve me and I learn."

Once Floridians acquire skills it is important that they be allowed to employ those skills without unnecessary barriers placed in their way by government. Florida's occupational licensing regime too often hinders upward mobility—often for lower-income workers—because so much of the regime is based not on the legitimate goal of protecting public health and safety but on keeping people out, creating a guild that benefits insiders at the expense of those seeking to enter moderate-income professions ranging from barbers to interior design. Our citizens shouldn't need a permission slip from the government in order to earn a living. We have a good reform bill pending before the Legislature that made it to the one yard line last year. Let's punch it in the end zone this year.

Lower-income workers also shouldn't have their wages depressed by cheap foreign labor. Assuring a legal workforce through E-verify will be good for the rule of law, protect taxpayers, and place an upward pressure on the wages of Floridians who work in blue collar jobs. We are a state that has an economy, not the other way around. And we need to make sure that our Florida citizens from all walks of life come first.

Our approach to K-12 education rests on (1) recruiting and retaining great teachers, (2) promoting educational choice so parents, particularly low-income parents, can place their child in a good school, and (3) measuring results through accountability. I am recommending we take a bold step of setting a minimum salary for public school teachers at $47,500, bringing Florida from the bottom half of states to number 2 in the nation. This will make it easier to get talented college graduates to enter the profession and will help us retain many of the good teachers we have now.

My plan will lead to a substantial pay increase for over 100,000 current teachers throughout the state. We have two of those teachers here in the chamber: Lindsay Beam, a 6th grade math teacher at Blountstown Middle School, and Melissa Pappas, a teacher at Brookshire Elementary in Orange County, who works with autistic students. Both are highly effective, award-winning teachers who will see salary increases of between $5k and $10k.

We are also proposing to replace the Best and Brightest bonus program with a new initiative that will be more equitable—and more generous—so that we can reward our strong-performing teachers and principals. My proposal places an emphasis on bonuses for teachers and principals in Title I schools, with bonuses available of up to $7,500 and $10,000, respectively. These initiatives will build on the success we've enjoyed in 2019.

Last year, we faced the prospect of thousands of Florida families toiling on waiting lists for various scholarship programs. Standing here last year, I asked the Legislature to act and you delivered. Joining us today are Britney and Jeremy Wilson, whose son with unique abilities, Josiah, was on the waitlist for a Gardiner Scholarship. Thanks to our work in 2019, last year's waitlist was cleared and the Wilsons were able to get Josiah on a scholarship so that his educational needs can be met.

Last year, we had nearly 13,000 low-income families on the waiting list for a tax credit scholarship. Thanks to the enactment of the new Family Empowerment Scholarship, these families have been liberated from the waiting list. We have in the chamber Talethia Edwards, a mother of 7 who lives here in Tallahassee. Three of her children are now using the new Family Empowerment Scholarship.

All Florida parents, regardless of income or zip code, should have the ability to choose the best school for their children. This isn't limited to scholarship programs but also includes public school choice. Florida has 658 public charter schools serving 314,000 students, nearly 70 percent are Hispanic and African-American and 53 percent are low-income.

Based on the 2019 NAEP results, if Florida's charter school population was its own state, it would rank number 2 in the nation for 4th grade reading, tie for number 2 in the nation for 4th grade math, number 1 in 8th grade reading, and tie for number 5 in 8th grade math.

When we increase educational choice and provide innovative learning opportunities, we can help students reach their full potential. Results matter and accountability is needed. But the common core framework was clearly flawed. When even parents with advanced degrees can't understand their kids' math homework, we have a problem.

Commissioner Corcoran has spent the past year working with stakeholders throughout Florida to develop a superior approach that will focus on strong standards, high-quality curriculum, streamlined testing, and a renewed emphasis on American civics. We will be unveiling the new approach in the coming days. I can reveal that one key to our replacement of Common Core will be a renewed emphasis on American civics and the US Constitution. This means understanding the source of our rights, the theory of the Declaration of Independence, the structure of the Constitution and key amendments, such as the Bill of Rights, the post-Civil War amendments, and the Nineteenth Amendment.

This also means developing an appreciation for how these enduring principles animated key points in American history such as the fight for independence more than 240 years ago; the leadership of President Lincoln during the Civil War; the activism of the suffragettes who succeeded in securing voting rights for women (an anniversary we celebrate this year); the defeat of Nazi totalitarianism during WWII; the crusade led by Dr. King for civil rights for African-Americans; and the titanic ideological struggle against, and eventually defeat of, the tyranny represented by Soviet communism.

In his final State of the Union address, President Washington said that “A primary object should be the education of our youth in the science of government. In a republic, what species of knowledge can be equally important? And what duty more pressing than communicating it to those who are to be the future guardians of the liberties of the country?” Amen.

Speaking of the Constitution, when I became Governor, I was charged with filling three vacancies on our Supreme Court. In our system of government, courts play an important role, but it is a role that must remain judicial in nature; when courts exercise legislative authority, they pervert the Constitution and undermine the rule of law. I was mindful of choosing justices who understood the proper role of the court is to, in Hamilton’s words, exercise “neither force nor will but merely judgment.”

I’m pleased to report that the appointments were so good that two of three have already been promoted to the US Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. They are both here today, Judge Barbara Lagoa and Judge Robert Luck. On behalf of the State of Florida, I congratulate you on your new post and wish you continued success. To our remaining justices, don’t worry, reinforcements are coming soon.

With the Speaker and President leading the way, the 2019 Legislative Session witnessed major reforms in the area of health care—from expanding access to telehealth to repealing antiquated regulations. One major initiative was to provide access to cheaper prescription drugs by bringing in safe, name-brand drugs from foreign markets such as Canada. Same drug, just a much lower price. This can only be done with federal approval and I’m happy to report that the Trump administration is moving forward with the applicable regulations. There is still a long way to go, but that we are even discussing this is a major development in this area and Florida has led the way.

I’m happy to report that the work of the Legislature in bringing transparency to health care is starting to bear fruit. The ‘patient savings’ concept enacted last year was based on the idea that reducing health care costs requires (1) price transparency and (2) a way for patients who use information to save money. I’m happy to report that the state of Florida has implemented a patient savings plan for its employees and has already realized millions of dollars of savings. If we can help make this type of plan widely-available throughout the state, we could see many millions of dollars in savings for patients.

Building a culture of life requires us to champion adoption, and Florida is doing better in this regard. Thanks to the hard work of Secretary Poppell and his team at the Department of Children and Families, who made a concerted effort to eliminate barriers for 3,600 children awaiting adoption, DCF was able to reduce the number by 32 percent, representing more than 1,100 children who were able to find a forever home. This was done by identifying efficiencies, engaging in collaboration with partners and stakeholders, and leveraging existing resources. We are working hard to make the adoption process as transparent and user-friendly as possible so that every child can find a loving home. I also hope that the parental consent bill will make its way to my desk during this session!

One other update on the last session’s good work: the legislation addressing fraud and abuse of assignment-of-benefits is already producing results. Citizens Insurance has revised its rates because of the impact of the bill, resulting in nearly 44,000 additional policyholders receiving rate decreases. The number of AOB-related lawsuits involving Citizens has dropped as well—from over 500 in June of last year to only 148 in December. Early indications are that similar effects are being observed across the private market. The legal system is supposed to be used for redressing concrete injuries and disputes; it is not a game and shouldn’t be used as such. Reforms such as AOB that improve the legal climate here in Florida are welcome.

Hurricane recovery has been a priority for my administration. In January of 2019, I asked Director Jared Moskowitz to expedite reimbursements to affected areas and the agency has distributed more than $1.4 billion to communities impacted by Hurricanes Michael, Irma, Matthew, and Hermine. The Legislature approved a $25 million Hurricane Michael grant program for assisting with the recovery in northwest Florida. This has been effective and has allowed us to address local needs in a nimble and targeted fashion. Sheriff Morris Young from Gadsden County and Bryon Hughes from the Mexico Beach Fire Department are in the gallery. We were able to help these areas and many others by using the grant program. Michael was a catastrophic storm and while great progress has been made, this is a long-term effort. I ask that you re-up this grant program for another year.

We came close to getting hit with another major storm, Hurricane Dorian. It was headed for Florida, and the emergency managers throughout the state—from the county level to Jared and his team at the state level and to our federal partners at FEMA—sprang into action. We were hoping for the best, but were prepared for the worst. I thank everyone involved in the preparation for their efforts. The storm made a 90 degree turn to the north, less than 100 miles from our coast. I’ve never seen anything like that. I’m sure glad we made the trip to Israel last May where a number of us prayed for a hurricane-free summer. I’d be remiss if I didn’t thank the Big Man upstairs for any consideration He may have had for us during that close call.

When Christopher Columbus set sail in 1492, his ship, the Santa Maria, carried the flag of Queen Isabella. The flag depicted a castle with the words, “ne plus ultra”—meaning “nothing further”—because at that time Spain was considered the farthest point west in the entire world. Columbus returned and reported his discoveries in America to the queen. She immediately ordered that the flag be changed. The new flag read, “plus ultra”—meaning “more out there.”

Well, in this season of opportunity, we can say there is more out there to achieve for our state—and there is no reason why we can’t seize this moment and deliver for the people of Florida. God bless you, and thank you.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR AND OTHER EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

VETOED BILLS 2019 REGULAR SESSION

Secretary Laurel Lee Secretary of State R.A. Gray Building 500 South Bronough Street Tallahassee, FL 32399-0250

June 21, 2019

Dear Secretary Lee:

The fiscal year 2019-2020 budget that I have signed reduces taxes, maintains more than $5 billion in reserves, and addresses key needs of the state in areas such as education, environment and water quality, public safety and economic development. When I took office, I promised a bold vision for a brighter future for the state of Florida and I am pleased that this budget delivers on that pledge.

Maintaining a low-tax environment and a fiscally responsible budget is key to Florida's future economic success. This year's budget produced historic support for a variety of the state's priorities, yet we were still able to secure nearly $400 million in tax relief for Florida families, including a property tax reduction and sales tax holidays for school supplies and hurricane preparedness, and keep more than $5.4 billion in reserves. By taxing lightly and spending prudently, we better position our state to attract investment, expand our economic base and create good jobs.

Given some of the persistent problems Florida has faced with water quality, I made protection of our water resources and restoration of the Everglades top priorities, requesting $625 million to meet these challenges. I am happy to report that we received more than this amount, including: over $400 million for Everglades restoration, the highest amount ever; $100 million for springs restoration; $50 million for targeted water quality improvements; $40 million for alternative water supply; and $25 million to combat blue-green algae and red tide. This funding will go a long way to addressing Florida's key environmental needs and preserving our natural resources as the foundation for the state's continued success.

I also recommended a bold plan for education and am gratified that we have expanded opportunities for Florida students. The budget provides record funding to recruit, retain and reward great teachers and principals through a revised Best and Brightest program, which eliminated the use of SAT/ACT scores as a factor in determining eligibility. It also makes a major down payment on my goal to improve workforce education by appropriating $10 million to promote industry certifications and establish apprenticeships in high-demand fields, as well as by providing the nation's largest commitment to computer science education and permitting computer sciences courses to count as a math or science credit needed for high school graduation. All told, per pupil spending at Florida public schools is at the highest level in history; this year's year-over-year increase is the largest since 2013-2014.

Students from low-income families especially benefitted from our reforms. The landmark Family Empowerment Scholarship program will rescue the thousands of poor students from the waitlist for the successful but oversubscribed Tax Credit Scholarship program and provide low-income parents with the ability to choose the best school for their children. The budget also cleared the waitlist for the Gardiner Scholarship program, which benefits students with special needs; continued support for the Schools of Hope program and expanded the locations where the program can operate; and maintained equitable treatment of capital outlay funding for public charter schools.

Florida must foster a safe and secure learning environment, and, to that end, the budget prioritizes funding for school safety with $180 million for the Safe Schools Allocation for school resource officers and other school safety initiatives, $50 million for school hardening grants, the expansion of the Coach Aaron Feis Guardian Program, and a record $2.5 million for security funding for Jewish day schools amid rising threats of anti-Semitic violence.

Florida has faced a string of hurricanes in recent years, including one of the most devastating in recent memory, Hurricane Michael. Early in my administration, I was able to secure significant federal assistance from the Trump administration to help the communities in Northwest Florida recover. We are also dedicating over $100 million to repair and replace housing in these hurricane-ravaged areas and have achieved meaningful assignment of benefits reform to fight insurance fraud and its impact on rising insurance costs for Floridians. The resilience of the people of Northwest Florida has been inspiring and I am glad that both the state and federal governments have taken action to assist in the recovery and rebuilding efforts.

The 2019 Legislative Session was very productive. I look forward to building off this year's success when the Legislature reconvenes in January.

By the authority vested in me as Governor of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of portions of Senate Bill 2500, enacted during the 51st Regular Session of the Legislature convened under the Constitution of 1968, and entitled:

An act making appropriations; providing moneys for the annual period beginning July 1, 2019, and ending June 30, 2020, and supplemental appropriations for the period ending June 30, 2019, to pay salaries, and other expenses, capital outlay - buildings, and other improvements, and for other specified purposes of the various agencies of state government; providing effective dates.

While there are a lot of good projects in this budget, it is important to recognize that we should prepare for economic declines and build reserves to higher levels. We expect hurricane reimbursements to return to the state which will help build reserves. I also recognize that there are certain projects in the budget that government simply should not do, projects that are not a state responsibility and should be handled at the local or federal level, projects that did not follow established statutory review processes, and projects for which sufficient funding wasn't appropriated to support the intended effort. I have carefully reviewed issues in the budget and do hereby veto such projects, which will further increase reserve funds for the state.

For these reasons, I do hereby withhold my approval of the following line items in the Fiscal Year 2019-20 General Appropriations Act:

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 109, $2,000,000 in non-recurring funds is provided for the Department of Education to competitively procure a 3-year Spanish to English literacy and language reading platform for grades PK-5 that any school district may apply for and access on a first-come first-served basis. The selected program must be computer-delivered in both Spanish and English, and it must include a computer-adaptive assessment that students can access during and after school, or at home. The on-line program must have authentic Spanish and English instruction with no translations or trans-adaptations and automatically place students into an individualized on-line curriculum and instruction; provide teachers and administrators with immediate and on-line reports; provide recommendations for interventions and teacher lessons; and provide small group instruction lessons. The program must provide Lexile levels in Spanish and English. The program must also make available to parents information and resources regarding student achievement via a home portal in both languages. The Department of Education shall issue a procurement prior to the start of the 2019 school year.

From the funds in Specific Appropriation 109, $350,000 in non-recurring funds is provided for Advancement Via Individual Determination Performance (AVID)(Senate Form 2020) (HB 3725). Funds shall be used to implement a program that rewards school districts based on the success of students in need of assistance to become college ready and enrolled in the AVID elective class during the 2018-20 19 school year and were reported during the October student membership survey. Each school district shall be awarded $325 per full-time equivalent student enrolled in the AVID elective who received a score of 4 or higher on an International Baccalaureate subject examination; score of 3 or higher on the College Board Advanced Placement Examination score of E or higher on an Advanced International Certificate of Education subject examination; or, for students in grades 6-8, who receive a passing score on the algebra end of course examination; or, for students in grades 6-9, who receive a passing score on the geometry end of course examination. Each school district shall allocate the funds received from this program to the school whose students generate the funds. Funds shall be expended solely for the payment of costs associated with the school's AVID system which include annual membership fees; professional development and training for program coordinators, teachers, and tutors; college and university site visits for prospective students; and compensation for tutors. Funds shall be awarded to the school districts no later than January 1, 2020. If the total program amount is greater than the funds provided in this appropriation, then each district's amount shall be prorated based on the number of students who earned qualifying scores in each district."

EXECUTIVE BUSINESS

SUSPENSION REPORTS

EXECUTIVE ORDER NUMBER 19-13
(Executive Order of Suspension)

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 7 of the Florida Constitution provides in relevant part that, “the Governor may suspend from office ... any county officer for ... neglect of duty ... [or] incompetence”; and

WHEREAS, Mary Beth Jackson is presently serving as the Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County, Florida, having been re-elected by the voters of Okaloosa County in 2016 for a four-year term; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Florida Statute § 1001.32, the school district superintendent is responsible for the “administration and management of the schools and for the supervision of instruction in the district”; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Florida Statute § 1001.33, the school district superintendent serves as the executive officer of all public schools within the school district; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Florida Statute § 1001.42, the district school board, under the executive direction of the superintendent shall exercise power and perform the following duties: (1) recruiting and hiring personnel; (2) training, promoting, suspending and dismissing personnel; and (3) adopting policies for ethical conduct of personnel and school administrators; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Florida Statute § 1001.42(6), the school district superintendent is required to “report to law enforcement misconduct by instructional personnel or school administrators that would result in disqualification from educator certification or employment”; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Florida Statute § 1001.49, the school district superintendent shall exercise the following powers: general oversight over the entire school district and recommend policies, rules and minimum standards; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Florida Statute § 1001.51, the school district superintendent shall exercise the following powers and perform the following duties: recommend the organization and operation of the schools to provide adequate educational opportunities for all children in the district; be responsible for directing the work of personnel of the school district; prepare all reports required by law or the rules of the State Board of Education; visit schools within the district to observe management and instruction to provide suggestions for improvement; and recommend procedures for implementing and maintaining a system of school improvement; and

WHEREAS, on January 9, 2018, Commissioner of Education, Richard Corcoran wrote a letter addressed to me in my official capacity as Governor of the State of Florida presenting two Okaloosa County Grand Jury Reports, dated February 20, 2018 and June 13, 2018; and

WHEREAS, based on the contents of the two Okaloosa County Grand Jury Reports, Commissioner Corcoran provided the following in his January 9, 2018, letter: “Based on the Grand Jury’s findings, which are within the appropriate scope of grand jury review, the investigation of this matter conducted by my General Counsel’s Office, and the grave and serious nature of these failures, I strongly recommend you exercise your authority under Article IV, Section 7(a) of the Florida Constitution and immediately suspend Superintendent Mary Beth Jackson from office.”; and

WHEREAS, according to the abovementioned reports during the 2015-2016 school year in Okaloosa County, there were numerous allegations and complaints made against Marlynn Stillions, a teacher at Kenwood Elementary School, involving inappropriate physical conduct with special needs students, including that Ms. Stillions kicked, tripped and grabbed students, withheld food and sprayed students with vinegar solution as punishment; and

WHEREAS, personnel in charge of reviewing complaints and human resources for Okaloosa County School District confirmed the allegations but failed to take any disciplinary action against Ms. Stillions and failed report Ms. Stillions to the Department of Children and Families, as required by Florida law; and

WHEREAS, personnel in charge of reviewing the allegations and complaints made against Ms. Stillions failed to report the conduct to the Office of Professional Practices of the Department of Education; and

WHEREAS, personnel within the Okaloosa County School District failed to report the allegations to the parents of the child involved in the investigation; and

WHEREAS, a subsequent investigation conducted by Okaloosa County Sheriff’s Office and the State Attorney’s Office led to Ms. Stillions being charged with four counts of child abuse; and

WHEREAS, a subsequent investigation conducted by Okaloosa County Sheriff’s Office and the State Attorney’s Office led to three other Okaloosa County School District employees being charged with failure to report suspected child abuse; and

WHEREAS, the Grand Jury found that Superintendent Jackson failed to implement proper procedures for record management and mandatory reporting to both the Department of Children and Families and the Department of Education; and

WHEREAS, the Grand Jury found that Superintendent Jackson failed to implement a proper procedure for removing any teacher who faces allegations that involve the health or safety of a student; and

WHEREAS, the Grand Jury found that Superintendent Jackson failed to provide adequate, necessary and frequent trainings for school district personnel, especially in the areas of ethics, child abuse and mandatory reporting obligations; and

WHEREAS, Superintendent Jackson is responsible for the conduct of school personnel and the safety and well-being of the students; and

WHEREAS, Superintendent Jackson has failed her responsibilities and duties to the parents and students of the Okaloosa County School District due to her failure to provide adequate, necessary and frequent training, a lack of supervision of school district personnel, and a failure to implement adequate safe-guards, policies, and reporting requirements to protect the safety and well-being of the students; and

WHEREAS, Superintendent Jackson has contravened her oath of office as set forth in Article II, section 5, of the Florida Constitution, to "...faithfully perform the duties" of Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County, Florida; and

WHEREAS, due to her clear neglect of duty and incompetence, Superintendent Jackson can no longer demonstrate the qualifications necessary to meet her duties in office; and

WHEREAS, it is in the best interests of the residents and students of Okaloosa County, and the citizens of the State of Florida, that Superintendent Jackson be immediately suspended from the public office, which she now holds;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RON DESANTIS, Governor of Florida, pursuant to the Constitution and the laws of the State of Florida, do hereby find, determine, and for the purposes of Article IV, section 7, of the Florida Constitution, allege as follows:

- A. Mary Beth Jackson is, and at all times material was, the Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County, Florida.
- B. The office of Superintendent is within the purview of the suspension powers of the Governor, pursuant to Article IV, section 7, of the Florida Constitution.
- C. The actions and omissions of Mary Beth Jackson as referenced constitute neglect of duty and incompetence for the purposes of Article IV, section 7, of the Florida Constitution.
- D. If, after execution of this suspension, additional facts are discovered that illustrate further neglect of duty and incompetence—or other constitutional grounds for suspension of Mary Beth Jackson—this Executive Order may be amended to allege those additional facts.

BEING FULLY ADVISED in the premises, and in accordance with the Constitution and the laws of the State of Florida, this Executive Order is issued, effective immediately:

Section 1. Mary Beth Jackson is hereby suspended from the public office that she now holds, to wit: Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County, Florida.

Section 2. Mary Beth Jackson is hereby prohibited from performing any official act, duty, or function of public office; from receiving any pay or allowance; and from being entitled to any of the emoluments or privileges of public office during the period of this suspension, which period shall be from the effective date hereof, until a further executive order is issued, or as otherwise provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Florida to be affixed, at Tallahassee, this 11th day of January, 2019.

MEMORANDUM

To: Debbie Brown, Secretary
From: Bill Galvano, President
Subject: Executive Order of Suspension 19-13,
In re Mary Beth Jackson
Date: March 4, 2019

On Friday, March 1, 2019, Executive Order of Suspension 19-13 was challenged by way of a Petition for Writ of Quo Warranto in the Florida

Supreme Court. Subsequent to filing the Writ, Ms. Jackson requested the matter be held in abeyance and the Governor had no objection.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 12.9(2), the proceedings regarding EO 19-13 are held in abeyance.

EXECUTIVE ORDER NUMBER 19-166

WHEREAS, on January 11, 2019, I, Governor Ron DeSantis, issued Executive Order 19-13 suspending Mary Beth Jackson from the office of Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County, Florida; and

WHEREAS, Mary Beth Jackson is challenging the suspension in front of the Florida Senate pursuant to Article IV, section 7(b) of the Florida Constitution; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, section 7(a), Florida Constitution provides that a suspended officer may be reinstated by the Governor at any time prior to removal;

WHEREAS, in expectation of Mary Beth Jackson's imminent resignation, our efforts should be focused on ensuring a safe learning environment, protecting the students of Okaloosa County, and allowing the school district to move forward with new leadership;

NOW THEREFORE, I, RON DESANTIS, Governor of Florida, pursuant to Article IV, Section 7(a), Florida Constitution, issue this Executive Order:

Section 1. Effective immediately, Mary Beth Jackson is reinstated to the public office she held at the time of the above-mentioned suspension, to wit: Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County, Florida.

Section 2. Effective immediately, Executive Order 19-13 is revoked and the suspension of Mary Beth Jackson is terminated.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Florida to be affixed, at Tallahassee, this 17th day of July, 2019.

Laurel M. Lee
SECRETARY OF STATE

Governor Ron DeSantis
State of Florida
The Capitol
400 S. Monroe Street
Tallahassee, FL 32399-0001

July 17, 2019

Governor DeSantis,

Following my reinstatement and with gratitude to the students and citizens of Okaloosa County, I hereby resign from my position as Superintendent of the Okaloosa County School District effective July 17, 2019 at 1:43 p.m.

I was born and raised in Okaloosa County, a product of its award-winning school system, and began my own career as an educator with the Okaloosa County School District more than thirty years ago. Since the start of my career, my service to this District has been a point of tremendous pride and joy, rivaled only by my family and my faith. After many rewarding years as a teacher, guidance counselor, and administrator, I was twice elected as Superintendent of Schools, thanks to the abiding support and vision of the voters of Okaloosa County.

As Superintendent, my singular focus has been to ensure that all students have the same opportunity to learn in a safe and positive setting from teachers who are knowledgeable, motivated, and engaged.

With the unwavering support of a remarkable team of educators, administrators, and staff, the District has seen improvements across the board during my tenure, including restoration and increases of funding for arts and Exceptional Student Education (ESE) programs, enhancements to student safety and campus security measures, improved graduation rates, and more. With grandchildren in this District, including one in the ESE program, these initiatives are near and dear to my heart.

When my dedication to the District and its pupils came under fire in recent months, I was moved to tell the students, parents, educators, and all others with a stake in the integrity and well-being of our District the unvarnished truth of the claims lodged against me. I thank you, Governor DeSantis, for your receptive ear and resulting decision to reinstate me to my rightful position as Superintendent of the Okaloosa County School District.

Notwithstanding my gratitude, and that of my supporters, for my position having been restored, a solemn commitment to the values that have guided me throughout my career—placing the needs and betterment of students above all else—compels me to relinquish my role. To do its best work, a school district requires not only wise and humble leadership, but stability. With a new school year upon us, and an elections cycle shortly after promising further change, added interruptions to the continuity of District leadership would not be in the best interests of the children whom I, as Superintendent, am duty-bound to serve.

Thus, upon somber deliberation, I resign my position as Superintendent and look thoughtfully forward to a new chapter, retiring in the place that has shaped my life from the start, Okaloosa County, Florida.

Sincerely,
Mary Beth Jackson

MEMORANDUM

To: Debbie Brown, Secretary
From: Bill Galvano, President
Subject: Executive Order of Suspension 19-13,
In Re Mary Beth Jackson
Date: July 17, 2019

On January 11, 2019, Ms. Mary Beth Jackson was suspended from office as superintendent of Okaloosa County Schools by way of Executive Order of Suspension 19-13.

Pursuant to Senate Rules, I appointed Dudley Goodlette to serve as Special Master to hold a hearing and provide an advisory report. Special Master Goodlette held the hearing May 28-29, 2019, and instructed the parties to submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law by August 1, 2019.

Today, Special Master Goodlette received notice of Executive Order 19-166 revoking Executive Order of Suspension 19-13 and reinstating Ms. Mary Beth Jackson as the Superintendent of Schools for Okaloosa County. The Special Master also received Ms. Mary Beth Jackson's letter of resignation.

Given this information, the referral to Special Master Dudley Goodlette is withdrawn and no further action is required by Special Master Goodlette, the parties, or the Senate.

[This matter having been resolved was closed.]

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

The following certificate was received:

No. SC19-1907

IN RE: CERTIFICATION OF NEED

FOR ADDITIONAL JUDGES.

November 27, 2019

PER CURIAM.

This opinion fulfills our constitutional obligation to determine the State's need for additional judges in fiscal year 2020/2021 and to certify our "findings and recommendations concerning such need" to the Florida Legislature.¹ Certification is "the sole mechanism established by our constitution for a systematic and uniform assessment of this need." In re Certification of Need for Additional Judges, 889 So. 2d 734, 735 (Fla. 2004).

In this opinion, we certify the need for two additional circuit court judgeships in the Ninth Judicial Circuit, one additional circuit court judgeship in the First Judicial Circuit, one additional circuit court judgeship in the Fourteenth Judicial Circuit, four additional county court judgeships in Hillsborough County, one additional county court judgeship in Orange County, one additional county court judgeship in Lee County, and no additional judgeships in the district courts of appeal. We decertify the need for two county court judgeships in Brevard County, one county court judgeship in Monroe County, and one county court judgeship in Collier County.

To make this decision, the Florida Supreme Court continues to use a verified objective weighted caseload methodology as a primary basis for assessing judicial need.² The objective data are supplemented by judgeship requests submitted by the lower courts, including descriptions of the impact of various secondary factors. These secondary factors identified by each chief judge reflect local differences in support of their requests for more judgeships or in support of their requests for this Court not to decertify judgeships in situations where the objective case weights alone would indicate excess judicial capacity. Applying the criteria in this two-step methodology, we conclude that the First, Ninth, and Fourteenth circuits have a demonstrable need for additional circuit judges. Using the same criteria, this Court determines that the secondary factor analysis, coupled with recent statutory amendments and other relevant circumstances further explained below, warrants a more restrained approach to the decertification of trial court judgeships than the raw numbers alone would indicate.

Our evaluation of these matters takes into account developments in the way our courts perform their duties that are not currently captured by the weighted case load methodology. We also consider not only recently adopted legislation but also potential legislation and rule changes that could have a significant impact.

Chapter 2019-58, Laws of Florida, increased the maximum dollar amount in controversy of cases under the jurisdiction of county courts.³ The Legislature took a phased approach to the implementation of this amendment. Effective January 1, 2020, county court jurisdiction increases from a current upper limit of $15,000 to $30,000 and is scheduled for a second upward adjustment to $50,000 on January 1, 2023. Although these changes necessarily will alter workload in the county and circuit courts, precise estimates of the impact of these statutory revisions are not possible at this time.

At the beginning of 2019, this Court established the Judicial Management Council Workgroup on Appellate Review of County Court Decisions.⁴ We directed the workgroup to study whether the circuit courts should be uniformly required to hear appeals in panels, to review a previous recommendation with regard to allowing intra- and inter-circuit conflicts in circuit court appellate decisions to be certified to the district courts of appeal, and to consider whether other changes to the process for appellate review of county court decisions would improve the administration of justice. The Court has considered the report of that workgroup, submitted in October of this year, and accepted its recommendations, with some slight modifications. The Supreme Court supports the Legislature’s consideration of legislation during the 2020 Regular Session to transfer to the district courts of appeal the circuit courts’ appellate and related extraordinary writ authority in county civil cases including non-criminal violations, county criminal cases, and administrative cases. Further, we have expressed our support for an effective date for the legislation that is no earlier than January 1, 2021, to allow adequate time for judicial branch implementation. If the various statutes are amended by the Legislature to implement these changes, the judicial workload in the circuit courts and district courts will necessarily be affected.

Trial court judges have expressed concerns about a need to review and possibly refine the method for reporting on the increased number and types of problem-solving courts throughout the state and the increased number of cases handled by those problem-solving courts. It is important for this Court, in its assessment of judicial need, to evaluate the impact on judicial workload the problem-solving courts create and, if necessary, update the associated case weights. While problem-solving courts show positive results in reduced recidivism and better outcomes in many cases, they also require significantly more judicial time.

Finally, this Court is awaiting the results of an important review it has ordered, which may lead to revision of the rules we employ to determine judicial need. Specifically, this Court has directed the Commission on Trial Court Performance and Accountability to review secondary factors impacting judicial certification to determine if there are areas of inconsistency between the case weights and current judicial assignments. The Commission is reviewing rules 2.240(b)(1)(B) and 2.240(c), Florida Rules of Judicial Administration, to determine if there is a need to recommend any suggested modifications.

Having conducted a quantitative assessment of trial and appellate court judicial workload and, as noted above, having also considered the various qualitative factors, workload trends, legislatively enacted jurisdictional changes and other relevant circumstances, we certify the need for ten additional trial court judgeships in Florida, consisting of four circuit court judgeships and six county court judgeships, as set forth in the appendix to this opinion. We also recommend the decertification of four county court judgeships, also identified in the appendix, and we certify no need for additional judgeships in the district courts of appeal.

It is so ordered.

CANADY, C.J., and POLSTON, LABARGA, LAWSON, LAGOA, and MUNIZ, J.J., concur.

¹Article V, section 9 of the Florida Constitution provides in pertinent part:

Determination of number of judges.—The supreme court shall establish by rule uniform criteria for the determination of the need for additional judges except supreme court justices, the necessity for decreasing the number of judges and for increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits. If the supreme court finds that a need exists for increasing or decreasing the number of judges or increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits, it shall, prior to the next regular session of the legislature, certify to the legislature its findings and recommendations concerning such need.

²Our certification methodology relies primarily on case weights and calculations of available judge time to determine the need for additional trial court judges. See Fla. R. Jud. Admin. 2.240.

³Section 34.01(1)(c), Florida Statutes (2019), states that county courts shall have original jurisdiction:

Of all actions at law, except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the circuit courts, in which the matter in controversy does not exceed, exclusive of interest, costs, and attorney fees:

1. If filed on or before December 31, 2019, the sum of $15,000.
2. If filed on or after January 1, 2020, the sum of $30,000.
3. If filed on or after January 1, 2023, the sum of $50,000.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Reverend Beth Demme, Good Samaritan United Methodist Church, Tallahassee:

Dear God,

We come before you today with a sense of awe and wonder. We are in awe of you and we wonder at your willingness to use us. May we be good vessels of your honor, love, grace, and mercy.

We come before you today overflowing with appreciation for our great state—a place you have filled with tremendous beauty and incredible resources. Thank you for the environmental resources and economic resources. Thank you for the wonderful people who call Florida home and for the millions of people who will visit our Sunshine State this year.

May we never confuse stewardship of your creation with ownership of what you have entrusted to us. May we hear you calling us to care for each other, especially those who have no voice.

You have placed remarkable responsibility on those who govern. We ask that you walk with these Senators, their staffs, and their families, as they navigate the responsibilities of serving. May they feel the burden of their calling without feeling burdened by their calling.

We come before you today yearning to be your humble servants. Please be with each and every Senator. Open every heart and every mind to you, that your will may be done here in this place, for the greater good.

Yes, you are our creator and sustainer, and so we come before you today with a sense of awe and wonder.

Hear our prayer. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Ryan Albritton of Wauchula, son of Senator Albritton; Katherine Bouck of Tallahassee; and Jaylen Walker of Jacksonville, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Dr. Joshua Lenchus of Davie, sponsored by Senator Book, as the doctor of the day. Dr. Lenchus specializes in internal/hospital medicine.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Passidomo—

By Senator Passidomo—

SR 490—A resolution recognizing May 2020 as “Bladder Cancer Awareness Month” in Florida.

WHEREAS, according to the National Institutes of Health, bladder cancer is the fourth most common cancer in men and, as of 2015, approximately 708,444 people in the United States were living with bladder cancer, and

WHEREAS, Florida was estimated to have the second-highest average annual number of new bladder cancer diagnoses of all of the states, behind only California, and

WHEREAS, it was estimated that 80,470 new cases would be diagnosed nationwide in 2019, while it was estimated that 17,670 deaths from bladder cancer would occur, and

WHEREAS, although bladder cancer can occur at any age, this cancer is more common in persons who are 55 years of age or older and significantly more common in men, and

WHEREAS, while bladder cancer is the 6th most common cancer overall in the United States, it ranks 17th in terms of research funding, and

WHEREAS, exposure to certain workplace chemicals and smoking are major risk factors for bladder cancer, and

WHEREAS, because diagnosis can be delayed due to the lack of awareness of early symptoms, patients should immediately discuss any concerns regarding the health of their urinary systems with their physicians, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That May 2020 is recognized as “Bladder Cancer Awareness Month” in Florida.

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

At the request of Senator Passidomo—

By Senator Passidomo—

SR 1008—A resolution designating February 3-5, 2020, as “Great American Realtor Days” in Florida.

WHEREAS, Florida Realtors is the largest trade association in this state with more than 187,000 members and more than 23,000 member firms, and

WHEREAS, 2020 marks the 50th observance of Great American Realtor Days in Tallahassee, and

WHEREAS, Florida Realtors helped more than 400,000 people achieve the dream of homeownership in Florida last year, and

WHEREAS, only members of Florida Realtors pledge compliance with the strict Realtor Code of Ethics, a promise of honest and ethical business practices for their clients and customers based on professionalism and protection of the public, and

WHEREAS, real estate represents 21.9 percent of Florida’s gross state product, and

WHEREAS, the total impact of the real estate industry on the economy of Florida is $227 billion annually, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That February 3-5, 2020, is designated as “Great American Realtor Days” in Florida in recognition of the outstanding services realtors provide to residents and visitors of the state and the critical contribution they make to the state economy.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution, with the Seal of the Senate affixed, be presented to Barry Grooms, 2020 President of Florida Realtors, as a tangible token of the sentiments of the Florida Senate.

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

SPECIAL ORDER CALENDAR

On motion by Senator Bradley—

SB 172—A bill to be entitled An act relating to the Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act; amending s. 499.002, F.S.; preempting the regulation of over-the-counter proprietary drugs or cosmetics to the state; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

Pursuant to Rule 4.19, SB 172 was placed on the calendar of Bills on Third Reading.

SM 420—A memorial to the Congress of the United States and the United States Department of Veterans Affairs, urging Congress and the department to ensure that the VA MISSION Act of 2018 is implemented in a manner consistent with the legislative intent and purpose of the act.

—was read the second time by title. On motion by Senator Diaz, SM 420 was adopted and certified to the House.

On motion by Senator Rodriguez—

SR 546—A resolution condemning the oppression of the Nicaraguan people under President Daniel Ortega.

WHEREAS, Daniel Ortega was first elected President of Nicaragua in 1984, losing a bid for reelection in 1990 and subsequent bids for the presidency in 1996 and 2001, and

WHEREAS, running on a platform of peace and reconciliation, Daniel Ortega was again elected President of Nicaragua in 2006 and soon after his inauguration paid an official visit to Iran to meet with Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, and

WHEREAS, during that visit Daniel Ortega hailed the “twin revolutions” of Iran and Nicaragua in the “struggle against imperialism,” and praised the current Cuban administration as “brothers in our fight against imperialist scum,” while celebrating dictators with a record of human rights abuses, such as President Recep Erdoğan of Turkey, and

WHEREAS, in July 2009, Daniel Ortega suggested that he would like to see the Nicaraguan Constitution amended so that he could run again for president and a judicial decision issued by the Supreme Court of Justice of Nicaragua the following October effectively opened the door to his candidacy, and

WHEREAS, Daniel Ortega was reelected president on November 6, 2011, with the Supreme Electoral Council reporting that he had received 63 percent of the vote, and his reelection was confirmed on November 16, 2011, and

WHEREAS, Daniel Ortega signed a deal giving rights to a large amount of Nicaragua’s land to a Chinese company for 50 years with an additional 50-year option, which would destroy indigenous communities and Nicaragua’s environmental diversity and invite a foreign power to run the largest potential business in Nicaragua without involving local workers, and

WHEREAS, Daniel Ortega cut pensions for retirees and those currently in the workforce and, as part of a broad culture of suppression of the Nicaraguan people in 2013, cracked down on students’ free speech, and

WHEREAS, in January 2014, the National Assembly approved constitutional amendments that abolished term limits for the presidency, allowing a president to run for an unlimited number of 5-year terms, and other constitutional reform that gave the president sole power to appoint military and police commanders, and

WHEREAS, Daniel Ortega closely aligned himself with the late Venezuelan President Hugo Chávez and many view them as being cut from the same destructive and authoritarian ideological cloth, and

WHEREAS, in 2018, using governmental and paramilitary forces, Daniel Ortega launched a violent crackdown on unarmed protesters, many of them students and younger Nicaraguans, inflicting abuses that included beating captured protesters during arrests and in detention, at times denying them urgent medical attention; raping detainees, including the use of metal tubes and firearms; waterboarding; electric shock; acid burns; mock executions; forced nudity; removal of fingernails; and, in some cases, forcing detainees to record self-incriminating confessions, and

WHEREAS, the Nicaraguan government has targeted reporters and raided the offices of independent media outlets, filed criminal charges against journalists, canceled the legal registration of nine civil society organizations, and expelled foreign journalists and international human rights monitors from the country, and

WHEREAS, like Hugo Chávez in Venezuela, Daniel Ortega has manipulated election laws; eliminated checks and balances in Nicaragua’s government by controlling the national police; co-opted the National Assembly and the Supreme Court of Nicaragua; curtailed freedom of expression; and quashed opposition leaders and other critics, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the Florida Senate condemns the oppression of the Nicaraguan people under President Daniel Ortega.

—was read the second time by title. On motion by Senator Rodriguez, SR 546 was adopted.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Father Chuck Ruoff, St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, Naples:

God of power and might, we come to you today asking for your guidance, wisdom, and support as we continue this 2020 Session of the Florida State Senate. Assist with your spirit of counsel and fortitude this legislative body and other government leaders of this state and of these United States. Help us to engage in meaningful discussion. Allow this body to grow closer as a group and nurture the bonds of community.

Please bless the efforts of our hands, the bonds between us, and the influence of our work in this location and beyond. Fill us with your grace as this membership makes decisions that affect its constituents. We ask that your blessing will rest on this team and that you grant them great vision and enthusiasm for their work.

Finally, continue to remind us that what we do and all that is accomplished here is for the pursuit of truth for the greater glory of you and for the service of humanity. Amen.

PLEDGE

On motion by Senator Gibson—

SB 400—A bill to be entitled An act relating to elder abuse fatality review teams; creating s. 415.1103, F.S.; authorizing the establishment of elder abuse fatality review teams in each judicial circuit, to be housed, for administrative purposes only, in the Department of Elderly Affairs; providing conditions for review team membership, establishment, and organization; specifying requirements for a review team's operations and meeting schedules; requiring that the administrative costs of operating a review team be paid by team members or the entities they represent; authorizing elder abuse fatality review teams in existence on a certain date to continue to exist; requiring such existing teams to comply with specified requirements; specifying review team duties; requiring each review team to annually submit to the department by a certain date a summary report containing specified information; requiring the department to annually prepare a summary report based on the review teams' information and submit such report to the Governor, the Legislature, and the Department of Children and Families; providing immunity from monetary liability for review team members under certain conditions; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

Pursuant to Rule 4.19, SB 400 was placed on the calendar of Bills on Third Reading.

On motion by Senator Stargel—

CS for CS for SB 404—A bill to be entitled An act relating to abortion; amending s. 390.0111, F.S.; reclassifying the criminal offense for a specified violation; amending s. 390.01114, F.S.; revising the short title; prohibiting physicians from performing or inducing the termination of the pregnancy of a minor unless specified requirements are satisfied; requiring a physician to obtain written consent from a minor's parent or legal guardian before performing or inducing a termination of the pregnancy of a minor; requiring the consenting parent or legal guardian to provide specified proof of identification and a specified document to the physician; providing requirements for the document; providing exceptions to such consent requirement; providing criminal penalties for physicians; revising provisions relating to the procedures for judicial waiver to conform to changes made by the act; amending s. 27.511, F.S.; conforming a provision to changes made by the act; providing severability; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

Senator Stewart moved the following amendment which failed:

Amendment 1 (927186) (with title amendment)—Between lines 284 and 285 insert:

Section 3. Paragraph (n) of subsection (2) of section 1003.42, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1003.42 Required instruction.—

(2) Members of the instructional staff of the public schools, subject to the rules of the State Board of Education and the district school board, shall teach efficiently and faithfully, using the books and materials required that meet the highest standards for professionalism and historical accuracy, following the prescribed courses of study, and employing approved methods of instruction, the following:

(n) Comprehensive health education that addresses concepts of community health; consumer health; environmental health; family life, including an awareness of the benefits of sexual abstinence as the expected standard and the consequences of teenage pregnancy; the full range of contraceptive methods available to prevent teenage pregnancy; mental and emotional health; injury prevention and safety; Internet safety; nutrition; personal health; prevention and control of disease; and substance use and abuse. The health education curriculum for students in grades 7 through 12 shall include a teen dating violence and abuse component that includes, but is not limited to, the definition of dating violence and abuse, the warning signs of dating violence and abusive behavior, the characteristics of healthy relationships, measures to prevent and stop dating violence and abuse, and community resources available to victims of dating violence and abuse. The Department of Health, in consultation with the department, shall develop instructional materials regarding the full range of contraceptive methods available to prevent teenage pregnancy, including the efficacy of each method, which must be in easily comprehensible language and include only medically accurate, evidence-based information. School districts shall include the instructional materials in their health education curriculum.

The State Board of Education is encouraged to adopt standards and pursue assessment of the requirements of this subsection. A character development program that incorporates the values of the recipients of the Congressional Medal of Honor and that is offered as part of a social studies, English Language Arts, or other schoolwide character building and veteran awareness initiative meets the requirements of paragraphs (s) and (t).

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete line 18 and insert: made by the act; amending s. 1003.42, F.S.; revising the requirements for comprehensive health education provided in public schools to include coverage of the full range of contraceptive methods available to prevent teenage pregnancy; requiring the Department of Health, in consultation with the Department of Education, to develop instructional materials; providing requirements for the materials; requiring school districts to include the materials in their health education curriculum; amending s. 27.511, F.S.; conforming

Senator Farmer moved the following amendment:

Amendment 2 (909932) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Section 390.01117, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

390.01117 Parental consent for abortion.—

(1) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the “Parental Consent for Abortion Act.”

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) “Consent” means a notarized written statement signed by a minor and either her mother, her father, or her legal guardian declaring that the minor is pregnant, that she intends to seek an abortion, and that her mother, father, or legal guardian, as applicable, consents to the abortion.

(b) “Minor” means an unemancipated person younger than 18 years of age.

(c) “Statement of veto of abortion” means a written statement signed by a minor and either her mother, her father, or her legal guardian declaring that the minor is pregnant, that she desires an abortion, and that her mother, father, or legal guardian, as applicable, objects to the abortion, including a detailed explanation by the minor's mother, father, or legal guardian of the reasons for his or her veto of the abortion.

(3) CONSENT OF ONE PARENT OR LEGAL GUARDIAN REQUIRED.—A physician may not perform an abortion on a minor unless the physician has been presented with consent as defined in this section.

(4) EXCEPTIONS.—Consent is not required under subsection (3) if:

(a) The attending physician certifies in the minor's medical record that a medical emergency, as defined in s. 390.01114(2)(d), exists and there is insufficient time to obtain consent;

(b) The attending physician certifies in the minor's medical record that the minor's parent or legal guardian has failed to fully and properly complete a statement of veto of abortion within the required time limit established in subsection (5); or

(c) Consent is waived under subsection (7).

(5) PROCEDURE FOR STATEMENT OF VETO OF ABORTION.—

(a) A minor may request written documentation of a parent's or legal guardian's decision to veto an abortion in the form of a statement of veto of abortion.

(b) A parent or legal guardian who vetoes a minor's abortion must complete and sign the statement of veto of abortion within 3 days after the minor requests the statement. A parent's or legal guardian's failure to fully and properly complete a statement of veto of abortion within the required 3-day timeframe constitutes a waiver of the parent's or legal guardian's ability to veto the minor's abortion.

(c) Forms for a statement of veto of abortion shall be made available to a minor both online and in print by all of the following entities:

1. Any abortion provider.
2. Any crisis pregnancy center.
3. Any school counselor.
4. Any court participating in the judicial waiver process.
5. The Florida Department of Health.

(6) DUTIES AND LIABILITIES ASSOCIATED WITH STATEMENTS OF VETO OF ABORTION.—

(a) A parent or legal guardian who has completed a statement of veto of abortion is financially responsible for all medical costs associated with the continuation of a pregnancy as a result of the parent's or legal guardian's objection to the abortion, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Medical appointments, procedures, and equipment.
2. Prescription medication.
3. Nonprescription medication.
4. Vitamins or nutritional supplements.
5. Psychological care.
6. Psychiatric care.

(b) A parent or legal guardian who has completed a statement of veto of abortion is financially responsible for all education costs ordinarily or customarily related to a child born as a result of the parent's or legal guardian's objection to the abortion, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Costs associated with child care, such as day care or babysitting.
2. Pre-kindergarten.
3. Private education tuition and fees.
4. Parochial education tuition and fees.
5. Educational supplies, such as notebooks, pens, pencils, and backpacks.
6. Tutoring.
7. College or university tuition at a private or public institution.
8. Special education programs.

(c) A parent or legal guardian who has completed a statement of veto of abortion is financially responsible for all costs ordinarily and customarily related to providing food and housing for a child born as a result of the parent's or legal guardian's veto of abortion, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Rent or mortgage for a living space.
2. Disposable or reusable diapers.
3. Clothing.
4. Food.
5. Hygiene items, such as toothbrushes, toothpaste, or sanitary napkins.

(7) PROCEDURE FOR JUDICIAL WAIVER OF CONSENT.—

(a) A minor may petition any circuit court in the district in which the minor resides for a waiver of the right of the mother, father, or legal guardian to veto an abortion and may participate in proceedings on her own behalf. The petition must include a statement that the minor is pregnant and is unemancipated, that a parent or a legal guardian of the minor has vetoed her right to an abortion, and that the minor wishes to obtain an abortion regardless of the express veto of her parent or legal guardian. The circuit court shall advise the minor that she has a right to court-appointed counsel and shall provide her with counsel upon her request. The court also may appoint a guardian ad litem for the minor. A guardian ad litem appointed under this subsection must maintain the confidentiality of the minor's identity.

(b) Court proceedings under this section shall be confidential and must ensure the anonymity of the minor. All court proceedings under this section shall be sealed. The minor may file her petition in the court using a pseudonym or using solely her initials. All documents related to this petition shall be confidential and may not be made available to the public. These proceedings shall be given precedence over other pending matters to the extent necessary to ensure that the court reaches a decision promptly. The court shall rule, and issue written findings of fact and conclusions of law, within 3 business days after the petition is filed, except that the 3-business-day limitation may be extended at the request of the minor.

1. If the court fails to rule within the 3-business-day period and an extension has not been requested, the minor may immediately petition for a hearing upon the expiration of the 3-business-day period to the chief judge of the circuit, who must ensure that a hearing is held within 48 hours after receipt of the minor's petition and that an order is entered within 24 hours after the hearing.

2. If the circuit court does not grant a judicial waiver of consent, the minor has the right to an appeal. An appellate court must rule within 7 days after receipt of the appeal, but a ruling may be remanded with further instruction, in which case a ruling must be made within 3 business days after the remand. The reason for overturning a ruling on appeal must be based on abuse of discretion by the court and may not be based on the weight of the evidence presented to the circuit court, since the proceeding is a nonadversarial proceeding.

(c) If the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that the minor is sufficiently mature to decide whether to terminate her pregnancy, the court shall issue an order authorizing the minor to obtain an abortion without the consent of a parent or legal guardian. If the court does not make the finding specified in this paragraph or paragraph (d), it must dismiss the petition. The court shall consider whether there may be any undue influence by another on the minor's decision to have an abortion and all of the following factors concerning the minor:

1. Age.
2. Overall intelligence.
3. Emotional development and stability.
4. Credibility and demeanor as a witness.
5. Ability to accept responsibility.
6. Ability to assess both the immediate and long-range consequences of her choices.
7. Ability to understand and explain the medical risks of terminating her pregnancy and to apply that understanding to her decision.

(d) If the court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the petitioner is the victim of child abuse or sexual abuse, as those terms are defined in s. 390.01114(2), inflicted by one or both of her parents or her legal guardian, or finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that requiring the consent of a parent or legal guardian is not in the best interest of the petitioner, the court shall issue an order authorizing the minor to obtain an abortion without the consent of a parent or legal guardian. The best-interest standard does not include financial best interest or financial considerations or the potential financial impact on the minor or her family if she does not terminate the pregnancy. If the court finds evidence of child abuse or sexual abuse of the petitioner by any person, the court shall report the evidence of child abuse or sexual abuse of the petitioner, as provided in s. 39.201. If the court does not make the finding specified in this paragraph or paragraph (c), it must dismiss the petition.

(e) If the court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that a statement of veto of abortion is based predominantly on the philosophical views of the parent or legal guardian, and not on the best interest of the minor, the court shall grant a judicial waiver of consent.

(f) A court that conducts proceedings under this section shall:

1. Provide for a written transcript of all testimony and proceedings;
2. Issue a final written order containing factual findings and legal conclusions supporting its decision, including factual findings and legal conclusions relating to the maturity of the minor as provided under paragraph (c); and
3. Order that a confidential record be maintained.

(g) All hearings under this section, including appeals, shall remain confidential and closed to the public, as provided by court rule.

(h) An expedited appeal shall be made available, as the Supreme Court provides by rule, to any minor to whom the circuit court denies a waiver of consent. An order authorizing an abortion without parental consent is not subject to appeal.

(i) Filing fees or court costs may not be required of any minor who petitions a court for a waiver of consent under this subsection at either the trial or the appellate level.

(j) A county is not required to pay the salaries, costs, or expenses of any counsel appointed by the court under this subsection.

(8) RULEMAKING.—The Supreme Court is requested to adopt rules and forms for statements of veto of abortion and for petitions for judicial waiver to ensure that proceedings under subsections (6) and (8) are handled expeditiously and in a manner consistent with this section. The Supreme Court is also requested to adopt rules to ensure that the hearings protect the confidentiality of the minor's identity and the confidentiality of the proceedings.

(9) CRIMINAL PENALTIES AND CIVIL REMEDIES.—

(a) Any person who willfully and intentionally performs an abortion with knowledge that, or with reckless disregard as to whether, the minor upon whom the abortion is to be performed is unemancipated without obtaining the required consent commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. It is a defense to prosecution under this section that the minor falsely represented her age or identity to the physician to be at least 18 years of age by displaying an apparently valid governmental record of identification such that a careful and prudent person under similar circumstances would have relied on the representation. The defense does not apply if the physician is shown to have had independent knowledge of the minor's actual age or identity or failed to use due diligence in determining her age or identity.

(b) Any person not authorized to provide consent under this section who provides consent commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(c) Failure to obtain consent from a person from whom consent is required under this section is prima facie evidence of failure to obtain consent and of interference with family relations in appropriate civil actions. Such prima facie evidence does not apply to any issue other than failure to obtain consent from the parent or legal guardian and interference with family relations in appropriate civil actions. The civil action may be based on a claim that the act was a result of negligence, gross negligence, wantonness, willfulness, intention, or other legal standard of care. Exemplary damages may be awarded in appropriate civil actions relevant to violations of this section.

(d) Failure to comply with the requirements of this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action under each respective practice act and under s. 456.072.

(e) An individual whose pregnancy has continued as a result of her parent's or legal guardian's objection to an abortion may petition a court to recover any expenses provided in subsection (7) which have not been paid directly by the parent or legal guardian who completed the statement of veto of abortion.

(f) Any legal expenses and attorney fees incurred while recovering expenses provided in subsection (7) by an individual whose pregnancy has continued as a result of her parent's or legal guardian's objection to an abortion shall be paid by the parent or legal guardian who completed the statement of veto of abortion.

(g) An individual whose pregnancy has continued as a result of her parent's or legal guardian's objection to an abortion is entitled to financial compensation from the parent or legal guardian who completed a statement of veto of abortion for any physical, emotional, psychological, or financial damage incurred as a result of the continuation of pregnancy.

(h) Any legal expenses and attorney fees incurred while pursuing compensation under paragraph (g) shall be paid by the parent or legal guardian who completed the statement of veto of abortion.

(10) CONSTRUCTION.—

(a) This section may not be construed to create or recognize a right to abortion.

(b) This section may not be construed to limit the common law rights of parents or legal guardians.

(c) By enacting this section, the Legislature does not intend to make lawful an abortion that is currently unlawful.

(d) This section may not be construed to grant a parent or legal guardian who completes a statement of veto of abortion any right to make or influence decisions regarding a child born as a result of the continuation of pregnancy.

(11) SEVERABILITY.—Any provision of this section held to be invalid or unenforceable by its terms, or as applied to any person or circumstance, shall be construed so as to give it the maximum effect permitted by law, unless such holding is one of utter invalidity or unenforceability, in which event such provision shall be deemed severable and may not affect the remainder hereof or the application of such provision to other persons not similarly situated or to other, dissimilar circumstances.

Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 2020.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to parental consent for abortion; creating s. 390.01117, F.S.; providing a short title; defining terms; prohibiting a physician from performing an abortion on a minor unless the physician has been presented with consent from the minor's parent or legal guardian, as appropriate; providing exceptions; authorizing a minor to request a parent or legal guardian document his or her veto of an abortion in a specified form; requiring the parent or legal guardian to complete and sign the form within a specified timeframe; requiring certain entities to make the form available online and in printed format; providing duties and liabilities for a parent or legal guardian who completes the form; authorizing a minor to petition any circuit court in the district in which the minor resides for a waiver of consent required to obtain an abortion; requiring a specified statement to be included in the petition; providing for court-appointed counsel and confidentiality; requiring the court to give precedence to waiver of consent proceedings and requiring a court to rule within a specified timeframe; providing for an extension of time at the request of the minor; authorizing a minor to petition for a hearing upon the expiration of the time allowed and requiring the chief judge of the circuit to ensure that a hearing is held and that an order is entered within specified timeframes; providing for appeals within a specified timeframe; requiring the court to dismiss the petition if it does not make specified findings; requiring the court to consider undue influence on the minor's decision and specified factors; requiring the court to report any findings of evidence of child abuse or sexual abuse of the petitioner; requiring the court to grant a judicial waiver of consent under certain circumstances; requiring a court to provide for a written transcript of waiver of consent proceedings and to include certain findings and conclusions in its order; prohibiting filing fees or costs for a minor who petitions the court for a waiver of consent; specifying that a county is not required to pay the salaries, costs, or expenses of certain court-appointed counsel; requesting the Supreme Court to adopt certain rules and forms relating to waiver of consent proceedings; providing criminal penalties, disciplinary action, and civil remedies; providing construction and severability; providing an effective date.

Pursuant to Rule 7.1, there being no objection, consideration of the following late-filed amendment was allowed:

Senator Farmer moved the following substitute amendment which was adopted:

Substitute Amendment 3 (337664) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Section 390.01117, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

390.01117 Parental consent for abortion.—

(1) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the “Parental Consent for Abortion Act.”

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) “Consent” means a notarized written statement signed by a minor and either her mother, her father, or her legal guardian declaring that the minor is pregnant, that she intends to seek an abortion, and that her mother, father, or legal guardian, as applicable, consents to the abortion.

(b) “Minor” means an unemancipated person younger than 18 years of age.

(c) “Statement of veto of abortion” means a written statement signed by a minor and either her mother, her father, or her legal guardian declaring that the minor is pregnant, that she desires an abortion, and that her mother, father, or legal guardian, as applicable, objects to the abortion, including a detailed explanation by the minor’s mother, father, or legal guardian of the reasons for his or her veto of the abortion.

(3) CONSENT OF ONE PARENT OR LEGAL GUARDIAN REQUIRED.—A physician may not perform an abortion on a minor unless the physician has been presented with consent as defined in this section.

(4) EXCEPTIONS.—Consent is not required under subsection (3) if:

(a) The attending physician certifies in the minor’s medical record that a medical emergency, as defined in s. 390.01114(2)(d), exists and there is insufficient time to obtain consent;

(b) The attending physician certifies in the minor’s medical record that the minor’s parent or legal guardian has failed to fully and properly complete a statement of veto of abortion within the required time limit established in subsection (5); or

(c) Consent is waived under subsection (7).

(5) PROCEDURE FOR STATEMENT OF VETO OF ABORTION.—

(a) A minor may request written documentation of a parent’s or legal guardian’s decision to veto an abortion in the form of a statement of veto of abortion.

(b) A parent or legal guardian who vetoes a minor’s abortion must complete and sign the statement of veto of abortion within 3 days after the minor requests the statement. A parent’s or legal guardian’s failure to fully and properly complete a statement of veto of abortion within the required 3-day timeframe constitutes a waiver of the parent’s or legal guardian’s ability to veto the minor’s abortion.

(c) Forms for a statement of veto of abortion shall be made available to a minor both online and in print by all of the following entities:

1. Any abortion provider.
2. Any crisis pregnancy center.
3. Any school counselor.
4. Any court participating in the judicial waiver process.
5. The Florida Department of Health.

(6) DUTIES AND LIABILITIES ASSOCIATED WITH STATEMENTS OF VETO OF ABORTION.—

(a) A parent or legal guardian who has completed a statement of veto of abortion is financially responsible for all medical costs associated with the continuation of a pregnancy as a result of the parent’s or legal guardian’s objection to the abortion, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Medical appointments, procedures, and equipment.
2. Prescription medication.
3. Nonprescription medication.
4. Vitamins or nutritional supplements.
5. Psychological care.
6. Psychiatric care.

(b) A parent or legal guardian who has completed a statement of veto of abortion is financially responsible for all education costs ordinarily or customarily related to a child born as a result of the parent’s or legal guardian’s objection to the abortion, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Costs associated with child care, such as day care or babysitting.
2. Pre-kindergarten.
3. Private education tuition and fees.
4. Parochial education tuition and fees.
5. Educational supplies, such as notebooks, pens, pencils, and backpacks.
6. Tutoring.
7. College or university tuition at a private or public institution.
8. Special education programs.

(c) A parent or legal guardian who has completed a statement of veto of abortion is financially responsible for all costs ordinarily and customarily related to providing food and housing for a child born as a result of the parent’s or legal guardian’s veto of abortion, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

1. Rent or mortgage for a living space.
2. Disposable or reusable diapers.
3. Clothing.
4. Food.
5. Hygiene items, such as toothbrushes, toothpaste, or sanitary napkins.

(7) PROCEDURE FOR JUDICIAL WAIVER OF CONSENT.—

(a) A minor may petition any circuit court in the district in which the minor resides for a waiver of the right of the mother, father, or legal guardian to veto an abortion and may participate in proceedings on her own behalf. The petition must include a statement that the minor is pregnant and is unemancipated, that a parent or a legal guardian of the minor has vetoed her right to an abortion, and that the minor wishes to obtain an abortion regardless of the express veto of her parent or legal guardian. The circuit court shall advise the minor that she has a right to court-appointed counsel and shall provide her with counsel upon her request. The court also may appoint a guardian ad litem for the minor. A guardian ad litem appointed under this subsection must maintain the confidentiality of the minor’s identity.

(b) Court proceedings under this section shall be confidential and must ensure the anonymity of the minor. All court proceedings under this section shall be sealed. The minor may file her petition in the court using a pseudonym or using solely her initials. All documents related to this petition shall be confidential and may not be made available to the public. These proceedings shall be given precedence over other pending matters to the extent necessary to ensure that the court reaches a decision promptly. The court shall rule, and issue written findings of fact and conclusions of law, within 3 business days after the petition is filed, except that the 3-business-day limitation may be extended at the request of the minor.

1. If the court fails to rule within the 3-business-day period and an extension has not been requested, the minor may immediately petition for a hearing upon the expiration of the 3-business-day period to the chief judge of the circuit, who must ensure that a hearing is held within 48 hours after receipt of the minor's petition and that an order is entered within 24 hours after the hearing.

2. If the circuit court does not grant a judicial waiver of consent, the minor has the right to an appeal. An appellate court must rule within 7 days after receipt of the appeal, but a ruling may be remanded with further instruction, in which case a ruling must be made within 3 business days after the remand. The reason for overturning a ruling on appeal must be based on abuse of discretion by the court and may not be based on the weight of the evidence presented to the circuit court, since the proceeding is a nonadversarial proceeding.

(c) If the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that the minor is sufficiently mature to decide whether to terminate her pregnancy, the court shall issue an order authorizing the minor to obtain an abortion without the consent of a parent or legal guardian. If the court does not make the finding specified in this paragraph, paragraph (d), or paragraph (e), it must dismiss the petition. The court shall consider whether there may be any undue influence by another on the minor's decision to have an abortion and all of the following factors concerning the minor:

1. Age.
2. Overall intelligence.
3. Emotional development and stability.
4. Credibility and demeanor as a witness.
5. Ability to accept responsibility.
6. Ability to assess both the immediate and long-range consequences of her choices.
7. Ability to understand and explain the medical risks of terminating her pregnancy and to apply that understanding to her decision.

(d) If the court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the petitioner is the victim of child abuse or sexual abuse, as those terms are defined in s. 390.01114(2), inflicted by one or both of her parents or her legal guardian, or finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that requiring the consent of a parent or legal guardian is not in the best interest of the petitioner, the court shall issue an order authorizing the minor to obtain an abortion without the consent of a parent or legal guardian. The best-interest standard does not include financial best interest or financial considerations or the potential financial impact on the minor or her family if she does not terminate the pregnancy. If the court finds evidence of child abuse or sexual abuse of the petitioner by any person, the court shall report the evidence of child abuse or sexual abuse of the petitioner, as provided in s. 39.201. If the court does not make the finding specified in this paragraph, paragraph (c), or paragraph (e), it must dismiss the petition.

(e) If the court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that a statement of veto of abortion is based predominantly on the philosophical views of the parent or legal guardian, and not on the best interest of the minor, the court shall grant a judicial waiver of consent.

(f) A court that conducts proceedings under this section shall:

1. Provide for a written transcript of all testimony and proceedings;
2. Issue a final written order containing factual findings and legal conclusions supporting its decision, including factual findings and legal conclusions relating to the maturity of the minor as provided under paragraph (c); and

3. Order that a confidential record be maintained.

(g) All hearings under this section, including appeals, shall remain confidential and closed to the public, as provided by court rule.

(h) An expedited appeal shall be made available, as the Supreme Court provides by rule, to any minor to whom the circuit court denies a waiver of consent. An order authorizing an abortion without parental consent is not subject to appeal.

(i) Filing fees or court costs may not be required of any minor who petitions a court for a waiver of consent under this subsection at either the trial or the appellate level.

(j) A county is not required to pay the salaries, costs, or expenses of any counsel appointed by the court under this subsection.

(8) RULEMAKING.—The Supreme Court is requested to adopt rules and forms for statements of veto of abortion and for petitions for judicial waiver to ensure that proceedings under subsections (6) and (7) are handled expeditiously and in a manner consistent with this section. The Supreme Court is also requested to adopt rules to ensure that the hearings protect the confidentiality of the minor's identity and the confidentiality of the proceedings.

(9) CRIMINAL PENALTIES AND CIVIL REMEDIES.—

(a) Any person who willfully and intentionally performs an abortion with knowledge that, or with reckless disregard as to whether, the minor upon whom the abortion is to be performed is unemancipated without obtaining the required consent commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. It is a defense to prosecution under this section that the minor falsely represented her age or identity to the physician to be at least 18 years of age by displaying an apparently valid governmental record of identification such that a careful and prudent person under similar circumstances would have relied on the representation. The defense does not apply if the physician is shown to have had independent knowledge of the minor's actual age or identity or failed to use due diligence in determining her age or identity.

(b) Any person not authorized to provide consent under this section who provides consent commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(c) Failure to obtain consent from a person from whom consent is required under this section is prima facie evidence of failure to obtain consent and of interference with family relations in appropriate civil actions. Such prima facie evidence does not apply to any issue other than failure to obtain consent from the parent or legal guardian and interference with family relations in appropriate civil actions. The civil action may be based on a claim that the act was a result of negligence, gross negligence, wantonness, willfulness, intention, or other legal standard of care. Exemplary damages may be awarded in appropriate civil actions relevant to violations of this section.

(d) Failure to comply with the requirements of this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action under each respective practice act and under s. 456.072.

(e) An individual whose pregnancy has continued as a result of her parent's or legal guardian's objection to an abortion may petition a court to recover any expenses provided in subsection (6) which have not been paid directly by the parent or legal guardian who completed the statement of veto of abortion.

(f) Any legal expenses and attorney fees incurred while recovering expenses provided in subsection (6) by an individual whose pregnancy has continued as a result of her parent's or legal guardian's objection to an abortion shall be paid by the parent or legal guardian who completed the statement of veto of abortion.

(g) An individual whose pregnancy has continued as a result of her parent's or legal guardian's objection to an abortion is entitled to financial compensation from the parent or legal guardian who completed a statement of veto of abortion for any physical, emotional, psychological, or financial damage incurred as a result of the continuation of pregnancy.

(h) Any legal expenses and attorney fees incurred while pursuing compensation under paragraph (g) shall be paid by the parent or legal guardian who completed the statement of veto of abortion.

(10) CONSTRUCTION.—

(a) This section may not be construed to create or recognize a right to abortion.

(b) This section may not be construed to limit the common law rights of parents or legal guardians.

(c) By enacting this section, the Legislature does not intend to make lawful an abortion that is currently unlawful.

(d) This section may not be construed to grant a parent or legal guardian who completes a statement of veto of abortion any right to make or influence decisions regarding a child born as a result of the continuation of pregnancy.

(11) SEVERABILITY.—Any provision of this section held to be invalid or unenforceable by its terms, or as applied to any person or circumstance, shall be construed so as to give it the maximum effect permitted by law, unless such holding is one of utter invalidity or unenforceability, in which event such provision shall be deemed severable and may not affect the remainder hereof or the application of such provision to other persons not similarly situated or to other, dissimilar circumstances.

Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 2020.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to parental consent for abortion; creating s. 390.01117, F.S.; providing a short title; defining terms; prohibiting a physician from performing an abortion on a minor unless the physician has been presented with consent from the minor's parent or legal guardian, as appropriate; providing exceptions; authorizing a minor to request a parent or legal guardian document his or her veto of an abortion in a specified form; requiring the parent or legal guardian to complete and sign the form within a specified timeframe; requiring certain entities to make the form available online and in printed format; providing duties and liabilities for a parent or legal guardian who completes the form; authorizing a minor to petition any circuit court in the district in which the minor resides for a waiver of consent required to obtain an abortion; requiring a specified statement to be included in the petition; providing for court-appointed counsel and confidentiality; requiring the court to give precedence to waiver of consent proceedings and requiring a court to rule within a specified timeframe; providing for an extension of time at the request of the minor; authorizing a minor to petition for a hearing upon the expiration of the time allowed and requiring the chief judge of the circuit to ensure that a hearing is held and that an order is entered within specified timeframes; providing for appeals within a specified timeframe; requiring the court to dismiss the petition if it does not make specified findings; requiring the court to consider undue influence on the minor's decision and specified factors; requiring the court to report any findings of evidence of child abuse or sexual abuse of the petitioner; requiring the court to grant a judicial waiver of consent under certain circumstances; requiring a court to provide for a written transcript of waiver of consent proceedings and to include certain findings and conclusions in its order; prohibiting filing fees or costs for a minor who petitions the court for a waiver of consent; specifying that a county is not required to pay the salaries, costs, or expenses of certain court-appointed counsel; requesting the Supreme Court to adopt certain rules and forms relating to waiver of consent proceedings; providing criminal penalties, disciplinary action, and civil remedies; providing construction and severability; providing an effective date.

RECONSIDERATION OF AMENDMENT

On motion by Senator Benacquisto, the Senate reconsidered the vote by which Substitute Amendment 3 (337664) was adopted. Substitute Amendment 3 (337664) failed.

The question recurred on Amendment 2 (909932) which failed.

Senator Berman moved the following amendments which failed:

Amendment 6 (343056) (with directory and title amendments)—Delete lines 44-145 and insert:

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) “Actual notice” means notice that is given directly, in person or by telephone, to a parent or ~~legal~~ guardian of a minor, by a physician, at least 48 hours before the inducement or performance of a termination of pregnancy, and documented in the minor's files.

(b) "Child abuse" means abandonment, abuse, harm, mental injury, neglect, physical injury, or sexual abuse of a child as those terms are defined in ss. 39.01, 827.04, and 984.03.

(c) "Constructive notice" means notice that is given in writing, signed by the physician, and mailed at least 72 hours before the inducement or performance of the termination of pregnancy, to the last known address of the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian of the minor, by first-class mail and by certified mail, return receipt requested, and delivery restricted to the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian. After the 72 hours have passed, delivery is deemed to have occurred.

(d) "Guardian" means, with respect to a minor seeking notice or consent under this section, one of the following individuals:

1. The minor's biological mother or father.
2. The minor's stepmother or stepfather.
3. If the child is a ward, as defined in 744.102(22), the guardian appointed by the state for the minor.
4. The minor's grandmother or grandfather.
5. The minor's aunt or uncle.
6. Any trusted adult or relative with whom the minor has lived for at least 6 months.
7. A mental health professional identified in s. 490.003(7) or (8) or s. 491.003(13).

(e)~~(d)~~ "Medical emergency" means a condition that, on the basis of a physician's good faith clinical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate termination of her pregnancy to avert her death, or for which a delay in the termination of her pregnancy will create serious risk of substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function.

(g)~~(e)~~ "Sexual abuse" has the meaning ascribed in s. 39.01.

(f) "Minor" means a person under the age of 18 years.

(3) TERMINATION OF THE PREGNANCY OF A MINOR.—A physician may not perform or induce the termination of a pregnancy of a minor unless the physician has complied with the notice and consent requirements of this section.

(4)~~(3)~~ NOTIFICATION REQUIRED.—

(a) Actual notice shall be provided by the physician performing or inducing the termination of pregnancy before the performance or inducement of the termination of the pregnancy of a minor. The notice may be given by a referring physician. The physician who performs or induces the termination of pregnancy must receive the written statement of the referring physician certifying that the referring physician has given notice. If actual notice is not possible after a reasonable effort has been made, the physician performing or inducing the termination of pregnancy or the referring physician must give constructive notice. Notice given under this subsection by the physician performing or inducing the termination of pregnancy must include the name and address of the facility providing the termination of pregnancy and the name of the physician providing notice. Notice given under this subsection by a referring physician must include the name and address of the facility where he or she is referring the minor and the name of the physician providing notice. If actual notice is provided by telephone, the physician must actually speak with the parent or guardian, and must record in the minor's medical file the name of the parent or guardian provided notice, the phone number dialed, and the date and time of the call. If constructive notice is given, the physician must document that notice by placing copies of any document related to the constructive notice, including, but not limited to, a copy of the letter and the return receipt, in the minor's medical file. Actual notice given by telephone shall be confirmed in writing, signed by the physician, and mailed to the last known address of the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian of the minor, by first-class mail and by certified mail, return receipt requested, with delivery restricted to the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian.

(b) Notice is not required if:

1. In the physician's good faith clinical judgment, a medical emergency exists and there is insufficient time for the attending physician to comply with the notification requirements. If a medical emergency exists, the physician shall make reasonable attempts, whenever possible, without endangering the minor, to contact the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian, and may proceed, but must document reasons for the medical necessity in the patient's medical records. The physician shall provide notice directly, in person or by telephone, to the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian, including details of the medical emergency and any additional risks to the minor. If the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian has not been notified within 24 hours after the termination of the pregnancy, the physician shall provide notice in writing, including details of the medical emergency and any additional risks to the minor, signed by the physician, to the last known address of the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian of the minor, by first-class mail and by certified mail, return receipt requested, with delivery restricted to the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian;

2. Notice is waived in writing by the person who is entitled to notice and such waiver is notarized, dated not more than 30 days before the termination of pregnancy, and contains a specific waiver of the right of the parent or ~~legal~~ guardian to notice of the minor's termination of pregnancy;

3. Notice is waived by the minor who is or has been married or has had the disability of nonage removed under s. 743.015 or a similar statute of another state;

4. Notice is waived by the patient because the patient has a minor child dependent on her; or

5. Notice is waived under subsection (6) ~~(4)~~.

(c) Violation of this subsection by a physician constitutes grounds for disciplinary action under s. 458.331 or s. 459.015.

(5) PARENTAL CONSENT REQUIRED.—

(a) A physician must obtain written consent from a parent or guardian before performing or inducing the termination of a pregnancy of a minor.

1. The consenting parent or guardian shall provide to the physician a copy of a government-issued proof of identification and written documentation establishing that he or she is the lawful parent or guardian of the minor. The parent or guardian shall certify in a signed, dated, and notarized document, initialed on each page, that he or she consents to the termination of the pregnancy of the minor. The document must include the following statement, which must precede the signature of the parent or guardian: "I, (insert name of parent or guardian), am the (select "parent" or "guardian," as appropriate) of (insert name of minor) and give consent for (insert name of physician) to perform or induce a termination of pregnancy on her. Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have read the foregoing statement and that the facts stated in it are true." A copy of the parent's or guardian's government-issued proof of identification establishing that he or she is the minor's lawful parent or guardian must be attached to the notarized document.

2. The physician shall keep a copy of the proof of identification of the parent or guardian and the certified statement in the medical file of the minor for 5 years after the minor reaches the age of 18 years, but in no event less than 7 years.

3. A physician receiving consent from a parent or guardian under this section shall execute for inclusion in the medical record of the minor an affidavit stating: "I, (insert name of physician), certify that, according to my best information and belief, a reasonable person under similar circumstances would rely on the information presented by both the minor and her parent or guardian as sufficient evidence of identity."

(b) The consent of a parent or guardian is not required if:

1. Notification is not required as provided in subparagraph (4)(b)1., subparagraph (4)(b)3., subparagraph (4)(b)4., or subparagraph (4)(b)5.;

2. Notification is not required due to the existence of a waiver as provided in subparagraph (4)(b)2., if that waiver is signed by the minor's parent or guardian, is notarized, is dated within 30 days before the termination of the pregnancy, contains a specific waiver of the right of the parent or guardian to consent to the minor's termination of pregnancy, and a copy of a government-issued proof of identification and written documentation establishing that the person who signed the waiver is the lawful parent or guardian, as applicable, of the minor is attached to the waiver;

3. Consent is waived under subsection (6); or

4. In the physician's good faith clinical judgment, a medical emergency exists and there is insufficient time for the attending physician to comply with the consent requirement. If a medical emergency exists, the physician must make reasonable attempts, whenever possible, and without endangering the minor, to contact the parent or guardian of the minor, and may proceed, but must document reasons for the medical necessity in the minor patient's medical records. The physician shall inform the parent or guardian, in person or by telephone, within 24 hours after the termination of the pregnancy of the minor, including details of the medical emergency that necessitated the termination of the pregnancy without the parent's or guardian's consent. The physician shall also provide this information in writing to the parent or guardian at his or her last known address, by first-class mail or by certified mail, return receipt requested, with delivery restricted to the parent or guardian.

Amendment 7 (880790)—Delete lines 69-129 and insert:

2. A licensed mental health counselor, a licensed psychologist, or a licensed psychiatrist certifies in the minor's medical record that abortion is in the best interest of the minor's mental health;

3. Notice is waived in writing by the person who is entitled to notice and such waiver is notarized, dated not more than 30 days before the termination of pregnancy, and contains a specific waiver of the right of the parent or legal guardian to notice of the minor's termination of pregnancy;

4. Notice is waived by the minor who is or has been married or has had the disability of nonage removed under s. 743.015 or a similar statute of another state;

5. Notice is waived by the patient because the patient has a minor child dependent on her; or

6. Notice is waived under subsection (6) (4).

(5) PARENTAL CONSENT REQUIRED.—

(a) A physician must obtain written consent from a parent or legal guardian before performing or inducing the termination of a pregnancy of a minor.

1. The consenting parent or legal guardian shall provide to the physician a copy of a government-issued proof of identification and written documentation establishing that he or she is the lawful parent or legal guardian of the minor. The parent or legal guardian shall certify in a signed, dated, and notarized document, initialed on each page, that he or she consents to the termination of the pregnancy of the minor. The document must include the following statement, which must precede the signature of the parent or guardian: "I, (insert name of parent or legal guardian), am the (select "parent" or "legal guardian," as appropriate) of (insert name of minor) and give consent for (insert name of physician) to perform or induce a termination of pregnancy on her. Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have read the foregoing statement and that the facts stated in it are true." A copy of the parent's or legal guardian's government-issued proof of identification establishing that he or she is the minor's lawful parent or legal guardian must be attached to the notarized document.

2. The physician shall keep a copy of the proof of identification of the parent or legal guardian and the certified statement in the medical file of the minor for 5 years after the minor reaches the age of 18 years, but in no event less than 7 years.

3. A physician receiving consent from a parent or guardian under this section shall execute for inclusion in the medical record of the minor an affidavit stating: "I, (insert name of physician), certify that, according to my best information and belief, a reasonable person under similar circumstances would rely on the information presented by both the minor and her parent or legal guardian as sufficient evidence of identity."

(b) The consent of a parent or guardian is not required if:

1. Notification is not required as provided in subparagraph (4)(b)1., subparagraph (4)(b)3., subparagraph (4)(b)4., or subparagraph (4)(b)5.;

2. Notification is not required due to the existence of a waiver as provided in subparagraph (4)(b)2., if that waiver is signed by the minor's parent or legal guardian, is notarized, is dated within 30 days before the termination of the pregnancy, contains a specific waiver of the right of the parent or legal guardian to consent to the minor's termination of pregnancy, and a copy of a government-issued proof of identification and written documentation establishing that the person who signed the waiver is the lawful parent or legal guardian, as applicable, of the minor is attached to the waiver;

3. Consent is waived under subsection (6);

4. A licensed mental health counselor, a licensed psychologist, or a licensed psychiatrist certifies in the minor's medical record that abortion is in the best interest of the minor's mental health; or

5. In the physician's good faith clinical judgment, a

390.027 Preventing Unintended Pregnancies Pilot Program.—

(1) The Department of Health shall establish the Preventing Unintended Pregnancies Pilot Program using long-acting reversible contraception (LARC) in Duval, Hillsborough, and Palm Beach Counties. The purpose of the pilot program is to prevent or reduce unintended pregnancies in the counties participating in the pilot program. The department shall contract for LARC services with eligible family planning providers to implement the pilot program in each of the three counties. Each contract must provide for all of the following:

(a) The provision of LARC services, including the administration of implants, injections, and intrauterine devices to participants.

(b) The training of provider staff regarding the provision of LARC services, counseling strategies, and the management of side effects.

(c) Technical assistance to providers regarding issues such as coding, billing, pharmacy rules, and clinic management necessitated by the increased use of LARC services.

(d) General support to providers to expand their service capacity.

(e) Marketing and community outreach regarding the availability of LARC services and other currently available contraceptive services.

(f) Other services that the department considers necessary to ensure the health and safety of women who receive LARC services.

(2) The department shall apply for grants from federal agencies and other sources to supplement state funds provided for the pilot program.

(3) By January 1, 2022, the department shall submit a report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the effectiveness of the pilot program. The department shall publish the report on its website. At a minimum, the report must include, but need not be limited to:

(a) An assessment of the operation of the pilot program, including any progress made in reducing the number of unintended pregnancies and subsequent births, especially among teenagers.

(b) An assessment of the effectiveness of the pilot program in increasing the availability of LARC services.

(c) The number and location of family planning providers that participated in the pilot program.

(d) The number of clients served by participating family planning providers.

(e) The number of times LARC services were provided by participating family planning providers.

(f) The average cost per client served.

(g) The demographic characteristics of clients served.

(h) The sources and amounts of funding used for the pilot program.

(i) A description of federal grants the department applied for in order to provide LARC services, including the outcomes of the grant applications.

(j) An analysis of the return on investment associated with the provision of LARC services with regard to tax dollars saved on health and social services.

(k) A description and analysis of marketing and outreach activities conducted to promote the availability of LARC services.

(l) Recommendations for improving the pilot program.

Section 4. For the 2020-2021 fiscal year, the sum of $100,000 in nonrecurring funds is appropriated from the General Revenue Fund to the Department of Health for the purpose of implementing the Preventing Unintended Pregnancies Pilot Program. The department shall distribute the funds equally among the three counties participating in the pilot program. These funds may not be used to supplant or reduce any other appropriation of state funds to family planning providers or to the department for family planning services.

(a) The Office of the State Courts Administrator shall develop and publish materials informing the public of the procedures for judicial waiver under this subsection. The materials must be published in hard copy format and posted on the Office of the State Courts Administrator's website on the webpage provided in paragraph (c) in an easily downloadable format. The materials must include information that is stated in plain, easily understandable language corresponding to a grade 5 reading level and must include all of the following information:

1. An explanation that a minor who is unable to obtain parental consent or a waiver of parental notification for an abortion may petition a circuit court to obtain a judicial waiver.

2. A statement that any information that could be used to identify a minor who petitions the court for a judicial waiver is confidential and exempt from public disclosure, that judges and court staff must maintain that confidentiality, and that any personal identifying information contained in a court record must be kept confidential.

3. A step-by-step guide detailing the procedures for obtaining a judicial waiver, from the initiation of a petition for judicial waiver to a court's final ruling, and, if applicable, by county, an expected timeline for proceedings; where the minor can locate and obtain materials, physically or online; where and how a petition and any necessary paperwork may be filed; and a list of important deadlines.

4. A list of each county's clerk of the court, including addresses, office hours, and the direct contact information for a staff member who is familiar with the judicial waiver procedures in a particular circuit's jurisdiction.

5. Information about how to access the names and contact information for attorneys who provide services on a pro bono basis to minors seeking a judicial waiver.

6. Information about the evidentiary standard that the court is required to use when deciding whether to grant or deny a judicial waiver, including a list of evidence the minor must provide to the court during the hearing.

(b) The Office of the State Courts Administrator must provide an adequate amount of published materials in hard copy format to each clerk of the court and to each health care provider that offers abortion services which include all of the information required in subparagraph 1. regarding judicial waiver procedures.

(c) The Office of the State Courts Administrator must publish a clearly visible hyperlink on its website which directs the public to a stand-alone webpage. The webpage may not share a uniform resource locator (URL) with any other information and must contain all of the information required in subparagraph 1. The hyperlink to the URL must clearly identify that it provides information regarding the judicial waiver procedures for a minor who is seeking to obtain an abortion without parental consent or notification.

(d) At least annually, the Office of the State Courts Administrator must review and, if necessary, update the materials and information required under this subsection for accuracy, including all contact information for the clerks of the court and the courthouses where a minor may file a petition for a judicial waiver.

And the title is amended as follows:

REPORT OF JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE

The Honorable Bill Galvano
President of the Senate
409 The Capitol
Tallahassee, FL 32399-1100

January 24, 2020

The Honorable Rob Bradley
Chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee
414 Senate Building
Tallahassee, FL 32399-1100

Dear Mr. President and Chair Bradley:

The Joint Select Committee on Collective Bargaining convened on January 23, 2020, in the Pat Thomas Committee Room, 412 Knott Building, at 2:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting was to provide all parties involved in collective bargaining disputes with the State of Florida the opportunity to present their positions to the Florida Legislature, consistent with the provisions of section 447.403, Florida Statutes, and the open meeting provisions of Article III, section 4, of the State Constitution.

The parties presented their positions and indicated they are continuing to negotiate the issues at impasse. We recommend that negotiations continue and that the appropriate legislative committees be kept abreast of the issues agreed upon by the parties as well as the issues that remain at impasse or require legislative action to resolve.

Representatives of each bargaining unit presented compelling testimony in support of wage increases for the state employees. On behalf of the Senators serving on this Committee, I urge the Senate to prioritize funding to address these critical compensation needs. The citizens of the State of Florida deserve to continue to receive quality services from state government, and the state employees who provide those services deserve to have the financial resources to provide for their families.

Copies of presentations and other pertinent materials have been retained by staff and, for purposes of future public inquiry, are available through the Senate Governmental Oversight and Accountability Committee and the House Oversight, Transparency and Public Management Subcommittee.

Respectfully submitted,
Senator Ed Hooper
Co-Chair

RE: Executive Order of Suspension, Executive Order 19-83

Dear Mr. Hudson:

The Florida Senate has received Executive Order 19-83 in which the Governor has suspended you from office as Clerk of Court and Comptroller for Holmes County, Florida. Pursuant to Article IV, s7(b) of the Florida Constitution, the Florida Senate may remove you from office or reinstate you.

You have a right to a hearing conducted in accordance with Part V, Chapter 112, Florida Statutes and Senate Rule 12. However, Senate Rule 12.9(2) requires all inquiry, investigation, or hearings be held in abeyance and not considered by the Senate until the pending charges are dismissed or until final determination of the criminal charges is rendered, including the exhaustion of all appellate remedies. Given the pending criminal charges against you, the Senate's consideration of your suspension is held in abeyance pursuant to Senate Rules 12.9(2).

At the conclusion of the pending criminal matter, should you wish to have a hearing, it is your responsibility to submit your written request to the Office of the Senate Secretary. Senate Special Counsel Christie Letarte has been appointed as the special master in this matter should a hearing be necessary. Until the criminal matter is resolved, please direct any questions to the Secretary of the Senate at the contact information below. It is your responsibility to make sure the Senate has your correct contact information.

If you choose to submit your written resignation to the Governor's Office, please provide a copy of the resignation to the Office of the Senate Secretary. The Secretary will record your decision to resign in the official records of the Senate and this matter will be closed.

To learn more about the Senate's process, or to access applicable statutes and rules, please visit the Senate website, www.flsenate.gov, and navigate to the Executive Suspensions webpage, <http://www.flsenate.gov/Session/ExecutiveSuspensions>.

If you have any questions concerning this notice, please contact the undersigned.

Debbie Brown
Secretary

Governor Ron DeSantis

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Dr. Timothy Mann, Providence Church, Ormond Beach:

Almighty God, today we acknowledge that you are the great creator of all things. We recognize that you uphold, direct, dispose, and govern all creatures, actions, and things, from the greatest even to the least, by your most wise and holy providence, to the praise of the glory of your wisdom, power, justice, goodness, and mercy.

You are God from whom nothing is hidden and whose power is surpassingly great. You wisely oversee and sovereignly control all creation. In so doing, you attend not only to apparently momentous events and people, but also to those that seem both mundane and trivial. While you hold the lives of both kings and nations in your hand, you also concern yourself with the welfare of the lowly and meek.

We give you unending thanks for the blessings you have bestowed upon the citizens of this great state and this great country. We are filled with gratitude for the freedoms you have granted us and have allowed us to secure for many generations. Help us to never presume upon your favor and remain vigilant to maintain the liberty you have graciously provided.

Because of your greatness and power, we implore your blessing and guidance upon this representative, deliberative body, elected by the citizens of this state. May you fortify them with divine wisdom to seek the highest moral virtue, to work for the benefit of the common good, and to strive for justice and righteousness in the high calling of legislating.

We ask you to protect those who serve and protect us. May your hand of safety be upon our men and women serving in the armed forces of this nation; may it be upon all of our law enforcement, firefighters, and first responders. May we continue to strive together to remain one nation under God for generations to come. We ask you now to superintend this session of the Florida Senate and to hear our prayers in the name of our Lord and Savior. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Kevin Diaz of Tampa; Rylee Elkins of Bristol; Kyan Forbes of Tallahassee; Lexie Giles of Gulf Breeze, granddaughter of Senator Broxson; and Carson Pendry of Oviedo, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Dr. Julia Jenkins of Clearwater, sponsored by Senator Hooper, as the doctor of the day. Dr. Jenkins specializes in family medicine.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Broxson—

By Senator Broxson—

SR 1900—A resolution congratulating Officer Mary Green on her recognition as the 2019 Pensacola Police Department Officer of the Year.

WHEREAS, in 2019, Pensacola Police Department Officer Mary Green was assigned as one of two school resource officers (SROs) at Pensacola High School, and

WHEREAS, during the school year, Officer Mary Green went above and beyond the regular duties of an SRO, serving as a mentor to students and constantly pursuing opportunities for student engagement, and

WHEREAS, Officer Mary Green was the inspiration for the Manna Food Pantries SRO Food Program, which was launched in 2019 after Officer Green realized that, for some students, a school lunch is their only meal of the day, and

WHEREAS, in cooperation with Manna Food Pantries, SROs countywide now keep a box of nonperishable food in their offices to distribute at their discretion to students, and the SRO Food Program will serve as a best practice model for SROs statewide, and

WHEREAS, over the summer, Officer Mary Green accompanied participants in the General Daniel “Chappie” James Flight Academy to Tuskegee, Alabama, where her extraordinary commitment to students was recognized by the academy board chair, and

WHEREAS, Officer Mary Green has been named the 2019 Officer of the Year by the Pensacola Police Department, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That Officer Mary Green is congratulated on her recognition as the 2019 Pensacola Police Department Officer of the Year.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution, with the Seal of the Senate affixed, be presented to Officer Mary Green as a tangible token of the sentiments of the Florida Senate.

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Abigail Moon, St. John's Episcopal Church, Tallahassee:

Lord, keep this nation under your care. Bless the leaders of our land, that we may be a people at peace among ourselves and a blessing to other nations of the earth.

Give grace to your servants, O Lord. Especially to Senators and Representatives, and to those who make our laws in this state, give courage, wisdom, and foresight to provide for the needs of all our people, and to fulfill our obligations in the community of nations.

And finally, teach our people to rely on your strength and to accept their responsibilities to their fellow citizens, that they may be trustworthy leaders and make wise decisions for the well-being of our society; that we may serve you faithfully in our generation and honor your holy name. For yours is the kingdom, O Lord, and you are exalted as head above all. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Antonio Grant of Jacksonville; Ellis Landauer of Aventura; Amya Miller of Winter Haven; Kendall Vickers of Bristol; and Reagan Wells of DeFuniak Springs, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Dr. Matthew Connor of Tallahassee as the doctor of the day. Dr. Connor specializes in ear, nose, and throat.

SPECIAL ORDER CALENDAR

On motion by Senator Bean—

CS for CS for SB 124—A bill to be entitled An act relating to custody of minor children by extended family; amending s. 751.01, F.S.; revising the purposes of ch. 751, F.S.; amending s. 751.011, F.S.; revising the definition of the term “extended family member”; amending s. 751.02, F.S.; revising the requirements for individuals seeking concurrent custody; amending s. 751.03, F.S.; allowing any other provisions related to the best interest of the child to be considered in a petition for temporary or concurrent custody; amending s. 751.05, F.S.; authorizing courts to include provisions requested in petitions for temporary or concurrent custody which relate to the best interest of the child; authorizing courts to require parties to comply with provisions approved in the order which relate to the best interest of the child; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

Pursuant to Rule 7.1, there being no objection, consideration of the following late-filed amendment was allowed:

Senator Bean moved the following amendment which was adopted:

Amendment 1 (652166) (with title amendment)—Delete lines 68-102 and insert:
interest of the child, including, but not limited to, a reasonable plan for transitioning custody.

Section 5. Subsections (4), (6), and (7) of section 751.05, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

751.05 Order granting temporary or concurrent custody.—

(4) The order granting:

(a) Concurrent custody of the minor child may not eliminate or diminish the custodial rights of the child’s parent or parents. The order must expressly state that the grant of custody does not affect the ability of the child’s parent or parents to obtain physical custody of the child at any time, except that the court may approve provisions requested in the petition which are related to the best interest of the child, including a reasonable transition plan that provides for a return of custody back to the child’s parent or parents.

(b) Temporary custody of the minor child to the petitioner may include provisions requested in the petition which are related to the best interest of the child, including a reasonable transition plan that provides for a return of custody back to the parent or parents, and may also grant visitation rights to the child’s parent or parents, if it is in the best interest of the child.

(6) At any time, either or both of the child’s parents may petition the court to modify or terminate the order granting temporary custody.

(a) The court may modify an order granting temporary custody if the parties consent or if modification is in the best interest of the child.

(b) The court shall terminate the order upon a finding that the parent is a fit parent, or by consent of the parties, except that the court may require the parties to comply with provisions approved in the order which are related to a reasonable plan for transitioning custody before terminating the order.

(c) If the order granting temporary custody was entered after a finding that the child’s parent or parents are unfit and the child has been in the temporary custody of an extended family member for a period of time the court determines to be significant, the court may, on its own motion, establish reasonable conditions, which are in the best interests of the child, for transitioning the child back to the custody of the child’s parent or parents. In determining such reasonable conditions, the court shall consider all of the following:

1. The length of time the child lived or resided with the extended family member.

2. The child’s developmental stage.

3. The length of time reasonably needed to complete the transition
~~The court may modify an order granting temporary custody if the parties consent or if modification is in the best interest of the child.~~

(7) At any time, the petitioner or either or both of the child’s parents may move the court to terminate the order granting concurrent custody.

(a) The court shall terminate the order upon a finding that either or both of the child’s parents object to the order, except that the court may require the parties to comply with provisions approved in the order which are related to a reasonable plan for transitioning custody before terminating the order.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete lines 15-17 and insert: the court to order on its own motion the transitioning of a child back to the custody of his or her parents in such proceedings under certain circumstances; requiring the court to consider specified factors when entering such order; authorizing courts to require parties to comply with provisions approved in the order which relate to a reasonable plan for transitioning custody before terminating the order; providing an effective date.

Pursuant to Rule 4.19, CS for CS for SB 124, as amended, was ordered engrossed and then placed on the calendar of Bills on Third Reading.

SB 7006—A bill to be entitled An act relating to penalties for violations of the constitutional prohibition against abuse of public position; reenacting s. 112.317, F.S., relating to penalties; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

Pending further consideration of SB 7006, pursuant to Rule 3.11(3), there being no objection, HB 7009 was withdrawn from the Committees on Ethics and Elections; and Rules.

On motion by Senator Baxley, by two-thirds vote—

HB 7009—A bill to be entitled An act relating to penalties for violations of the constitutional prohibition against abuse of public position; reenacting s. 112.317, F.S., relating to penalties; providing an effective date.

—a companion measure, was substituted for SB 7006 and, by two-thirds vote, read the second time by title.

Pursuant to Rule 4.19, HB 7009 was placed on the calendar of Bills on Third Reading.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Imam Muhammad Musri, Islamic Society of Central Florida, Orlando:

Gracious God, thank you for all your blessings upon our state. Thank you for the dedicated men and women of the Florida Senate who gather here today to take care of the business of the people. Lord, bless them, all of their staff, and everyone in this meeting. Keep them in your loving protection.

Beloved God, help the honorable members of the Senate fulfill their responsibilities and guide their decisions as they work on behalf of the people of our great state. Lord, grant them the courage to do what is right and pleasing to you, the patience to overcome whatever challenges they may face, and the wisdom to choose what is best and delivers the greatest benefit to all the inhabitants of our beautiful state.

Merciful God, unify the hearts of our Senators and grant them and their families health, happiness, and success. Lord, as they dedicate their time to attend to the needs of the people, please attend to their needs and the needs of their families.

We ask this in your majestic name. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Ananda Chatterjee of Tallahassee; Madison McNealy of Tallahassee; Mackenzie Scordato of Inverness; and Bethany Wolek of DeLand, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

Senator Montford sponsored and recognized Dr. John P. Fogarty of Tallahassee as the doctor of the day. Dr. Fogarty specialized in family and sports medicine and is the Dean of the Florida State University College of Medicine.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Broxson—

By Senator Broxson—

SR 1904—A resolution remembering the outstanding service of the late General Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., as a member of the Tuskegee Airmen and throughout all of his distinguished military career, on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of his birth.

WHEREAS, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., was born on February 11, 1920, in Pensacola, not far from the current site of Naval Air Station Pensacola, and

WHEREAS, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., grew up under the watchful eyes of his father, Daniel James, Sr., an employee of the Pensacola city gas company, and his mother, Lillie Anna James, a high school teacher who established a private school for her own and other African-American children in Pensacola, and

WHEREAS, in 1937, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., enrolled at the Tuskegee Institute in Alabama and quickly made a name for himself as an athlete and as a campus leader, and

WHEREAS, with the beginning of World War II, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., seized the opportunity afforded by Tuskegee University to pursue his dream of flying as a member of the Tuskegee Airmen, and

WHEREAS, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., graduated from Tuskegee University in 1942 with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and, in July 1943, earned his commission as a second lieutenant, becoming one of the first African-American pilots in the United States Army Air Corps, and

WHEREAS, in 1949, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., received the Distinguished Flying Cross for valor, and he went on to fly 101 combat missions over Korea, and

WHEREAS, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., flew 78 combat missions into North Vietnam and later, after he assumed the command at Wheelus Air Base in Libya, his handling of an incident involving Muammar Gaddafi led then-President Richard Nixon to nominate him in 1970 for brigadier general, and

WHEREAS, Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., was the first African American to hold the rank of four-star general, and

WHEREAS, throughout his later life General Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., kept alive the memory of the dignity and self-sacrifice with which the Tuskegee Airmen served their country, and

WHEREAS, General Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., died of a heart attack on February 25, 1978, but he will forever be remembered as a fighter pilot with a magnificent record and as an American patriot, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the Florida Senate remembers the outstanding service of the late General Daniel “Chappie” James, Jr., as a member of the Tuskegee Airmen and throughout all of his distinguished military career, on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of his birth.

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

At the request of Senator Gibson—

By Senator Gibson—

SR 1908—A resolution expressing appreciation for the remarkable contributions made to the people of this state by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., and recognizing February 9-11, 2020, as the 26th annual “Delta Days at the Capitol.”

WHEREAS, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., is a private, not-for-profit organization founded on January 13, 1913, by 22 illustrious collegiate African-American women at Howard University in Washington, D.C., and

WHEREAS, only 6 weeks after its founding, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., joined in the women’s suffrage movement, a historic endeavor that transformed the role of women in the democratic process, and

WHEREAS, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., is a sisterhood of college-educated women committed to implementing the sorority’s mission through its Five-Point Programmatic Thrust: economic development, educational development, physical and mental health, political awareness and involvement, and international awareness and involvement, and

WHEREAS, in 2013, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., celebrated 100 years of commendable service and support to local communities, leading dialogue on public policy issues, supporting quality education, producing new projects to stimulate current and future economic growth, and improving the holistic well-being of minority populations internationally, and

WHEREAS, with more than 250,000 college-educated women initiated and more than 900 chapters worldwide, 52 of which are located in Florida and the Bahamas, members of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., are clearly focused and visible as corporate and civic leaders, productive public officials, acclaimed academicians, and activists in their own right, and

WHEREAS, for the past 25 years, the Florida chapters of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., have conducted “Delta Days at the Capitol,” during which members have a unique opportunity to show their support for policies and legislation that will impact every area of the Five-Point Programmatic Thrust; promote the role of leadership, advocacy, and empowerment in effecting social change and public policy; advocate for social justice, as well as broaden members’ knowledge of the state’s legislative process; and influence the enactment of legislation of particular interest to African Americans and women, and

WHEREAS, under the leadership of the national president of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Beverly E. Smith; Southern Regional Director Sandra K. Horton; Southern Regional Representative Jasmine Minor; and the 26th National President, Dr. Paulette C. Walker, a resident of Tampa, members of the 52 chapters of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., now serving Florida and the Bahamas will converge

February 9-11, 2020, in Tallahassee to participate in the 26th annual “Delta Days at the Capitol,” and

WHEREAS, Senator Audrey Gibson is an esteemed member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the remarkable contributions made to the people of this state by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., are appreciated and that February 9-11, 2020, is recognized as the 26th annual “Delta Days at the Capitol.”

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

On motion by Senator Montford—

By Senator Montford—

SR 1902—A resolution recognizing February 12, 2020, as FSU Day in Florida.

WHEREAS, the Tallahassee campus of Florida State University, founded in 1851, is the oldest continuous site of higher education in Florida, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University is proud to be recognized as a Preeminent University by the State of Florida, and as a leader in education, research, student retention, and graduation, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University is a nationally recognized institution with many of its colleges and programs ranked within the top 10 in the nation, and

WHEREAS, in 2019, Florida State University jumped to No. 18 among national public universities in the U.S. News and World Report rankings, after moving up 25 places since 2016, and

WHEREAS, in 2019, Florida State University was ranked as the No. 3 best value among public colleges for out-of-state students and the No. 9 best value among public colleges for in-state students by Kiplinger’s Personal Finance “Best College Value,” and

WHEREAS, Florida State University has a 4-year graduation rate of 71.5 percent, making it the highest in the state and placing it in the top 10 among public research institutions, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University offers graduate, undergraduate, doctoral, and professional degrees in 306 programs within 19 independent colleges and schools which are taught by 2,086 faculty members, including National Academy of Sciences members and 6 Nobel Laureates, and has created a student-to-faculty ratio of 21-to-1, meaning that 56.6 percent of Florida State University’s offered classes have a class size of fewer than 20 students, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University is more popular than ever among prospective first-time college students, as a record number of applications were received for admission to the 2019 summer and fall semesters, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University received a total of nearly 60,555 applications, a 20 percent increase over the previous year’s total, resulting in one of the largest freshman classes in the school’s history, about 6,900 students, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University had the most academically accomplished freshman class in school history for the 2018-2019 academic year, with a median grade point average of 4.2, a median SAT score of 1310, and a median ACT composite score of 29, and

WHEREAS, Florida State University is a top research institution for producing Fulbright Scholars, with 10 students receiving awards for the 2019-2020 academic year, and

WHEREAS, in 2019, for the fourth year in a row, INSIGHT into Diversity magazine recognized Florida State University as a “Diversity Champion,” an honor awarded to schools that demonstrate a promise to uphold inclusion and diversity, and

WHEREAS, the college experience continues to enrich the lives of Florida State University students due to the long-standing tradition of promoting racial, ethnic, and cultural diversity on campus with the aggressive recruitment of diverse groups of students, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That February 12, 2020, is recognized as FSU Day in Florida.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution, with the Seal of the Senate affixed, be presented to Florida State University President John Thrasher as a tangible token of the sentiments of the Florida Senate.
